DO YOU WANT TO BE A POLICE COMMISSIONER?

Here Is Your Chance, Maroney Quits and Gov. Folk Is Looking for a Man.

JOB PAYS $1000 YEARLY

President Andrew C. Maroney Says That He "Is Down and Out."

HE ASKS TO BE RELIEVED

Says That His Financial Affairs Demand That He Practice Law.

Who wants to be Police Commissioner?

The job is open and Gov. Folk is waiting for somebody to speak up. The place pays $1000 a year and for this sum a commissioner has nothing to do but worry and dodge things when they are thrown at him.

Commissioner Maroney, vice-president of the board, announces with characteristic terseness that he is "down and out."

He notified Gov. Folk Tuesday that he wanted to be relieved from duty as a commissioner. He stated that his private financial affairs demanded that he be free to attend to his law practice.

In effect his message to the Governor said:

"Holding this place involves a sacrifice which I am no longer able to make. I have reached the age where I must look after the interests of my family. I have given all of my time to police business since I have been in the board and I must get back to my law office or lose all of my clients. I want you to let me out. If you don't, I am going to get out anyhow, right away. There is no use arguing with me. I have made up my mind."

Governor Looking for a Man.

That is why Gov. Folk came to St. Louis Thursday morning. Through the forenoon he was so busy looking for somebody to take Maroney's job that he didn't have time to be "interviewed" about anything.

At noon he announced that he would return to Jefferson City Thursday evening whether he finds a new commissioner or not.

May Get His Old Place.

It is understood Gov. Folk has offered to reinstate Mr. Maroney as Chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners, which pays $3000 a year. When Mr. Maroney, resigned from his position to become Vice-President of the Police Board it was generally understood that the change was merely temporary.

Gov. Folk appointed James W. Allison, a well-known business man, to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mr. Maroney from the Election Board.

Gov. Folk has a plan whereby the place will be more desirable to that class of citizens most fit for it.

In the next Legislature he will have a bill introduced providing for the election of three police commissioners in each of the first-class cities, St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph. The salary will be $5000 a year.

The Governor believes that, while it is not impossible to get good men as commissioners at the present time, there would be less difficulty if a good salary attached to the office.

Men of Mr. Maroney's caliber could then afford to devote all of their time to duties of the office.

In contrast to the difficulty of finding a police commissioner is the situation with regard to the office of beer inspector, which pays $3000 a year. All of the politicians are gunning for that.

The Governor was busy dodging more than 400 applicants for the place Thursday. The term of the present inspector, G. Y. Crenshaw, a Democrat, will expire June 5.

ENDS HER LIFE AT AGE OF 108

Woman Cuts Throat With Knife Her Husband Gave Her Forty Years Ago.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 10.—After living to the great age of more than one hundred and eight years, Mrs. Mary McKittrick died by her own hands, her suicide occurring at the home of her son, Luke McKittrick, near Uniontown.

During the last few days Mrs. McKittrick had frequently expressed the wish that God would call her soon, saying that, in her helpless condition, she was a burden to others and herself. For several weeks her mind had not been clear, except at intervals.

She told members of the family that she would call them when she wanted to get up. About 10 o'clock this morning her daughter-in-law went to the room to see if the old woman wanted breakfast, and found her body on the floor, with an ugly wound in the neck, while near her right hand lay a bloody pocket knife, with which she had made the gash.

The knife was one she had received as a present from her husband 40 years ago and which she prized very highly.

Negro Fined for Shooting.

Joseph Baker, a negro living at 2226 Papin street, was fined $100 in the City Hall Police Court Thursday morning for discharging fire arms and $500 for disturbing the peace of Clarence Lee, also a negro, on May 6. Lewis Watson, a negro living at the same address with Baker, was fined $100 for disturbing Lee's peace. Two witnesses said Baker shot at Lee and Lee testified that one of the shots took effect in his hand. Watson sided with Baker in the fight.

STANDARD OIL SHORT MEASURE GAINS REVEALED

Witness at Commerce Commission Hearing Tells Tank Wagon Secrets.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The inquiry by the Government, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, into the relations between the Standard Oil Co. and the railroads of the country began here today.

Two of the points on which it is said the investigation will try to throw light are the laying of the pipe lines of the Standard Oil Co. along the railroads' right-of-way and the purchase of Galena oil by the railroads for headlight and signal purposes.

The first witness was E. M. Wilhoit of Topeka, Kan., now an independent oil operator, but 10 years ago an agent of the Standard Oil Co.

He testified that while in the employ of the Standard Oil Co. he had, in following out the instructions of his superior officers, bribed clerks in the offices of railroads and employes of independent oil concerns in order to obtain information of the details of the business done by the rivals of the Standard Oil Co.

Agents Held Responsible.

He declared that agents of the Standard Oil Co. are held personally responsible for all oil sold in their territory by independent companies, and that drivers of tank wagons are expected to keep up their stock by selling 205 to 208 gallons from a wagon load of 200 gallons.

He said that the actual tests of the products of the Standard Oil Co., to determine the quality, are carefully guarded, and that when it was found necessary to cut the price to meet the figure of a competitor, a cheaper quality of oil was substituted and guaranteed to be of a higher grade than it really was.

Had Written Instructions.

Several letters were read by the witness in which he was instructed to watch shipments in his territory and report the names of every customer of the independent concerns and the amount and quality of oil received by him.

He said that he had bribed clerks in the offices of the Rock Island, Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific to give him lists of shipments to the customers of independent companies. He told aso of bribing teamsters in order to obtain information.

"Cylinder oil is the most profitable sold," said the witness, "and the Standard Oil Co. dislikes to have any independent sell any of this grade. Our instructions were that if we found a competitor selling this oil in our territory to cut the price so as to get the orders and then substitute an inferior grade of oil and guarantee it to be of superior quality."

"Did you ever give short measure to your customers?" asked Commissioner Prouty.

"Well, we did not call it that," replied the witness. "I was frequently advised by agents of the company that my stock was not showing up as it should and was told that it was a simple matter to sell 205 to 208 gallons from a 200-gallon load of oil. The company explained this by saying that the oil expanded in the wagon.

Attorney Objected.

Attorney Miller for the Standard Oil Co. broke in at this point to inquire the scope of the investigation. He said it was his understanding that the power of the commission was limited to an investigation of the relations of the company with common carriers and that so far not the slightest evidence on the point had been given. He was opposed, he said, to the raking over of muck and scandal by going back 10 years in history.

"For your information I will assure you that the Standard Oil Co. is doing the very same things today," said Wilhoit.

"I object to that statement," shouted Attorney Miller.

PLOT TO OUST GOV. PATTISON OF OHIO, FAILS

Liquor League Conspirators Back Down When Penitentiary Manager Seated.

BOARD NOW DEMOCRATIC

Plan Was to Refuse to Recognize Commission of New Appointee.

CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Pattison Was to Be Declared Incapaciated and Temperance Laws Attacked.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBUS, O., May 10.—The carefully hatched conspiracy of the Ohio Liquor League to oust Gov. Pattison from office and turn it over to Andrew Harris, the Republican Lieutenant-Governor, came to naught today, when the Board of Penitentiary Managers seated the Democrat recently appointed by Pattison.

The conspirators weakened after the publication of their plans this morning, and gracefully backed down when Edward W. Crayton, the newly appointed manager, appeared with his commission. The board now becomes Democratic and Warden Gould will be ousted in favor of a Democrat. Gould has had the backing of the liquor interests and is said to be owner of two saloons at Wellston. The plan to oust Pattison and invalidate the liquor laws passed by the last Legislature was simplicity itself.

The penitentiary board was to refuse to recognize the commission of Crayton on the grounds that Gov. Pattison did not personally affix his signature. The case was then to be taken to the Supreme Court, which is Republican in its complexion, Pattison declared incapacitated by his long illness, and Harris empowered to take charge until the Governor was able to resume office.

Attack Temperance Laws.

After a victory in this, the liquor league was to come out in the open and attack the constitutionality of all temperance legislation enacted by the last Legislature on the charge that Pattison was disqualified by reason of his condition to properly execute the duties of his office. The claim was to be advanced that the Governor was deranged during the major portion of the session.

Lieutenant-Governor Harris, it is stated, refused to enter into the conspiracy, and it was proposed to mandamus him should he refuse to take charge of the governorship.

The suits in all the moves had been prepared by three noted lawyers of Columbus. It is said the suits will never be filed.

WOMAN BOARDER SUES LANDLADY

Miss Louise M. Boyer Asks $500 Because Her Belongings Were Removed.

Humiliation and mental anguish as a result of being expelled from her boarding house forms the basis of a suit by Miss Louise M. Boyer against Mrs. N. T. Wild of 8 Parkland place, in fashionable Cabanne. The amount sued for is $500, and the papers were filed Thursday.

Miss Boyer, in her petition, states that on March 3 she entered an agreement with Mrs. Wild whereby the latter was to furnish her a room and board for $25 each month. Miss Boyer paid for one month and says that April 3 she paid again, entitling her to the use of the room until May 3. She says that Mrs. Wild later made a demand for her to vacate, which was contrary to their agreement, and she declined.

The humiliation and mental anguish comes in, Miss Boyd alleges, when she went home later and found her effects had been removed from the house and admission was refused her.

She was forced to search for a new home and says she was put to considerable expense in moving her belongings and on this count $50 is sued for. Her wounded feelings in being barred from the house, Miss Boyers values at $450, for which judgment is demanded from Justice Robert J. Carroll. The case will be heard May 17.

Mrs. Wild Thursday declined to discuss the matter.

Clearing Way for New Skyscraper on Fourth Street.

Within a few days the work of tearing down the block on Fourth street, between Pine and Chestnut streets, opposite the Planters Hotel, to make room for a 16-story skyscraper, will begin. Tenants are moving out and the last of them will vacate not later than June 5.

Lawrence B. Pierce, one of the promoters of the new building, says that negotiations are under way to provide quarters in the structure for the Law Library. If this plan is carried out a pneumatic tube system between the skyscraper and the Courthouse will be installed.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION

Two Workmen Killed in Iowa Tile Factory.

APOPLEXY THE CAUSE

HAD LETTER ABOUT JOB

Woman Wrote It Telling About Girl's Long Hunt for Work.

A man believed to be George W. Neer of Decatur, Ill., dropped dead in the toilet room of Cella Commission Co.'s brokerage offices at Fourth and Pine streets about 11:30 a. m. Thursday. It is said that apoplexy caused his death.

Members of the Cella company say that the man was a stranger in their establishment and had no business dealings with them. So far as they know, they say, he had never visited their place before.

The man was taken to the City Dispensary by oPliceman Tom McCormack. He had been found on the floor in the toilet room, his body doubled up as if he had suffered great pain.

In his pocket was found a letter with a St. Louis postmark, which read as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Neer: Believe if it will be as convenient for you, will ask you to call Thursday evening about 8, instead of Tuesday. Poor Lizzie had a bad start out to look for a job. I rode downtown this morning. We heard that they had nice rooms at the Plaza, which is in the 3200 block on Locust street. I want to go and look at them. It is time to eat, so I will say good-by. "LIZZIE."

Also in the man's pockets were found a handsome gold watch, bearing the initials, "G. W. N.," $17.50 in cash, and a draft for $50 drawn by the Taylorville Bank, H. M. Van Deever & Co., on the State Bank of St. Louis; a card from Elks Lodge No. 401, of Decatur, Ill., showing that he had paid his lodge dues up to Oct. 1, 1906, and tax receipts for $41.68 on property in Nebraska. A postal card was also found, written from San Jose, Cal., and notifying Neer that the writer was safe. The envelope of a registered letter in the man's pockets bore the address, 2016 Pine street.

The dead man was apparently about 60 years old, with grayish sandy hair and mustache, was tall and heavy of figure, and was well dressed in a black coat, black and white striped trousers, a plaited-bosom white shirt, and wore a black derby hat.

Lived on His Money.

Miss Anna Thrashtr, a stenographer in the employ of a commercial agency, was greatly shocked when she heard of Neer's death. She saw him Wednesday night and he was in the best of health. Miss Thrasher said to a Post-Dispatch reporttr Thursday:

"Mr. Neer is an old friend of my family. He is a man of considerable means and comes from Taylorville, Ill. The Lizzie I referred to in the letter to him, is my roommate, Lizzie Geigan. Wt were to have met for a social engagement Tuesday and I naturally notified him of the altered plans when Lizzie was too sick to keep the engagement.

"I don't think that he is married, and I do not know what his business is. In fact, I don't think that he had any business; just living on his money."

Neer lived in Taylorville, Ill., until about two years ago. He was a retired farmer and was regarded as comfortably rich. He had a wife, a daughter and two sons. Three or four years ago husband and wife separated and she went to California. Acquaintances in Taylorville do not know if they have been divorced.

The daughter, Beatrice, is a stenographer in Chicago. The sons, George and Wilbur, are believed by Taylorville residents to be in Chicago, too. Neer has not been seen in Taylorville in several months.

PROBING VICTORY OF BUCKETSHOPS

Grand Jury Summons Entire Legislature Following Lawson's Charges.

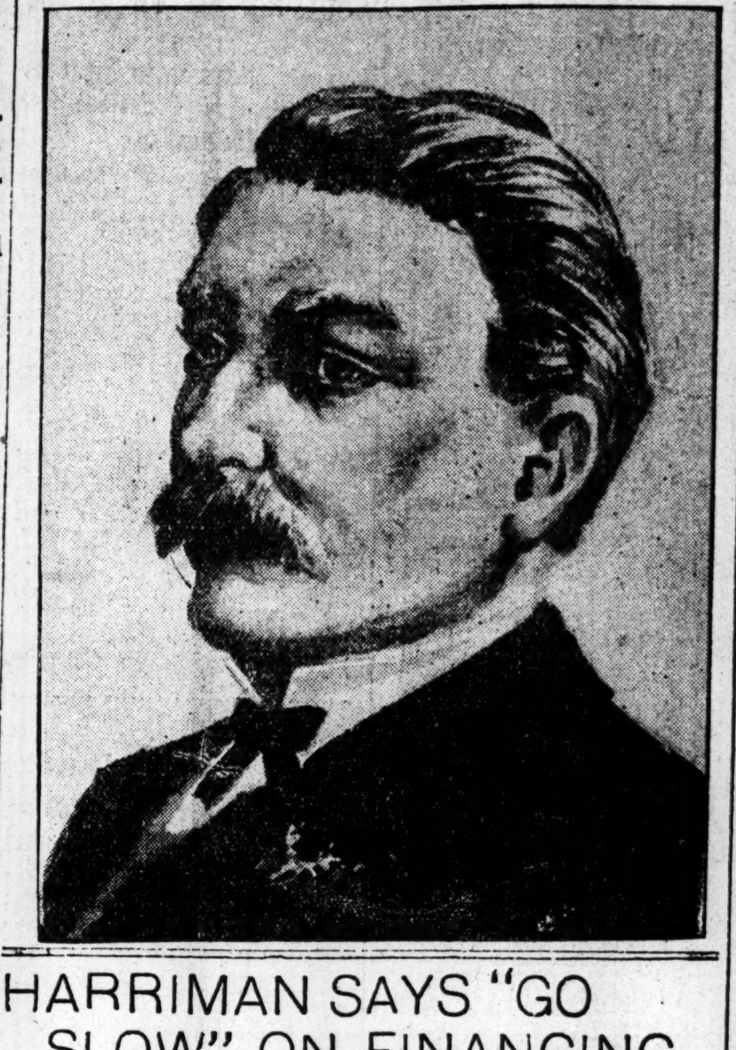
BOSTON, May 10.—The rumor that $70,000 was used in improper ways to induce the Massachusetts State Legislature to defeat the Logan bill suppressing bucket shops is being investigated by the grand jury at the instance of District Attorney Moran. The 240 Representatives and the 40 senators have all been supenaed to testify before the grand jury.

Thomas W. Lawson's offer to District Attorney Moran of a $25,000 reward for the conviction of one or any of the alleged bribers is admitted to have encouraged Moran.

Lawson has been active in war on local bucket shops, and in open letters and personal talks has charged bribery in connection with the defeat of the Logan bill. He is keeping in close touch with Moran.

The Committee on Rules of the House of Representatives is debating a resolution for an investigation by the Legislature of the alleged Logan bill bribery. Not for years has there been such a resolve on Beacon Hill.

GEORGE W. NEER, RETIRED FARMER, DROPPED DEAD IN BROKER'S OFFICES



HARRIMAN SAYS "GO SLOW" ON FINANCING NEW SAN FRANCISCO

No Basis for Credit Has Yet Been Determined Upon—Insurance Payments Likely to Be Smaller Than Expected, Says H. S. Black.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 10.—E. H. Harriman, who has just returned from San Francisco, advises New York men of money to go slow on financing San Francisco affairs. He has conferred with several leaders in money matters and today said:

"San Francisco will be restored, not in a short time, but in a reasonable time. Everybody is trying to do what he can to help the situation out there. About finances—you can't discuss a financial plan until you know what a fellow is going to do with the money when he gets it.

Nothng of any value can be accomplished in this case case by hysterical movements. The whole thing is too big. I don't think anything really definite can be done until we know more about the whole subject and it will take time to develop that.

"In the first place, the people of San Francisco will have to show they are entitled to credit, and they are going about this task like men. They are not waiting for the construction of skyscrapers or steel-frame business houses before they begin over again, but are putting up temporary structures of corrugated iron or frame and starting to do business right away. Retail storekeepers and wholesale merchants are doing this, and it shows they mean that San Francisco is going to hold its business. With business it will get all the credit it needs.

"I have no settled financial plan of my own for rebuilding the city. Like every fellow, I suppose, I have got a whole lot of plans, but I am not ready yet to explain a single one of them. We will all have to wait until the business men of San Francisco and its people themselves point out the basis on which credit can be given."

Mr. Harriman did not enthuse when the Burnham plan for rebuilding the city was mentioned. He said it was theoretical and was looking ahead 40 or 50 years. Undoubtedly, he said, several of the streets would be widened.

Corporation Plan.

H. S. Black talked at length today for the first time of the plan on which he, with Vice-President Vanderlip of the National City Bank, Senator Newlands, Thomas Magee of San Francisco and others have been working for financing the rebuilding of San Francisco.

"We propose to organize a bond and mortgage corporation," said Mr. Black, "with either a Federal or a very broad State charter. The capital will probably be $10,000,000. This will be paid in to guarantee the principal and interest of the bonds we issue. These bonds will be secured by San Francisco real estate worth at least double the amount of the bond.

"With a company with this capital we will be justified in underwriting say $50,000,000 of bonds. When these have been disposed of or absorbed by the public, we will take up another block and dispose of them. The limit of bonds we issue will be fixed by the investing capacity of the public.

"The plan is simply this: If you owned a piece of San Francisco real estate worth $1,000,000 and wanted to put up a million-dollar building, you would apply to this bond and mortgage corporation for a loan of $1,000,000. We would issue $1,000,000 of bonds, dispose of them to investors all over the country and raise the money in that way.

"In addition to real estate of double the value of the bond, it will be secured by the guarantee of this company. This, of course, is an experiment in this country, but it is modeled on the same lines as a bond issue by a railroad corporation. I have sounded banking and bond houses and they regard the plan favorably.

"I should judge that in all $300,000,000 will be required in San Francisco for steel construction. Of course, all of this money will not have to be borrowed, and it means that many old-fashioned structures will be replaced with those of the modern type."

When Mr. Black was asked if the fire insurance companies would not contribute nearly all that might be needed for rebuilding purposes, he said:

"The amounts paid by the insurance companies in settlement of losses is invariably overstated. In Baltimore it was originally stated that the insurance loss was $75,000,000, but I understand only $11,000,000 was actually paid. Too much reliance should not be placed upon the total which the insurance companies will pay."

Mr. Black said the bonds would probably be underwritten by the company on a basis of 5½ per cent and offered to the public at 5 per cent at par. The face of each bond will be $1000.

Senator Newlands will return to this city this afternoon when another meeting will be held.

INVALID CARRIED FROM FLAMES

Woman Rescued in County, but Her Home Is Totally Destroyed.

Mrs. Joseph Schnellman, an invalid, was carried to safety by her neighbors when her home at Luxembourg, St. Louis County, burned Thursday.

The flames started in the barn and were carried by the wind to the house. Lying in a smoke-filled room, Mrs. Schnellman was unable to leave her bed, but the rescuers did quick work. Five children who had risen an hour before the fire escaped without injury.

The two-story frame house and the barn with their contents were completely destroyed. City firemen went to the scene, but could do nothing because of lack of water.

MRS. HAYES HAS NO WORD OF ILLNESS.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., May 10.—J. Addison Hayes, president of the First National Bank of this city and son-in-law of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, stated this morning that Mrs. Hayes had received no word of the reported illness of her mother. Mrs. Hayes is at her home in this city.

DEFECTIVE RAIL WRECKS LIMITED

Six Persons, Four of Them Passengers, Injured in Train's Ditching.

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 10.—The Chesapeake & Ohio New York limited, which left Cincinnati at 9:10 last night, was wrecked near Buena Vista station about midnight. The sleeper was ditched, but of the 16 passengers on that car only four women were injured.

Mrs. D. J. McKelvey of Cincinnati, was seriously injured, but will recover. The other three women are unknown.

The porter, Thomas Gray, and Brakeman Alfred Hinton were badly hurt.

Embezzlement Alleged.

Abraham Ukman of 1311 Carr street was arrested Thursday on an indictment charging embezzlement. The Lee-Levy Liquor Co., by which he was employed, alleges that on Aug. 14, 1905, he collected $145 from a customer and diverted the money to his own use.

Struck by Municipal Car.

Henry Middendorf is at St. Mary's Infirmary suffering from injuries caused by a municipal electric car, which struck him at the crossing near 3000 North Broadway. His legs are fractured in two places.

ILLEGAL VOTING FOUND IN FOUR WARDS RECOUNTED

Evidence of Fraud Discovered by Contest Clerks in First, Second, and Third Wards and First Precinct of Fourth Where Irregularities Were Startling.

OFFICIALS WITH SMALL MAJORITIES HOPEFUL

Collector Hagerman Who Had 155 Votes to Spare Says He Has Gained 40 so Far and Is Sure There Will Be Further Additions to His Total.

Evidences of fraudulent voting have been discovered by the clerks conducting the ballot recount in the First, Second and Third wards as well as in the First Precinct of the Fourth Ward, where the magnitude and boldness of the frauds have caused a delay in the canvass. The evidence will probably be presented to the grand jury in a few days.

Collector Hagerman, whose tenure of office is threatened by the Fourth Ward disclosures, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that he had been informed that he and other Democratic contestees had gained 40 votes in the recount of the first three wards.

"When I consider that there are 24 other wards to be examined after the Fourth," said Mr. Hagerman, "I am not alarmed by the apparent loss of Democratic votes which may follow the inspection of the Fourth Ward returns.

"In the Fifth Ward it has never been explained how a former Democratic plurality of 1700 was changed into a Republican plurality of 800. And a revision of the Sixteenth Ward returns is very likely to favor the Democratic ticket.

"If I am convinced that I was not honestly elected I shall refuse to retain my office—though some persons never seem to believe such a statement sincere."

Miles Precinct a Model.

Thomas K. Skinker, member of the Board of Election Commissioners, said Thursday to a Post-Dispatch reporter that there was no possibility of throwing out the returns of the entire Fourth Ward, however great were the irregulaities discovered in the voting

"If there were found to be 99 fraudulent votes and one good one in a precinct," he said, "it would be the duty of the election officials to throw out the 99 fraudulent votes and count the one good one."

"Since attention has been called to the irregular voting in the Fourth Ward," he continued, "it would be only fair to have the public know that some precincts in other wards were found to be models. One such was the Sixth Precinct of the Third Ward."

The precinct referred to is that in which "Jimmy" Miles was most active at last spring's election.

COUNCIL BLOCKS CITY'S BUSINESS

East St. Louis Has Technically No Employes at Present.

The East St. Louis City Council, at a session lasting 23 minutes, refused by a vote of 9 to 5 the insurgent Citizens' party aldermen controlling, to approve the minutes of the previous meeting. By the same vote they refused to allow the claims and salaries of city officials for the month of April.

Technically, East St. Louis now has no police force, no fire department, no city employes. The salary of the old officials and employes for the last month's service is unpaid and the insurgent aldermen even hold that there are no council committees.

The old officials and employes are holding over and will continue to hold over until the Council confirms the Mayor's appointments and they have qualified.

The report of the Committee on Claims and Salaries, to which the bills for April, amounting to $47,648.02, had been referred at Monday's meeting, was read. The report was signed by Aldermen Brown, Whalen, O'Malley and Gither, recommending that claims and salaries be allowed and paid, but the Citizens' party aldermen, Liebig, Anderson and Jackson, had refused to sign the report allowing the bills.

Alderman Whalen moved, seconded by O'Malley, that the bills be allowed by the Council and ordered paid. Reeb moved that inasmuch as there was no Council committees and that there could be no valid report, the bills be paid without reference to a committee. Mayor Cook declared the motion out of order because there was a previous motion before the Council. The payment of bills was defeated by 9 to 5.

Adjournment was then taken until next Monday at 3 p. m. This fruitless meeting cost the city $42, $3 for each alderman.

"Skollars" Have Fun.

The "Deestrick Skule" rehearsals are being held at the Buckingham Club and from the amount of fun the "skollars" are having it is safe to predict that the audience at the Odeon the evening of May 18 will have a royal good time. About forty prominent men and women have enrolled as "skollars" and more are coming. The teacher will meet the "skollars" at 8 p. m. Thursday.

GASOLINE BURNS TWO CLEANERS

Men Enveloped When Third in Tank Catches Fire—Injuries Not Serious.

Two men were injured in an eplosion of gasoline at the Chenoweth Dying and Cleaning Works, 1416 Washington avenue, Thursday afternoon.

A gust of flame from a cleaning vat containing 40 suits of clothes swept through the room enveloping Richard Hahn of 816 Geyer avenue, Charles Bonnett of 2746 Keokuk street, and John Giovanni of 1416 Morgan street.

Hahn fell backwards through a door and escaped injury. Bonnett's hair and mustache were singed and Giovanni's hands were burned.

It was all over after the first flash and there was no damage to the company's property. But the 40 spring suits were so scorched and mussed up that they can't be worn except in a pinch.

BOLOGNA STRIKERS ATTACK SOLDIERS

ROME, May 10.—Disturbances of a grave nature have occurred at Bologna in connection with the general strike. Several officers and soldiers were wounded and many buildings including some of the hospitals were stoned.

At Milan the strike has not resulted in any disturbances and is generally condemned, as it greatly affects the attendance at the International Simplon Exposition.

In this city the strikers today attacked several shops and broke a number of windows.

APPROPRIATION SIGNED.

Payment of City Employes Will Begin at Once.

Mayor Wells signed the municipal appropriation bill Thursday and payment of city employes will begin at once.

Preparations have been made in the City Treasurer's office for the delayed pay day, and city employes who have been putting off their creditors since the first of the month will have an oportunity to "come clean" with the world.

The police were not affected by the delay, but firemen, City Hall clerks and all other public servants suffered.

FROST KILLS MUCH COTTON IN ALABAMA.

DECATUR, Ala., May 10.—There was another heavy frost last night in the Tennessee River Valley and this, with the frost of Tuesday night, has probably killed much of the cotton in that section of the State. In some places is is said the entire crop will have to be replanted.

CZAR ASKS HIS PARLIAMENT TO HELP PEASANTS

TROOPS PATROL STREETS

Government and Masses Meet in First Assembly With Mutual Distrust.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 10.—The new Russian Parliament holds its first session today. Notwithstanding the mutual distrust of the Government and the people, there is not lacking the hope that a sincere understanding between the Emperor and his subjects will be the result.

The Emperor's reception passed off without any untoward incident.

The tone of the speech from the throne was conciliatory. It expressed the Emperor's wish that relief be given to the peasants in their present unsatisfactory conditions, and called on the members of Parliament to put their hearts into their work and to co-operate with him in solving the present problems of Russia and in handing down a united and prosperous empire to his successor.

The city might have been in a state of siege, so heavy is the array of troops. Not only are detachments of infantry, cavalry and gendarmes stationed at strategic points, but large reserves are massed in the courtyards of the public buildings.

Early in the morning the palace square resembled a field camp, two regiments of guards having bivouacked there all night. At daylight, battalions of police took possession of all the approaches to the palace for the distance of a third of a mile, and all day no one was allowed to pass the lines without tickets.

Religious Services.

Like all great State functions in Russia, the ceremonies began with religious services. At 10 o'clock in the morning the whole city reverberated with bells and chimes from St. Petersburg's myriad of cathedrals, churches and temples, summoning the people to thanksgiving. Not only at St. Petersburg, but at the Kremlin of Moscow bells were rung and Te Deums were celebrated, thus giving the occasion the religious, as well as civic, significance necessary to impress the Russian masses.

While the bell were still ringing the imperial yacht Alexandria, with the imperial standard at the fore, moved majestically up the river, dipping her flag in answer to the salutes and cheers from the Emperor's warships lying at the Baltic works. Instead of proceeding to the Winter Palace, the yacht stopped at the landing stage of the English quay, below the Nicholas Bridge, and in front of Leuchtenberg Palace, formerly the American Embassy, where the Emperor, the Empress and the Dowager Empress entered a launch, and attended by a launch on each flank, moved on up the river.

The members of the court made the remainder of the journey to the Winter Palace in carriages, escorted by a troop of clattering horse guards. The Emperor's arrival was not heralded by the customary salute of 301 guns, and for that reason the passage of the river hardly attracted the notice of the thousands of spectators who were waiting along the islands in the river.

Without halting at the Winter Palace the launches crossed the river, and their majesties landed under the grim walls of the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress, which they entered by the imperial water terrace, driving hurriedly to the immense cathedral, inside the walls of which repose the remains of the Romanoffs. There, before the tombs of the Emperor's ancestors, the imperial family knelt for 20 minutes and made their devotions.

Czar Faintly Cheered.

As their Majesties, after their devotions, returned to the terrace and re-entered the launch, the faint echo of a cheer swept up the Neva. The imperial launch immediately recrossed the river and entered the Winter Palace from the quay entrance.

For the first time since the ceremony of blessing the waters, Jan. 9, 1905, when the Emperor escaped death from the charge of grape fired from a gun of the saluting battery on the oposite bank of the river, the Emperor and Empress were back in the Russian capital.

A little more than two hours later vast hosts of military and civil dignitaries began arriving at the Winter Palace to listen to the Emperor's message to the representatives of the people.

The palace is an immense, mysterious looking yellow-red structure on the left bank of the Neva. The queer style of the architecture is accentuated by the ungainly statues on the roof line. To the south is a large, open space called the Palace Square, in the center of which rises a granite column, that of Alexander I. It is flanked by the buildings of the General Staff, Ministry of Finance and the Foreign Office. An immense quadriga crowns the archway of the main entrance from the grand moskaya.

Behind the iron grill leading to the sourthyard of the palace were massed a squadron of heavy dragoons and a battery of machine guns. Through this brilliant maze of troops passed splendid equipages, many of the coachmen wearing the red imperial livery and bearing invited guests swiftly to the various entrances to which they had been assigned. Although the bars of what had hitherto been the most exclusive court in Europe were lowered for the first time to admit to the Emperor's presence men who had come, not by virtue of his invitation, but because they held a mandate from the people, the rules and traditions of rank were not otherwise relaxed.

By different entrances and up different stairways, into different salons, strictly according to rank, the concourse of court dignitaries, nobles, foreign representatives, clergy and military and civil officials, all in full uniform, gathered to await the summons from the throne in the Hall of St. George. Through the Jordan door the members of the lower House of Parliament mounted the Carrara marble staircase to the spacious Nicholas hall, overlooking the Neva, where the great court balls are held, while the members of the Council of the Empire, or Upper House, passed through the regular entrance. That body assembled in the Hermitage Pavilion.

The ambassadors and other chiefs of misions mounted the ambassadors' staircase, skirting the dining room, where Alexander II narrowly eccaped death as the result of an explosion in 1880, and passed the hall of Peter the Great, whose red velvet walls are studded with golden Russian eagles. In the gold-decorated music room and in the beautiful Arabic halls, the Pompeiia's gallery, the Hall of Columns, etc., gathered the suites of the various grand dukes and grand duchesses, the procurator-general of the Holy Synod, the members of the Holy Synod, the generals of high rank, admirals, aide-de-camps, etc.

WARSAW CELEBRATES PARLIAMENT OPENING.

WARSAW, Russian Poland, May 10.—Official Poland today celebrated the opening of the Russian Parliament with services at the Russian churches. Government buildings were decorated with flags and all Government offices and the schools were closed.

The workmen, however, showed evidence of their dislike for what they term the "limited powers" of Parliament, and, as a protest against this state of affairs, the men in many of the factories here and elsewhere stopped work.

HORSE SHOW FOR TWO HOSPITALS

Charity Exhibition to Be Given in East St. Louis Friday Night.

All is in readiness for the Charity Horse Show to be given Friday night at the special sales pavilion at the National Stockyards in East St. Louis, for the benefit of Henrietta and St. Mary's hospitals of East St. Louis. The show is under the management of John S. Bratton and Rev. W. E. Archibald, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The decorating committee, composed of Mmes. John S. Bratton, W. E. Archibald, H. J. DeHaan, Robert Conway, Joseph Nestor and E. E. Wilson, placed the decorations in the pavilion Thursday, the seats, boxes and other work of enlarging the seating capacity having been completed.

The feature of the horse show will be the potato race on horseback, in which the contestants will be several St. Louis society men and members of the St. Louis Country Club. This race was originated by John S. Bratton, and it will be presented under rules never before shown in this part of the country. The half-hour drill of the cadets of the Western Military Academy of Alton is always an interesting feature, and will be presented Friday night in its entirety.

St. Louisans Buy Boxes.

Many boxes and reserved seats have been sold to St. Louisans and local people have been liberal in the purchase of seats and in making donations. The show will open at 7:30 p. m. with a band concert from 7:30 p. m. to 8 p. m., and will be over by 11 p. m. Enough extra electric lights have been installed to make the entire pavilion as light as day.

The entries are:

Class 1—Horses in harness: Dixie, B. N. Pendleton, East St. Louis, exhibitor; Alabama, M. Parish, East St. Louis; Livery King, Keyes-Marshall, St. Louis; National, C. T. Each contestant will carry a sharp stick and the object of the game is to get to the end of the pavilion having the box of potatoes, and, with the stick, get a potato and place it in the empty box at the other end without having it knocked off of the stick by aiother contestant.

Class 10, hunters and jumpers—Canadian Belle, Adolphus Busch, St. Louis, exhibitor; Jack, Adolphus Busch, St. Louis; Blarney, John S. Bratton Jr., East St. Louis; Mah Lady, Graham Wickham, St. Louis.

Milk Thief Escapes.

Policeman Cuddishee and Richard Buck, bartender for T. C. Tobin, 1900 Locust street, chased a negro milk thief several blocks early Thursday. Shortly after the arrival of the milkman, they say a negro take a half-gallon can of cream. The policeman fired, but the negro escaped.

JEREMIAH MURPHY.

REAL "SELF-MADE MERCHANT" DIES

WOULDN'T GO ON BONDS

Counseled Sons as to Business in His Last Conscious Moments.

Jeremiah Murphy, wealthy St. Louis pork packer, died early Thursday at his home, 2834 Morgan street, from a complication of diseases. He had been ill for two or three months from stomach and kidney troubles, and for three weeks had been confined to his home.

Monday his condition became critical, and he called the four sons associated with him in the Jeremiah Murphy Packing Co., at Jefferson avenue and Morgan street, and had a long talk with them regarding the conduct of the business he established. Soon after he became unconscious, and did not fully regain possession of his faculties.

Mr. Murphy was 59 years old, and was born in Ireland. He came to America when he was 17 years old, and for ten years worked for his cousins in Chicago. Then he came to St. Louis and started handling pork in a small way at the location where the plant now stands. Business grew and the plant was extended. Ten years ago he put in an ice plant, and a few years later incorporated, taking his four sons in as partners.

He was bluff and hearty and had his own ideas about business. Above his desk hung this sign:

> NOTICE.
>
> To whom it may concern:
>
> The undersigned will under no circumstances sign or indorse any paper purporting to be a bond or note for future payment, good behavior or otherwise. So please save yourself the humiliation of being refused. The above includes the saying, "Oh, it is only a matter of form." Also as this is no banking or loan office, no money will be loaned.
>

The sign was about one foot square, was inclosed in a black frame and was covered with glass.

Mr. Murphy is survived by his wife and five sons. They are: William F., secretary; John J., treasurer; James A., vice-president, and Jeremiah, Jr., all connected with the packing company. A fifth son, John Clexton, is connected with a Catholic order in Memphis. There [illegible] daughters, Nellie, Mary and Anna. None of the children is married.

The funeral will be held Saturday in St. Bridget's Church, followed by interment in Calvary Cemetery.

ILL, SHOT HIMSELF.

James Robinson, Aged 62, Ended His Life.

James A. Robinson, after suffering for weeks from a stomach trouble, ended his life Thursday morning by shooting himself in the mouth. He was 62 years old and was employed as a clerk in the office of the Suburban Railway Co.

Since his illness began Robinson has often said to his wife and sons, with whom he lived at 3917 Labadie avenue:

"I would rather be dead than living as I am and suffering as I do."

He never said anything about killing himself and his action was a surprise to members of his family.

Thursday morning he placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth and pulled the trigger while alone in his room. He was dead when his wife, who had heard the shot, found him.

Statues With Top Hats.

Some of the London newspapers are arguing over the number of statues with "top-hats" there are in existence. One is a statue of the late President Kruger that never reached Pretoria and lies in a yard at Durban. Mrs. Kruger stipulated that the top of the hat should be left open so as to hold rainwater for the birds.

ASKS INNDICTMENT OF ILLEGAL CLUBS

McElhinney Instructs Jury to Investigate Liquor Sale.

In his charge to the St. Louis County grand jury Thursday, Judge McElhinney instructed the jurors to investigate the Sunday sale of liquor in the county and to indict those conducting illegal "clubs." He also suggested that acts of county officials, which have been the subjects of plentiful criticism, be inquired into.

"A number of so-called clubs are running without saloon licenses, claiming the right to sell liquor on Sunday," said Judge McElhinney.

"Clubs which are bona fide, literary, musical or athletic organizations, may have this right, but those which have been formed merely to evade the law are entitled to no such privilege, and you should indict such persons.

"Some acts of officials in this county have been criticised by the papers and the public at large. If your body thinks that such criticism has just foundation, investigation into such acts should be made."

The members of the grand jury are: Peter Kerth, foreman; August Kleinsorge, S. Mark Dodd, J. C. Sutton, J. E. Joy, Fred Buelt, C. B. Fischer, Fred Truetzel, William Dierker, Charles J. Knoll, Philip Fick and Gottlieb Bayer.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY BILL CONFERENCE

Committees of Two Branches Consider Measure and House Holds Whip.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 10.—A joint conference committee, consisting of five senators and five representatives, began today to reconcile the differences existing between the two branches regarding the provisions of a primary election bill.

The Senate committee consists of Campbell, Gardner, Berry, Chafee and Barr.

The House committee includes Speaker Shurtleff, Trautmann, Shanahan, Rinaker and one other.

It is generally predicted that the bill finally agreed upon will be only a slight modification of the bill that has passed the House. The weeks of fighting in the lower branch has demonstrated the fact that a bill cannot be passed in any form other than the general lines of the Shurtleff bill.

Charged With Embezzlement.

John J. Smidt of 2132 South Third street is in Jail charged by his employers with selling crucifixes and keeping the money. The warrant charges embezzlement, the specific amount being $2. Smidt was employed by the Reliable Specialty Co. at 1104 Pine street.

BULL KILLS $1400 HORSE IN BATTLE

PATERSON, N. J., May 10.—A terrific fight between a stallion and a vicious bull occurred on the farm of Paul Hoffner at Haledon yesterday afternoon. The fight resulted in the disembowelment of the stallion, an animal valued at $1400, with a record of 2:20. It was owned by William Petrie of 764 Broadway, this city.

The stallion had been stabled at the Hoffner farm for several days and when Gustave Breen, Petrie's coachman, went to bring it to Petrie's stable, to protect it from the raw air, he threw a red blanket over the horse and led it from the barn to the yard. The barnyard is separated from a pasture by a low fence, beyond which several cows and the bull were grazing.

The bull became infuriated when he saw the red blanket and, leaping over the fence, made for the stallion. Breen ran for help as the stallion turned and met the bull with his kind legs. His steel-shod hoofs cut a deep gash in the bull's left shoulder. The blow stopped the bull for a moment, but it returned to the combat and both animals fought all over the barnyard. Breen, Hoffner and Hoffner's hired man ran to the barn and secured pitchforks, but the bull had felled the stallion before they could save it.

Before the three men succeeded in beating the bull off, Breen broke his arm. The bull, which had given considerable trouble before, was shot.

SHAW IN VAUDEVILLE!

Wind Works Queer Prank in Sign at Coliseum.

For many months a signboard in front of the Coliseum on Olive street has called attention to a theater where burlesque and vaudeville performances are given. When Sim Harris arranged for the Shaw meeting here, he had a cloth sign lettered telling when the Secretary of the Treasury would speak. This cloth sign was tacked on over the theatrical sign.

The cloth sign remains, but the wind has torn it in such a manenr that part of the theatrical sign underneath appears, and the sign now reads:

> LESLIE M. SHAW,
>
> Burlesque and Vaudeville.

The wind has amended the cloth sign to accord with the facts.

MORE than ONE MILLION people in the city of St. Louis and contiguous territory READ the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH EVERY Sunday.

THIS is a year of daintiness and variety in costumes. While the gowns all follow what the French call "mouvement" in fashions, the order of the day is individuality.

The peculiar result of this freedom in design is the difficulty experienced by inferior talent in producing beautiful effects; at the same time, true artists have never before given us such charming productions.

Your gown may be Louis XV or XVI, modernized; it may be Princess or Empire; its success or failure depends on the maker.

Vandervoort's deals only with manufacturers of recognized authority. Our domestic and foreign relations are so completely established that you are sure to find not only the best of their productions, but also the latest.

CUTS TONGUE OUT WITH POCKETKNIFE

Boy Who Wouldn't Take a Dare Was Frozen to a Pipe.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MILLVILLE, N. J., May 10.—Albert Travis was playing about the Millville ice plant when a companion dared him to touch one of the frost pipes with his tongue.

"I never take a dare," he said, and, walking over to the white pipe, he touched it with his tongue. In a moment he was writhing in pain, while his companions stood about and laughed, thinking he was joking.

One of the engineers found the boy on his knees, almost unconscious. Young Travis' tongue was terribly swollen and was frozen fast to the pipe. All efforts to release him were futile and his father was summoned.

Learning that there was only one way to save his son, he spoke to the engineer and turned away while the man opened a sharp blade of his pocketknife and cut off the lad's tongue. Before Dr. Charles B. Neal could arrive the boy had almost bled to death. He is now in a serious condition.

BANK COLLAPSES; GIRLS CHIEF LOSERS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 10.—With the collapse of the Columbia Savings and Trust Co., organized two years ago by William H. Diehl, ex-Mayor of Pittsburg, many poor girls lost their savings. Most of the stock had been sold to young women stenographers and clerks at $10 a share. Each really paid $13 a share, but the additional $3 went to an agent who sold the stock.

In their efforts to get out, stockholders have offered their shares as low as $4. The institution carried the personal accounts of most of these young women. It also carried the account of the Western Penitentiary, which had $20,000 on deposit, all of which is tied up.

The failure is said to have been caused by the recent failure of the Ohio Coal and Sewer Pipe Co. of East Liverpool, O., of which Diehl was also president. The officers declare there is no crookedness and that the bank will pay dollar for dollar.

HEAD OF MUTUAL LIFE SUBPENAED

NEW YORK, May 10.—District Attorney Jerome has issued a subpena for Charles A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., compelling his attendance before the special grand jury investigating insurance matters. President Peabody, it is understood, will be a willing witness and will tell all he knows about the transactions carried on through the Mutual's department of purchase and supplies during the old regime.

Since Mr. Peabody started out on the task of searching the history of this department he has had a special committee at work investigating its affairs and he will be able to tell the special grand jury a good many things the Armstrong legislative committee was not able to learn.

Mr. Jerome has not yet determined when Mr. Peabody will be called.

MEN HAVE CLOSE ESCAPE.

Floor of Fourth Street Building Falls to Basement.

The second floor of the building at 403 North Fourth street, which is being demolished to make way for an annex to the St. Louis Union Trust Co., collapsed early Thursday and fell into the basement.

The first floor had already been removed and the one which fell was loaded with wreckage from the upper parts of the four-story structure. The strain was too great and the floor gave way without warning.

Six men had been working on the floor a few minutes before it collapsed, but they were on the floor above eating their lunch when the accident occurred, and none of them was injured.

BABY CHANGES COLOR EVERY DAY

Pink at Sunrise, Black at Noon and White When Night Comes.

DES MOINES, Io., May 10.—A baby who changes color three times every 24 hours is a curiosity in Des Moines. It is little Eli Rami, the 12-months-old son of Count Natho, who married an American girl in Quincy, Ill., three years ago. It is the first baby of Hindoo parentage ever born in America.

When the little fellow awakens at sunrise he is a pretty, fair-complexioned boy. At noon he changes color, and within an hour is of the dark ginger color of his princely ancestors. At night he becomes alabaster white. The mixture of blood is said to be accountable for the strange phenomenon.

Foot Crushed Under Car.

George Reinholdt of 1929 Cherokee street, who fell under a car on Jefferson avenue near Washington avenue Wednesday morning, is at the Washington University Hospital, 611 North Jefferson avenue. His right foot was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. He tried to swing onto the front platform of a Jefferson avenue car, slipped and fell under the wheels. He is 42 years old.

Store Echoes

Friday's May Sale news tells of hundreds of chances for making wonderful savings—every conservative shopper should attend—the offerings warrant it.

Have you noticed any of the new improvements at the store? Have you noticed some of the new fixtures which are being installed. Make it a point to do so the next time you are in.

The linen and white goods section, now located in the basement, is about to be moved to its new location on the first floor, near the Sixth and Lucas Avenue entrance—this change will probably take place by Monday.

Our new and grand restaurant which was installed at a cost of $50,000 will be open in a few days—watch for the announcement in the daily papers.

TEACHERS GIVEN SALARY INCREASE

Belleville Board Grants General Raise of From $25 to $50 Yearly.

INSTRUCTORS RENAMED

New Trustees Also Decide to Adopt Physical Culture in Schools.

Believing that good teachers should receive good salaries and that good salaries will attract good teachers, the new Board of Education of Belleville has given its teachers a general raise of from $25 to $50 a year.

All the teachers were reappointed. The only changes were the appointment of Thomas Curle and James W. Lynch, who succeed John Schlonsinger and William Koch as janitors of the Washington and Central schools, the latter two having resigned.

It was also decided to install physical culture in the schools, the board believing this is absolutely necessary to the health of the pupils.

Amelia Ziehnert, $600; Pearl Tiley, $500; Amanda Sunkel, $450; Minnie Rudolph, $500; Anna Weber, $575; Ada Krafft, $575; Emma Roell, $650; Ella Huff, $425; Nettie Haines, $500; Lena Becker, $625; Ella Weber, $425; Clara Thiele, $550; Minnie Brua, $600; Sophie Brua, $575; Josie Schmidt, $475; Emily Bartel, $475; Mary Wendt, $400; Fannie Grim, $600; Eugenia Knoebel, $450; Celia Alexander, $375; Anna Laux, $425; Hannah Thomas, $425; Johanna Heber, $400; Minnie Schirmer, $450; Estella Hough, $400; Amelia Nuetzling, $425; Amelia Herr, $500; Carrie Eleni, $425; A. Gummerscheimer, $600; Bertha Lang, $450; Bell Merker, $475; Margarethe Gunn, $425; Emily Flimore $575; Emily Heber, $400; Louise K. Sapp, $450; Lulu Keil, $550; Katie Rauth, $450; Katie Meng, $475; Augusta Neuhaus, $550; Sophie Weir, $475; Johanna Gintz, $525; Anna Wittenfeld, $475; Lilian Whiteside, $550; Kate Bell, $600; Leona Daniels, $525; Julia Stork, $575; E. C. Roediger, $600; Louise Niemeyer, $575; Wm. Powers, $650; Henry Heer, $750; Augusta Vollrath, $650; Wm. Keiner, $650; Bell Hauser, $600; Ida La Turno, $650; E. W. Plegge, $1100; Anna D. Reiss, $700; F. T. Nies, $700; O. C. Eidman, $750; H. W. Brua, $1400; W. J. Hanson, $1200; W. A. Hough, $1200; O. C. Pfennighausen, $800; H. G. Schmidt, $800; Nora Voelkel, $350.

Supt. George H. Busiek was reappointed at a salary of $2000 per year. Ernst Engelmann was appointed truant officer at a salary of $150 per year.

SELPH WANTS HARMONY.

In No Other Way Can Democrats Win Next Fall.

The St. Louis Democratic Club and the Jefferson Club will work in harmony next fall to insure the election of the local and State tickets, so President Selph of the former organization said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday.

"Neither the St. Louis Democratic Club nor any of its members," said Mr. Selph, "will engage in criminations or recriminations, as a result of last Saturday's primary election.

"That contest is now history. The whole thing was a family fight and is ended so far as we are concerned. If there is to be harmony in the party all discussion must cease between alleged factions.

"As to who are the victors will be clearly demonstrated at the two conventions soon to be held at Jefferson City and Excelsior Springs. One fact is apparent, and that is if the factional and personal bickerings within the party do not cease the Democratic ticket will go down in defeat in the fall. The party should be harmonized at once if we are to win a victory."

THIEF AT FOUR COURTS.

Police Sergeant Anton Loses Night Stick and Cigars.

Police Sergeant Peter Anton has been robbed. The robbery occurred at the Four Courts, but a few steps from the main office and when a dozen policemen were not more than 20 feet away.

As a result of the robbery the Sergeant is very angry, officially and otherwise, and some sneak thief is probably carrying his beautiful rosewood night stick and smoking some of his best cigars.

The robber opened the locker containing the missing articles with a skeleton key. The locker is in the hallway only a few feet from the main office and the department is astonished at the boldness of the thief. The affair was promptly reported to Capt. Reynolds, but no arrests have been made.

COONSKINS FOR LAND.

John Scholl Saw St. Louis Realty Sold Cheap.

The funeral of John Scholl, a resident of St. Louis for the 87 years of his life, will be held Saturday from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anthony Hoefle, 3208 North Nineteenth street. Death came after a long illness and was due to a complication of diseases.

Scholl used to tell interesting stories in connection with the growth of St. Louis. Seventy years ago he saw the land on which the Planters Hotel now stands sold for 75 cents an acre. He saw 10 acres of land at Jefferson and Washington avenues sold by an Indian for six coonskins. He used to swim and fish in a lake where the Four Courts now stands and pick blackberries where Union Station stands.

From the age of 6 to 21 he worked for a butcher, and got $300 for 15 years' labor. During the war he sided with the South, and he and his family were driven from their home, but the Government has since awarded him $6000 damages.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Anthony Hoefle and Miss Ida Scholl, and two sons, Charles and William Scholl.

CARRIER TO POSTMASTER.

Fred W. Deuser Promoted to Clayton Office.

The appointment of Fred W. Deuser of Central St. Louis County as Postmaster of Clayton has been sent to the Senate for approval. Deuser's appointment is a surprise to many, who supposed that John H. Boos, now Postmaster, would be named. The office has recently been raised to the presidential class, with a salary of $1000 a year, clerk hire and office rent.

Mr. Deuser's petition bore the names of county officials and Republican party leaders.

He is a son of Philip Deuser, former County Treasurer. He has been a rural mail carrier out of Clayton for more than a year.

Entertainment for Church.

A free entertainment will be given Thursday evening at the Marvin Memorial M. E. Church, Twelfth and Sidney streets, for the Sunday school. Rev. H. M. Meyers will give stereopticon views, and his "Once-on-a-Time Stories."

The Sunday Post-Dispatch has over ONE-HALF MILLION more readers than any other newspaper west of the Mississippi.

CHEER UP, DEVIL'S DEAD.

A big red devil was found dead in Forest Park early Thursday. For a time the police had difficulty in establishing an identification, but conspicuously displayed on the deceased was a bearing the number 489 in canary [illegible]s on a poached-egg yellow background.

[illegible] led to the home of Everet Maule, a contractor, at 4000 Delmar Boulevard, where it was learned that Mr. Maule and his two sons went out with the red devil Wednesday night and that His Satanic Majesty died of an overdose of gasoline 50 feet east of Lindell walk in Forest Park.

Mr. Maule and his sons took a street car and went home, leaving Dead One No. 489 to be watched over by the police until daylight.

Bear as Pet.

Admiral Alexieff, the late Russian Viceroy in the Far East, owns a pet bear named Muska, to which he is immensely attached. It was always on his flagship wherever he went.

FINDLY FOR CONGRESS.

Revenue Clerk Wants Republican Nomination.

William T. Findly of 5931 Garfield avenue, a clerk in the office of the Internal Revenue Collector, announced Thursday that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Eleventh District.

He came to St. Louis from Pike County, eight years ago, and he managed the campaign of Henry S. Caulfield, who was defeated for Congress by John T. Hunt two years ago. Mr. Caulfield, in turn, will manage Findly's campaign.

The only other candidate for the Republican nomination in the Eleventh District, so far announced, is William Sachs.

Reward of $25 for Body.

His brother and sister have offered a reward of $25 for the recovery of the body of John Detzel, who was drowned in the river at the foot of Potomac street Tuesday. John Detzel and his brother, Herman, and their sister, Bertha, lived at 1104 Arsenal street. John was superintending the decorating of Charles Lemp's yacht, when a scaffold gave way and he was precipitated into the river.

Chinese Section Hands.

According to the German East African Journal, the Government has given permission to import, provisionally, 2000 Chinese for employment in railway construction.

TOO SURE LAWYER WAS A FOOTPAD

Accused Man Freed by Identification That Made Judge Laugh.

WITNESS VERY CERTAIN

Insisted That Examining Attorney and His Client Were "Pals."

As an identifier, Joseph Funk, prosecuting witness against Gus Schultz, charged with robbery, failed to make a hit with the jury in Judge Kinsey's court Wednesday afternoon, and as a consequence Schultz was acquitted.

Funk, who lives at 1847 North Broadway, was choked and robbed by two men on Mullanphy street between Tenth and Eleventh streets on the night of April 1, the robbers obtaining two rings, a watch and $1.50 in cash. He positively identified Schultz as the man who choked him.

"Would you be able to identify the man who searched your pockets while Schultz was choking you?" asked Attorney Samuel Kohn, representing the defendant.

"Yes, I believe I would," answered Funk.

"Am I the man?"

"Yes, I think you are," replied the witness, looking at Kohn sharply.

"Are you positive I'm the man?"

"Yes, I'm positive."

"You think I'm the man that took your rings from your fingers, do you?"

"Yes, I'm sure of it."

"And the watch from your pocket?"

"Yes, you're the man; I'm positive."

"And the money?"

Judge and Jury Laugh.

The Judge and jury were laughing. Kohn said in a stage whisper that he could prove an alibi and dismissed the witness.

There was hardly any evidence for the jury to consider other than Funk's identification, and after being out a few minutes it returned a verdict of "not guilty."

A few months ago Kohn by doing a stunt with his face secured the acquittal of a defendant charged with burglary. After a mask had been placed over the lower portion of the defendant's face and a hat pulled down over his eyes the prosecuting witness identified him as a man who had robbed his home. During the noon recess Kohn had a barber shave off his mustache and later in court adjusted a mask to his face and pulled a hat over his eyes and after disguising his client in the same manner called on the prosecuting witness to pick out the burglar. The witness picked out Kohn and the jury acquitted the defendant.

WILD WEST SHOW IN CITY STREETS

East St. Louis Woman Aids in Capturing Steer That Invaded Yard.

INSISTED ON DAMAGES

Policeman Called and He Made Drover Settle With Mrs. Prendergast.

Residents of North Sixth street, East St. Louis, witnessed a wild West show free of charge Wednesday afternoon in which 10 wild steers, one horse, a drover and his men and Mrs. R. Pendergast, 628 North Sixth street, participated. There was fence jumping and breaking, stampeding, lassoing and a few other features not in most shows.

The only gate receipts were those collected by Mrs. Pendergast, assisted by Night Chief M. Doyle of the East St. Louis police force.

The performance lasted an hour and housekeepers and men at work in the neighborhood took a recess in order to view the excitement.

The drover's men were driving the long-horned steers south on North Sixth street about 2 o'clock, when one of the number felt the call of the green of the lawn about Mrs. Prendergast's home. He left the herd and jumped the fence. After stamping his dusty hoofs on the lawn he started to make further investigations and started along the wooden walk that extends to the rear garden.

Lassoed in Yard.

One of the drover's men made after him with a lasso and succeeded after considerable running in getting the rope about the steer's horns. Mrs. Prendergast ran to the man's side and grasped the rope, which he relinquished to her.

Meanwhile the other steers had also broken ranks and were running wildly up and down the streets frightening children and dogs into their homes.

The owner of the steers rode up to Mrs. Pendergast's gate and said, "I'll take my steer."

"Not until you've paid for the damage he has done," replied Mrs. Pendergast, who had tight hold of the rope which was about the steer's horns.

The drover refused to pay and tried to explain, but Mrs. Pendergast was insistent. The drover left his horse at the gate, entered the yard and jerked the rope holding the steer from Mrs. Pendergast's hands. The rough rope caused her hands to bleed, but she did not give up the fight. As the drover led the steer to the street she followed and returned with the drover's horse which she led into her back yard.

Drover Settled With Woman.

The drover, discovering the determination of the woman with whom he was dealing, attempted to effect a compromise. Mrs. Pendergast listened to offers that began at 50 cents and mounted to $5, and as she listened gave orders to the drover's man to unsaddle the horse. He did so and she took the saddle into the house.

Some time before neighbors had sent for a policeman, but as none came a message was sent to Night Chief Doyle, who was asleep at his residence, 620 North Sixth street. He went to the scene and served as judge of the steer-breaking contest. He ordered the drover to leave $10 for the payment of the repairs necessary, the surplus to be returned to the drover when the work was done.

The drover also agreed to pay damages to a junk dealer across the street into whose premises three of the steers had bolted.

The firemen of Engine House No. 2, whose grass plat was torn up by the steers, were not present when the damages were paid, and will have to restore their lawn without reimbursement.

DELAYED HIS NEW WILL.

Aged Man Intended to Give to Charity.

The funeral of William Cooney, the aged man who was found dead in the coach house of Mrs. Thomas O'Reilly, 1643 Washington avenue, where he had a room, will take place Thursday afternoon from the undertaking rooms at 2735 Cass avenue to Calvary Cemetery. His estate, consisting of bank deposits of nearly $3500 and a lot, will go to relatives in Ireland.

It is said he had intended leaving it to the Little Sisters of the Poor in gratitude for the care they gave his wife, who died two years ago, but he neglected to have a new will drawn. The one found, and which was filed Wednesday in the Probate Court, bequeaths everything to his wife. As she is dead, the estate will go to the more distant relatives.

Cooney had been in the employ of the O'Reilly family 25 years. Public Administrator Troll has taken charge of the estate.

BOY GUARDED BY DOGS.

Willie Moran, the 3-year-old son of Mrs. Kate Moran of 920 North Nineteenth street, is again playing with his dogs, unconscious of how they watched over him when he wandered from home and was lost Wednesday. During the afternoon, when the boy walked through strange streets and while he was being cared for at the Four Courts, the two dogs stayed near him constantly.

Willie was found playing in the street in front of the Jefferson Hotel by Patrolman Pearson, who took him to the Four Courts, where the mother claimed the little fellow late in the evening.

DIES BEFORE PRIMARIES.

Arthur Bentley, Candidate for Illinois County Judge, Dead.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HULL, Ill., May 10.—Arthur E. Bentley of Pittsfield, Ill., candidate for County Judge of Pike County, was found unconscious at 5:30 a. m. and died at noon yesterday. The primaries for the nomination were to have been held May 26.

Bentley was at one time Master in Chancery.

WON BY ST. LOUISAN.

The design submitted by Chester B. Price of St. Louis in the recent competition for the traveling scholarship of the Architectural League of America was the unanimous choice of the league's Jury of Award.

The subject of the design was "A Railroad Station for a Large City." The honor which Mr. Price has won carries with it $1200, to be spent in one year of foreign study and travel, under the direction of the Board of Directors of the league.

Mr. Price is employed by a local firm and is a student in the evening class of the Architectural Department of Washington University.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 10.—As a result of the confession of the Masonic burglar, James Barrett, central office detectives have arrested two jewelers and claim that the arrests will result in the recovery of at least $70,000 worth of stolen loot.

The men arrested are Samuel Goodman of 2589 Monroe street and Barnett Koenigsperg of 17 West One Hundred and Twelfth street, who are partners in a large jewelry store at 616 Second avenue.

Immediately after the confession was made Detective O'Farrell went to the store in Second avenue and applied for a position. He was successful in securing the place and went regularly to his work for several days, during which time he says he located $70,000 worth of stolen property. Twenty-one owners have come forward and identified articles as having been taken from their homes by burglars.

Among those identifying stolen property was W. W. Rossiter, brother of a Brooklyn railroad magnate. He positively identified a large amount of jewelry and bric-a-brac as having been taken from his home by burglars last fall.

The two men were charged with being receivers of stolen goods, and with the testimony of the Masonic burglar, the detectives expect to be able to uncover the most extensive operations of any "fence" that has been discovered by the police in many years.

HEAVYWEIGHTS IN COURTHOUSE FIGHT

Husband and Man Interested in Divorce Suit Pummel Each Other.

Rudolph Harris, proprietor of a hotel in St. Louis, and John Winklemeier of Granite City are patching up the injuries they inflicted on each other when they fought a heavyweight contest in the corridors of the Edwardsville Courthouse during an interval in Winklemeier's divorce trial.

Each man weighs 225 pounds, and the fight had become very exciting when it was stopped by Deputy Sheriff Daech.

The contested trial of Winklemeier for divorce had been on for two days. Harris, who is said to be a friend of Mrs. Winklemeier, has been deeply interested in the case. He seemed to sympathize with Mrs. Winklemeier, and when he met the husband in the corridor Wednesday afternoon the fight followed.

JEWELRY SWINDLER HELD

Man Who Posed as Lemp Rearrested on Release.

A. L. Brown, alias Louis McDowell, confidence man who posed as William J. Lemp Jr. and was arrested for attempting to swindle a St. Louis jewelry house out of $1500 by representing himaself as one of the late wealthy brewer's family has been rearrested on his discharge from the Sing Sing, N. Y., Penitentiary. He is wanted in Chicago, Detroit and Astoria, Ore.

Brown's work was to represent himself as the son of a wealthy man and procure jewelry or money on the name. He had posed as J. Pierpont Morgan Jr. and Marcus A. Hanna Jr.

Brown was sent to the Penitentiary from St. Louis March 30, 1901, for an attemp at swindling a jewelry company. He and another prisoner leaped from the train at Glencoe, while shackled together on their way to Jefferson City. They escaped, but Brown was later recaptured, and was released from the Penitentiary June 20 1903.

In the following November he was sent to Sing Sing for swindling a New York house out of a piece of jewelry, his time for this offense expiring Wednesday.

GOOD MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Woman Asks That Daughters Be Given to Her.

Mrs. Pearl Ess wants the courts to give her children to her mother-in-law. She makes that request in her petition for divorce against William P. Ess of 2140 Chouteau avenue. She says the two children—Lauretta, 9 years old, and Edna, 7 years old—are now in the care of her husband's mother and that it has been agreed between them for the mother-in-law to keep the two girls.

She says her mother-in-law is a good woman and that the children will be better cared for than with their mother because of her inability to adequately provide for them, and asks that their custody be decreed to the husband's mother.

The couple was married in 1896 and separated in June, 1903. Mrs. Ess says her husband drove her from home at that time.

Ten (10) Drops of the Solution Made From This Little Plant, Given at Intervals of Two Hours for Three Days, Will Cure Drunkenness and Drug Addictions.

EGYPTIAN MANDRAKE ROOT AND FLOWER.

Charles C. James of St. Louis, son of Charles Balfour James, a well-known scientist of Memphis, Tenn., is in Chicago to arrange for his father to treat several typical cases of drug, alcoholic and tobacco addictions, in a prominent hospital of that city under the supervision of physicians and medical societies of Chicago.

The claim Dr. James makes for his discovery is that ten (10) drops of the solution which he uses, given at intervals of two hours for three days, will cure the most hopeless case of morphine and cocaine addictions, and given in smaller doses will cure any case of whisky or tobacco addiction. The remedy is known as Mandragorine, made from the Egyptian Mandrake. After the first dose the patient relapses into a profound slumber until the effect of the drug wears off, which requires several hours. The drug immediately strengthens and vitalizes the entire physical economy and normal functional activity is restored.

Desire for Stimulants Disappears.

When the patient awakens he feels refreshed, and after a good meal is normal and strong. The drug being antidotal, eliminative and supportive, his desire for his accustomed stimulant has disappeared, and in its place there is the most intense aversion for drugs of all kind including Mandragorine. The patient becomes a healthy normal individual and is entirely free from the demon which formerly had its grip on his vitality.

Cultivates Ravenous Appetite.

The patient awakes with a ravenous appetite, but owing to his long slumber he sleeps very little the first night. After that, however, his sleep becomes normal, functional activity is resumed and the patient rapidly gains health and strength.

After the first few doses of the drug his accustomed stimulant is withdrawn, and in spite of that the patient sinks into a peaceful slumber. An examination of the pulse shows that the heart's action is full and regular, even more so than when the man was taking the drug.

In cases of drunkenness, it is not necessary to put the patient in a comatose condition. He walks the streets like any other man, the only requirement being that he shall return at the proper time to receive another dose of Mandragorine and take a reconstructive tonic as an after treatment.

My father experimented on a man who was accustomed to taking forty drinks of whisky a day. He gave him a dose of the Mandragorine and told him to go out and drink if he so desire, but told him to come back at the proper time for another dose of the drug. The man went out and returned without having taken a drink. My father asked him if he had drunk any whisky and he said he had no desire for it.

Kills Desire for Liquor.

The drug had supplied the stimulating effect which he had been accustomed to seek in the liquor. The subsequent tonic treatment has built him up and repaired the damage done the nervous system by the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants. The man has felt no further desire for liquor since the conclusion of the treatment. The Mandragorine gave him a more delightful and satisfying stimulant than the whisky at first, but in a few days it nauseated him and he would not touch the Mandragorine, and declared that he had an equal aversion to the thought of whisky.

Although the Mandragorine stimulates the patient, it is also a tonic in its nature. It repairs the damage done the nervous system, the heart, liver and kidneys by the excessive use of drugs or alcoholic stimulants, and the patient being normally stimulated, begins to leave off his accustomed doses voluntarily and recovers his health and strength.

According to Mr. James, his father has an extensive chemical research laboratory at his country place, which is situated about twelve miles from Memphis, Tenn. He first began to use Mandragorine about twelve years ago in treating patients for nervous debility.

Mandragora, or Mandragorine, has been known to the medical profession for many years, but Dr. James was the first to discover its application and value in the treatment and cure of drug and alcoholic addictions.

A TAX-RIDDEN COUNTRY

PORTO RICO PRECEDENT

Demand for Twenty-Year Fund Is Cut Down to Five Years.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Colonial problems are coming to be a routine part of the work of the National Legislature. They vex the minds of the congressmen accustomed to deal with purely domestic affairs. In the glad days, when we were becoming a world-power, we took little heed of the added work it would mean in years to come.

Mr. Kalanianaole, the delegate from Hawaii, came here this winter, charged with the particular duty of securing from Congress an enactment to establish a fund for public work in the islands. It has proposed to set aside for a period of 20 years 75 per cent of the islands' revenue, to be used for internal improvements. The House Committee on Territories has reduced this period to five years, and made a favorable report on the bill. The committee was induced to take this action on what it conceived to be broad grounds of national policy.

When, after the Spanish War, this country assumed control of the Philippines and Porto Rico, Congress provided that no revenues should be collected from either of these possessions, except to be returned to their own treasuries. In the case of Porto Rico, where it is expected our control will be permanent, absolute free entry of all its products has been granted to our markets, and all customs dues on imports from foreign countries are paid directly into the Porto Rican treasury. The expenditure of these import duties, which amounted last year to more than $700,000, is left wholly to the island Government.

Demand Return for Revenue.

It is contended by the Hawaiians that the attitude of Congress toward Porto Rico substantially recognizes the principle that fiscal regulations designed for the States are not adapted to insular territory over-seas. Constantly to take revenues, they argue, from such a detached territory without some systematic return, cannot but result in injury.

In the case of Hawaii, we took over an established Government, which had been a separate sovereignty for three-quarters of a century. During that time Hawaii had built up its own fiscal system, with its customs receipts furnishing more than one-third the entire Government expenditures. It was claimed on behalf of Hawaii, when its organic act was before Congress, that all those revenues should be returned to the territory for its use, and it was predicted that their loss would seriously embarrass the local Government.

For five years the territory has tried the present system, with increasing difficulty. A total of $8,502,146 in local taxation has been raised by taxes on land, personalty, income tax, inheritance tax, licenses, occupation tax, stamp tax and every known form of taxation. Of this sum, approximately $850,000 has been spent for the care and maintenance of lepers. Even these means could only meet the current expenses, and, in order to build schools and necessary public works, an indebtedness of $3,874,000 has been incurred. The total per capita tax of every man, woman and child in the territory is now over $22 per annum.

The Government's Profits.

The cost of living in the Hawaiian Islands is very high, owing to the fact that all the necessities of life, including almost the entire food supplies, are imported; the cost of government in Hawaii is necessarily high, both because of the high cost of living and conseqently higher salaries, and also because of the machinery of government necessary on each separate island, and the high cost of inter-island communication.

During the five years since annexation Hawaii has paid into the Federal Treasury $6,323,462, or an average of over $1,250,000 per year. The annual cost of Hawaii to this country for collection of revenues and for Federal salaries, expenses and appropriations for this same period, except defenses, has been about $2,200,000, or an average of $440,000 per year. After deducting all payments and appropriations that have been made for the use and benefit of Hawaii the mainland Government has drawn $4,100,000 from that Territory, or a net balance of slightly over $800,000 per year, which has been shipped in gold coin to the Sub-Treasury at San Francisco.

The list of needed improvements submitted by the Hawaiians makes a total of $5,118,000, of which $788 is for school buildings and $2,400,000 for harbors.

Islanders Heavily Taxed.

For many years Hawaii has imposed upon her citizens a heavier per capita tax for schools than any State in the Union, and has expended since annexation over $2,250,000 for the maintenance and erection of school buildings. The educational problem of Hawaii is of greater magnitude than that of any other territory. Seventy per cent of the children enrolled are of other than Caucasian parentage. In order to make Hawaii a thoroughly American territory, schools must be provided for children of all nationalities. Lack of funds has already necessitated a reduction of 20 per cent in all teachers' salaries, and in those isolated islands where the cost of living is necessarily high, this reduction is keenly felt.

Financially the business man and the average citizen of Hawaii is declared to be under greater pressure today than he was in the years preceding annexation. The pending bill does not set aside this fund for the Hawaiian Treasury, nor is it available for current expenses, as in Porto Rico. It may be expended only for public works of a permanent nature, and Congress is to be in absolute control of its distribution. The 25 per cent reserved will more than meet Federal salaries and other costs of the territory to the Government, so that Hawaii will not be a charge upon the treasury.

MR. REUBEN EMERY.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Emery of Caro, Mich., aged 84 and 80 years, respectively, unite in praising Duffy's Malt Whiskey, to which they both give credit for their remarkable healthfulness and vigor.

It makes the old young, and the young strong.

MRS. SARAH EMERY.

Mr. Emery, who is nearly eighty-five years old, is as active as a boy, and takes pleasure in performing the most difficult and fatiguing work on his farm at Caro, Mich. Mrs. Emery, who is seventy-nine years of age, finds Duffy's invaluable as a tonic-stimulant and strength-builder and cheerfully testifies to the great benefit she has derived from its regular and judicious use. This comely old couple have raised a family of thirteen children, all of them healthy and sturdy.

"I am now nearly eighty-five years old, having been born in Staffordshire, England, August, 1821. I have been a very moderate drinker of intoxicants for the past sixty-four years, and have taken scarcely any medicine but Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in all that time. I have had a doctor only twice in my life, and have always been able to, and even at present, do all work necessary on my farm at Caro, Tuscola Co., Mich.

"My wife, Mrs. Sarah Emery, has also been benefited by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. She is now seventy-nine years old.

"Some years ago when Mrs. Emery was run down, our family doctor, Clark of Caro, Mich., recommended Duffy's and, after taking it for a short time, she was restored to perfect health.

"We both highly recommend the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for everyone, young and old, on account of its wonderful rejuvenating and strength-building qualities and will cheerfully answer all letters of inquiry. We are at present staying with our daughter, Mrs. Kresin, but will return to our own farm at Caro, Mich., in the spring.—REUBEN EMERY, 730 Chestnut street, Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 7, 1906."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs; they poison the body and depress the heart (quinine depresses the heart), while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is the only whiskey that is recognized as a medicine, and contains no fusel oil. This is a guarantee. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has stood severe tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist or grocer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal whiskey, and is sold only in sealed bottles—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price, $1.00. Medical booklet and doctor's advice free. RED HOT TAMALE HOWLER FINED Court Stays Punishment With Warning to Observe New Order.

SAID HE HAD TO SHOUT

Otherwise, He Contended, Customers Would Not Know He Even Existed.

Shortly before 1 a. m. Thursday, soon after the hour when, the poet tells us, "churchyards yawn and graves give up their dead," Tony Wieaneski of 711 South Broadway trudged blithely along in the neighborhood of Twelfth street and Franklin avenue, carrying a smoking can and shouting at the top of his voice:

"Hot tamales! R--r-red hot!"

Policeman McDermott heard the resounding cries and, remembering that there was a new police order forbidding hot tamale men thus to announce their wares after 9 p. m., he immediately arrested the vociferous peddler. Wiesneski was up a few hours later in the Dayton street police court before Judge O'Hallaron, who is serving in the place of Judge Pollard.

"You were shouting 'Hot tamales!' at 1 o'clock this morning?" asked the Court.

"I was, Your Honor."

"Didn't you know there was an order prohibiting such action?"

"Yes, Your Honor."

"Then why did you disobey that order?"

"Because, Your Honor, if I didn't holler, nobody would know I was in the neighborhood, and I wouldn't sell a solitary hot tamale. I've got to holler or starve."

In spite of this defense, however, Wiesneski was fined $5, the fine being stayed on payment of $3 and costs. His is the first case under Chief Gillaspy's new 9 o'clock anti-hot-tamale curfew rule.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Kidnaping his own wife from the man who, it is alleged, destroyed his home and eloped from London to Chicago with the woman, is the charge E. T. Schlizzi makes against Charles R. Mitchell, a millionaire clothing manufacturer of the English capital.

Schlizzi, who was a prominent society man of London, and the possessor of a fortune, fell in love with Mitchell's wife, whom he met frequently in England, and two months ago they fled together to Chicago.

Mitchell immediately put the case in the hands of private detectives, and when informed that the pair had been located in New York he sailed on the first steamer. There the trace was lost. Last week he found the trail again in Cleveland, and in that city learned that his wife and her companion had left for Chicago.

Schlizzi and the woman were located at 898 Bowen avenue, and Mitchell laid plans for abducting his wife. Last night he had a carriage waiting, and as Schlizzi left the house Mitchell drove to the gate and called for the woman. When she responded he carried her bodily to the rig and gave the word to the driver, who immediately dashed off at top speed.

When Schlizzi returned he was told of the abduction, but efforts to find trace of Mitchell and his wife are fruitless. He then notified the police of the Hyde Park Station and asked that Mitchell be arrested for kidnaping.

Ideal Business and Pleasure Trip.

Round trip summer tourist tickets from St. Louis to world-famed seashore resorts of Atlantic Coast, Long Island, and summer havens of New England, including Philadelphia or New York stopovers, will be sold over Pennsylvania lines daily from June 1 to Sept. 30, good returning until Oct. 31. Complete information freely given upon request addressed to J. M. Chesbrough, General Passenger Agent, St. Louis.

HONOR FOR DR. MILLS.

St. Louis Minister for Head of Missionary Society.

Rev. Dr. Charles S. Mills, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Church, is likely to be elected president of the Congregational Home Missionary Society, according to reports which have reached St. Louis from Oak Park, Ill., where the society is now in session.

The society is one of the largest missionary organizations in the United States, and supports wholly or in part hundreds of small churches, chiefly in the West, and many academies and seminaries.

Dr. Mills has been chairman of the Reorganization Committee appointed at the last meeting of the society, and it is anticipated that his election to the presidency will follow the acceptance of his committee's report He is now in Oak Park, which is a Chicago suburb, attending the meeting. A dispatch from Chicago says that the reorganization plan was adopted by the votes of Western delegates over the opposition of those from the East.

Since coming to St. Louis from Cleveland one year ago, Dr. Mills has greatly built up Pilgrim Church, and has led in the raising of money for the new $190,000 edifice which is soon to be built at Union boulevard and Kensington avenue

Thought Horse Ran Away.

George Granson, chauffeur for George M. Wright, who drove past deputies attempting to arrest him for exceeding the speed limit in St. Louis County, and who was later arrested on a warrant charging that offense, declares he thought Deputy Sheriffs Moss and Baker were trying to stop a runaway horse when they presented themselves in the road for the purpose of stopping him. He says he was not exceeding the speed limit.

LUMBERMEN ADJOURN.

National Convention Elects Two St. Louisans.

President, William Irvine, Chicago; vice-president, R. A. Long, Kansas City; secretary, George K. Smith, St. Louis; treasurer, J. A. Freeman, St. Louis.

The convention will meet next year in Norfolk, Va. Resolutions were passed to increase the fund for installing a chair of forestry at Yale from $55,000 to $150,000. A resolution was also adopted protesting against the raising of minimum car weights.

Victor H. Beckman, secretary of the Pacific Coast Lumber and Manufacturers' Association, said that the State of Washington could supply all the lumber needed for rebuilding San Francisco. He said 1,000,000,000 feet would be needed and that 250,000,000 had already been shipped to San Francisco.

Synod Begins Session.

The Missouri district of the German Evangelical Synod began its annual meeting Thursday at St. Peter's Church, Fourteenth and Carr streets. Rev. Dr. Paul Allrich of St. Charles is presiding.

CUPID AT THE POLLS.

Election Judge's Wedding Set for Balloting Day.

When voters of the Tenth Precinct of the Eleventh Ward go to the polls June 12 and ask if they are permitted to vote there on the bond issue, Joseph L. Hornsby, Judge of Election, will probably reply, solemnly and reverently, "I do." Further questions of voters will probably bring out other seemingly irrelevant answers, all of which will be found to belong to the marriage ceremony.

Mr. Hornsby is cited by a seemingly irrevocable decree to be judge of election in the precinct on the same day when he is to be married to Miss Louise M. Shaw.

He will appeal to the Board of Election Commissioners to let him off, but it is the established practice of the board to excuse no one from service except when actually incapacitated by sickness.

Mr. Hornsby is former President of the City Council.

MRS. PIPER PROSTRATED.

Well-Known St. Louis Singer Lost Oldest Son.

Mrs. Ruby Shotwell Piper, a former St. Louis society girl, who two months ago appeared as soloist at the Amphion Club concert at the Odeon, is seriously ill at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, following the death of one of her sons and the serious illness of another. Mrs. Selwyn C. Edgar of 4839 Lindell boulevard, a sister of Mrs. Piper, is in New York with her.

After the Amphion concert here Mrs. Piper hurried to New York to start on a Southern tour with the New York Symphony Orchestra, but was forced to cancel her engagements because of the illness of her 7-year-old son George with scarlet fever. When he became convalescent his older brother James, aged 9, contracted diphtheria and died.

Benefit for Deaf Home.

James H. Cloud, principal of the Gallaudet Public School for the Deaf, will give a reading from "Julius Caesar" at 1210 Locust street Friday at 8 p. m. for the benefit of the proposed Missouri Home for the Deaf. The reading will be in the sign language.

KAISER SLAPS AT ITALY AND HITS AUSTRIA

THE ALGECIRAS RESULT

Calls Country "Second," Which of Course Means Rank Below Germany.

NOT IN GOOD FAITH

William's Diplomatic Machinery Is Now Opposing Country He Felicitates.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

VIENNA, May ..—"You have proved yourself a brilliant second on the dueling ground, and you may be certain of a similar service from me in a like case."

In this sensational manner the Emperor William has expressed his readiness to stand by Austria in return for the loyalty of that country to Germany's claims at the Morocco Conference.

The words occur in one of those telegrams by which the Kaiser periodically gives a start to the world, and which he has in the present instance addressed to Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian Minister for Foreign Affairs. The full text is as follows:

"At the moment when, with the consent of your most gracious master, I am sending the Grand Cross of the Order of the Red Eagle to Count Welsersheimb in thanks for his successful efforts at Algeciras, I am impelled to express to you from my heart my sincere thanks for your unshaken support of my representatives—a fine act of the true ally.

"You have proved yourself a brilliant second on the duelling ground, and you may be certain of a similar service from me in a like case.

"WILLIAM, IMP. REX."

Slap at Italy.

The latest exhibition of royal impulsiveness has placed Austria in an unpleasant position. Moreover, it is felt that the telegram is intended not so much as a compliment to Austria as a shot directed at Italy. Though an ally of Germany and Austria, Italy had the resolution to take independent action at the conference, in opposition to Germany's aims.

Some of the Austrian newspapers have speculated on the effects of the findings of the conference in their relation to the Near Eastern question. If the geographical claims of France and Spain secure to those countries special political rights in Morocco, it is argued that the same rule might be applied to Macedonia. In such a similar case, it is asked, would Germany stand by Austria?

Cynics who take the view that the telegram is only another instance of the Kaiser's irrepressible love of sensationalism, point out that Germany is at the moment of its appearance using every weapon in her diplomatic armory to prevent Austria from sharing the orders for artillery required by the Servian Government.

Not Dignified to Austria.

It is suggested that at best the Kaiser's eulogy does not place Austria in a dignified position in the eyes of Europe, as, according to the telegram, she only figured as a "second" of whom Germany was pleased to make a gratifying use.

What the Kaiser really wished to do was to read a lesson to Italy for deserting the Triple Alliance at the conference. On this point an article in the Neue Freie Presse—a journal which, though published in Vienna, is a German newspaper—throws a curious light.

Germany, says the Freie Presse, has no cause to thank Italy as she has thanked Austria for services rendered at Algeciras. It then proceeds to point out that neither the Kaiser nor the city of Berlin has sent a message of sympathy for the sufferers from the eruption of Vesuvius!

Such an attitude on the part of the Emperor of a civilized State would appear incredible if it were not for the color given to it by His Majesty's telegram and by the suggestion itself, which is made by a newspaper inspired by the German Foreign Office.

SHOT AT PROWLER.

Boarding House Keeper Found Man in Hall.

The police are investigating the firing of four pistol shots by A. G. Lindsay of 2652 Washington avenue at a man who jumped through an open window on the first floor of Lindsay's boarding house and disappeared west on Washington avenue at 9:30 Wednesday night.

Lindsay told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that he did not go to work Wednesday night as usual and heard a noise in the hall near his door. He says he stepped into the hall and a man ran.

Thinking him a sneak thief Lindsay says he pursued him, shooting as he ran. Lindsay declares that his boarding house has been ransacked by thieves three times in the four years he has conducted it.

Lindsay is a railroad man and works at night in East St. Louis. His wife and family live at the Washington avenue house.

WALLACE HAS A JOB.

CHICAGO, May 10.—John F. Wallace, former chief engineer of the Panama Canal, today announced that he had accepted the presidency of the Electric Properties Co.

The organization, recently incorporated in New York, is, according to Mr. Wallace, to acquire, finance and develop properties in which electricity plays the principal part.

Tea for Tenements.

Seven hundred invitations have been issued for a charity tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Emil J. Kramer, 4517 Forest Park boulevard, Tuesday afternoon, May 22, for the benefit of the Tenement Committee Fund. Two other large entertainments are being arranged by the committee to take place in the near future.

Funeral Directors Depart.

The Missouri Funeral Directors' Association will hold its next annual meeting in Kansas City. This was the decision of the convention at its last session Wednesday, when the following officers were elected: President, E. H. Day, Fredericktown; vice-president, J. W. White, Springfield; secretary, C. A. Schoene, Milan; treasurer, Frank C. Haley Jr., Louisiana.

NEW STATE CODE VERY LIKE OLD

Mississippi Legislature Favored Corporations, but Made Few Radical Changes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JACKSON, Miss., May ..—The final adjournment of the Legislature of 1906 will undoubtedly cause a general feeling of relief throughout the State. While the session has been one of the longest in the history of the State, there was some cause for this, and although nothing radical was done in making the new code, yet there were many radical suggestions and schemes offered which required time to successfully combat.

Slight changes were made here and there in code chapters, to correct deficiencies in the law which had been found to exist by experience. Hard fights wer made over the chapter on corporations and the chapter on revenue, and in both of these cases, after the most strenuous efforts to introduce radical changes, the Legislature voted them down and adhered to the old law.

One new feature introduced by the Legislature is the Department of Immigration and Agriculture, which was created at the instance of the Mississippi Cotton Association, but in the hasty preparation of the bill carrying the appropriation for this department, a mistake was made in calling it the Department of Agriculture and Commerce, so that while the department is created, no money is available for it, and it can not be established until the next session.

One significant change affecting railroads, and probably affecting also the interests of the Western Union Telegraph Co., was the provision in the chapter on corporations authorizing telephone companies to erect their lines on railroad rights of way.

Altogether, the spirit of the new legislation is somewhat more liberal toward corporations than heretofore. The limit on corporate holdings was raised and the efforts to heavily increase the privilege taxes on them was defeated. The insurance laws were much more liberal, though the laws against trusts and combines were left as binding as ever. In fact, by the passage of the Fire Prevention Bureau bill, modeled on the Louisiana law, the Legislature showed more liberality than the insurance men really expected. But this bill failed to become law, as it will sleep in the Governor's office for two years.

In the matter of appropriations, no fixed policy seemed to prevail, the Legislature showing extravagance in some directions and parsimony in others. The total appropriations for the session, covering the next two years, all things considered, will amount to nearly $7,500,000, and the Legislature did not provide sufficient revenue to meet this outlay, but proposes to swap part of the deficit over to the next succeeding Legislature. The Governor is authorized to borrow as much as $300,000 in the next two years, and there are many who think the treasury will need every cent of this money. This will create a debt for the next ensuing session to pay.

About Fly Time.

The busy Fly will be in on you before many days. Be prepared to receive him with your screens, but before you put them up give them a coat of OCCIDENTAL SCREEN PAINT. It will increase their life more than twofold, which pays many times for the small amount expended for the paint, made especially thin so the meshes will not be stopped up. Call and be convinced that this is a measure of economy.

NO PARDON FOR KNOBEL.

Efforts of Sister Who Convicted Him Unavailing.

Efforts of Miss Lulu Knobel of St. Louis to procure from Gov. Folk a pardon for her brother, Joseph Knobel, who was sent to the Penitentiary on her testimony, have proven of no avail.

Knobel was sentenced to prison for 10 years for killing Mathew Langendorf at a party at 2208 Cherokee street in the summer of 1903. Practically the only witness against him was his sister, Lulu, who testified that she heard her brother say he had killed Knobel.

Since he has been in the Penitentiary, the girl has made an affidavit that she swore falsely at the trial, and that she did not hear him say he fired the shot. She said she was compelled by her sweetheart to testify against her brother.

RUSSIAN DUMA PLEASES PEASANTS.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 5.—Roditcheff, the leader of the Constitutionalist party, in an interview said:

"The chances for a new revolution in Russia are not many, as long as the rights accorded remain intact. You see the peasants will keep quiet as long as they have their Duma. They put all their hope in the Duma. They think it will accomplish wonders."

"Do you not fear that the Duma will be dissolved because of the many Liberals and Socialists elected?" suggested the interviewer.

"No, the Government knows that the peasants love the Duma with a fanatic love. Dissolving the Duma would mean suicide for the Government, because the peasants would defend the Duma with their lives."

TREMBLERS ALTER YELLOWSTONE MAP

Park Region Disturbed Constantly Since Vesuvius and Frisco Disasters.

NEW GEYSERS SPOUTING

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CODY, Wyo., May 10.—Volcanic activity has worked great changes in the wonders of Yellowstone Park since the eruption of Mount Vesuvius and the earthquake in San Francisco.

The whole region is in a constant state of disturbance now and a new map of its features must be made.

The first tourists of the season to pass through the park have just reached Cody and told of changes. They say that the park and continguous territory are constantly trembling. New springs are breaking out on all sides. Geysers that had been supposed to be extinct for hundreds of years have renewed their activity and are throwing streams of hot water high in the air.

The old geysers have greatly increased their flow. "Old Faithful," so called because it could be depended upon to hurl its stream in the air once every 65 minutes, is in an almost constant state of eruption. The Excelsior geyser, which has generally become active once in eight years, is also shooting, while "The Giant," which throws its stream over 200 feet into the air, is going almost all the time.

The increased flow of water from these spouters has been so great that the Yellowstone and Shoshone Rivers at their headwaters are almost filled to overflowing.

Some of the tourists were severely frightened by the evidences they saw of volcanic activity and were glad to get out of the park. They reported that almost all the wild animals had forsaken it since the disturbances began, seeking shelter in the forests around about.

DETECTIVE DROPS CASE, IS SLAIN

Game Warden's Body Found Two Months After He Disappeared.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 5.—The finding of the body of Selee Houk, deputy game and fish warden of this district, sunk in the Mahonig river, near Hillsville, has created more discussion than any murder which has occurred in Lawrence County in many years.

Houck was in his glory. He went to trifle light-headed in his desire to be a detective, and considered himself the living image of Sherlock Holmes. At the same time he was absolutely fearless. Although he knew there were men in this county who had sworn to murder him, he never feared to go anywhere to make an arrest, and he always traveled the woods alone looking for poachers.

He arrested dozens of Italians for dynamiting fish, shooting without license, or shooting out of season. Alien hunters suffered at his hands, and these were the ones who had sworn to kill him.

When City Treasurer John Blevins was murdered in his office in 1899, Houk was in his glory. He went to work on the case, and labored for a couple of weeks. What he learned was never made public.

Suddenly he ceased all work on that or any other case. He never disturbed himself much since about working, and it has been a persistent rumor that he learned enough to make it unnecessary for him to work any more.

Last winter Houk was convicted of assault and battery on an Italian boy he had caught fishing. He applied for a new trial and it was refused. He was ordered to appear for sentence in March, and on March 2 he disappeared. It was supposed he had jumped his bail.

The head was partly shot off, and his overcoat was tied about his head and filled with stones to hold the body under water. He left property in this city, but no near relatives.

LONDON, May 5.—In connection with the Essex and Suffolk Fire Office Bill, now before a committee of the House of Lords, it has been ascertained that one man has been insured with the office for 82 years, and has never once had occasion to make a claim.

IN SOCIETY

Notices of social events intended for publication in the Sunday Post-Dispatch should reach the Post-Dispatch office not later than noon of the Friday preceding.

Among the most pleasant affairs of the week was Miss Violet Thatcher's linen shower to her niece, Miss Marian Desloge, whose marriage to J. Hayes-Campbell will take place June 7. The house decorations were lilies. Mr. Hayes-Campbell is a chemist, whose home is near Cincinnati, where the couple will live. Among the guests Tuesday were: Mmes. Eugene Fusz, Charles O'Malley of New York, James Loker, Firmin Fusz, William B. Kinealy, Thomas Bell, Ben Lewis and Cooke, and Misses Jane and Marian Desloge, Constance Smith, Louise Soker, Coppinger, Helen Schlaefly, Josephine Cobb, Louise Jamieson and Mrs. Dan Donovan and Gertrude Moore Ring.

The marriage of Miss Emma Charlotte Boehrer and Mr. George Graul was celebrated Wednesday evening at the Church of the Good Shepherd. Miss Boehrer is the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Boehrer, at whose home a reception followed the church service. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Boehrer, as maid of honor. The bride wore a robe of white hand-embroidered French mull, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. Her tulle veil was caught by bridal blossoms and she carried white roses and valley lilies. Her only ornament was a pearl and diamond brooch, given to her by Mr. Graul. Miss Minnie Boehrer wore white lace and organdy and carried pink sweet peas. The bridegroom had as his best man Dr. Henry Graul, his brother. The bride was given away by her brother, Albert Boehrer. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Graul departed for the East, where they will spend several weeks. After June 1 they will be at home at their new home, 3314 Nebraska avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dedeck celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their marriage Tuesday with a reception. Musical selections, singing and dancing were indulged. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Keil, Jos. Middendorff, O. H. Zuckweiler, Clemens Keil, Ernest Osterholt, Joseph S. Keil, W. S. Reynolds, A. Schrader, Clem Middendorff, C. Jaeger; Messrs. A. H. Keil, Wm. J. Dedeck, Paul Dedeck, Ben Middendorff, Clem Dedeck; Misses Adele Siemers, Viola Dedeck, Clara Gates, Josephine O'Reilly, Pauline Wentz.

Dr. Thomas Hastey of 3521 Caroline street, a graduate of the St. Louis University, gave a stag party to his classmates Friday evening. Among the guests were: Drs. Ed Slattery, Claud Pope, Charles Murphy, M. Dundon, Thomas Gunn, Henry Friendly, Chester Fritschie, Joseph Hastey, Leo Steffen, J. Purcilla, W. Walsh, Murilla, J. Reardon, George Sociable, William Hastey, Steve Kaddy, H. Stevenson, J. Howe and F. Nolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaumberg celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary Saturday, May 5. The guests were children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Otto Hirzel, formerly of Clayton, departed Tuesday for her home in Fulton, Ky., after a visit of several weeks with her father, L. J. Dryden of St. Louis.

Mrs. Frank MacCoy of Chicago is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Goodlett of 5367 Cabanne avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Niemeyer have returned from their Southern bridal journey and will be guests at the Hamilton Hotel for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Niemeyer will shortly depart for Mexico City.

Invitations have been issued for a recital by Mrs. Irene Critchfield-Dobyne, Miss Elizabeth Parks, Miss Stella Bigelow, Miss Pearl Hyman, Mrs. Gertrude Dunning-Quarles, Mrs. Vetta-Karst, Miss Clara Wuellner, Miss Ruth Finkenbiner and Laurence Doering. The recital will be given Friday at 8 p. m. in the Musical Art uBilding.

Miss Jeannette McClanaghan, who has been the guest of Mrs. Robert Bostick of Delmar boulevard, was the guest of honor at a charming river party given Wednesday afternoon on the Albermatla, the pretty yacht of George Johnson. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock on board. Miss McClanaghan, who formerly lived in St. Louis, where she was one of the leading soprano singers, now makes her home in Washington, D. C., where she has been successful in her work. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bostick, Rev. Dr. Bradley and Mrs. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. George Johns, Mrs. Murray French, Miss McDearmon, Miss Floyd Shock, Miss Battle of Tennessee, Mrs. Silas Lewis, Miss Alice Hough, Miss Mary Means, Mrs. Norman Jones, Miss Lucille Howard and Miss Walker.

The Union Musical Club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Philip Moon Saturday. This organization has been unusually successful this year, and this meeting is for the purpose not only of electing the officers for the coming year, but also to celebrate their success. Mrs. James Garetson, Mrs. William Alofe, Miss Couter and Mrs. Wallace Montague will assist Mrs. Moore.

Invitations were issued Tuesday by Mrs. Isaac Morton of Vandeventer place for the wedding of her daughter, Miss Janet Morton, and Harold Kauffman. The wedding will take place Tuesday, May 22, at 5 p. m., at the Church of the Messiah. There will be a reception at the home of Mrs. Morton and later Mr. Kauffman will take his bride for an Eastern honeymoon journey.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Little have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Louise Little, to Carey Wiesinger. This wedding will be one of the pretty home marriages of the spring season. The ceremony will take place at Aldin Hall, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Little, May 19, at 5 p. m. There will be a large bridal party and the reception will include the relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom.

Miss Olivea Knipp of 8212 Minnesota avenue entertained the members of the Cacelian Singing Society of St. Boniface's Church with a broken heart party Sunday evening. Refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses K. Zettwoch, A. Boesen, L. Winkleman, M. Fleck, C. Bauer. Messrs. C. Debo, A. Bauer, H. Reker, P. Todt, M. Feik, A. Demmer, B. Gauchat, M. Oestieck, O. Knapp, A. Helfrich, C. Beesle, T. Sneads, C. Garnett, G. Weiss.

The Carlyle Club surprised Miss Dollie Schiwitz Saturday evening at her home, 1108 West Loughborough avenue. The members present were. Misses Hazel Ovens, Edmee Bokern, Minnette Frey, Dollie Schiwitz, Stella Nelson, Mamie Leube, Salome Weil, Mamie Kempfer and Grace Smith; Messrs. H. Uhlenhaut, C. Kunpinger, P. Mueller, J. Schmidt, H. Miller, W. P. Lupfer, J. M. Lyons, W. Menke and P. E. Bolstein.

Miss Florence Longstreth is in New York with her aunt, Mrs. Roth. Miss Longstreth, who was one of the pretty debutantes of last winter, has been the guest of friends at Point Comfort for the past month.

Mrs. T. W. Wood entertained the card club of which she is a member at her home on West Pine boulevard, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Wood was assisted by her daughter, Miss Jessie Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Marquis Sr. and their family have given up their home on Delmar boulevard and taken possession of their new residence at 5327 Waterman avenue.

Mrs. George Ellis of Minneapolis, Minn., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. P. Meisinger of 4038 West Belle place.

Physicians to Try X-Zalia.

A St. Louis physician dropped into Judge & Dolph's yesterday and bought a bottle of X-Zalia. He told the nurse that he had read of this healing liquid in a medical journal. He wished to try it and if satisfactory intended to use it in his practice.

FELL DEAD AT DOOR.

Belleville Man Dies While Calling at Stepson's Home.

Nicholas Schmittling, aged 66, of 316 South Richland street, Belleville, dropped dead Thursday morning at the home of his stepson, Conrad Bruch, on the Shiloh road, near town.

Mr. Schmittling had gone to the home of his stepson to tell his son, Charles, that he was wanted to go to work in one of the foundaries in Belleville. He fell to the floor as he entered the house and never recovered consciousness, dying a few minutes later. Coroner Irwin was notified and the Coroner's jury found that death was due to heart failure.

The funeral will be held at St. Peter's Church at 9 a. m. Saturday. Burial will be at Greenmount Cemetery.

BARDENHEIER'S GENUINE MAY WINE IN SOCIETY

That Delicious, Refreshing and Exhilarating Beverage

For Parties, Balls, Receptions and all social gatherings.

It can be served direct from original bottle or from a punch bowl as preferred

Directions for serving from punch bowl: Into a large bowl pour the necessary number of bottles of our genuine May Wine (The J. B. Brand), add a large piece of ice (or a better plan is to surround the bowl with ice), then decorate with strawberries, sliced oranges and pineapple, and it is ready for the most fastidious taste.

Use fresh fruits, as preserved fruits will not float. Serve with a strawberry in each glass. (Illustrative Booklet mailed free)

Ask your grocer or dealer for genuine May Wine, "The J. B. Brand."

At Crown Dental Parlors, 800 Olive St., Opp. Post Office

LOOSE TEETH

The most dread disease to the dental profession is pyorrhea, commonly known as scurvy. In this disease the gums have become congested and recede from the teeth, causing them to become loose and in time to fall out. Some dentists recommend the "pulling cure," causing many to wear plates unnecessarily. I successfully treat this disease, tighten the teeth, relieve irritation and pus formations, and where there are two or three teeth in each jaw, build a full set of artificial teeth around them that will look like and answer all purposes of natural teeth.

Dr. Hunter makes teeth without plates and regulates irregular and crooked teeth.

Free Consultation, Examination and advice.

OFFICE HOURS: 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Daily. Sundays, 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

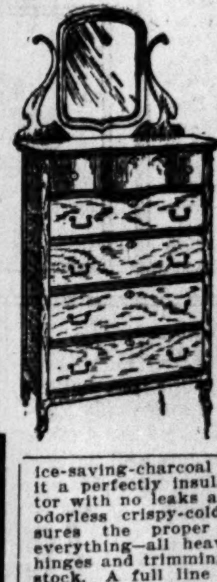
LANGAN & TAYLOR'S LOW RENT—LOW PRICES

The truth will out. Wise women know now that our low-rent, low-price claims are not mere advertising talk, but hard, fast statements of facts. All St. Louis is rapidly learning that on 18th and Washington there is a store that sells everything a home needs—bright, fresh home beautifiers—for 25 per cent less than downtown stores can sell for. YOU will begin to save money just as soon as you begin to realize this.



$11.25 for $25.00 Chiffonier

A most impressive piece of Furniture; luxuriously constructed of Flaked Golden Oak, highly finished; top drawer made with serpentine swell front; solid brass colonial model handles and knobs; beautifully mounted French bevel-plate mirror, 16x20 in. Downtown stores have to charge $25.00 for this Chiffonier.

$5.75 For Famous $10.00 New Frigid Refrigerators.

The celebrated $10.00 Frigid Refrigerators are lined with genuine zinc of heavy quality (not tin, as is the case with nearly all $10.00 and lower-priced refrigerators)—can be thoroughly cleaned in a twinkling; every part being removable—adjustable shelves made of finest kiln-dried ash, with golden oak finish with double wall lined with special ice-saving-charcoal fiber, making it a perfectly insulated refrigerator with no leaks and a dry, pure, odorless crispy-cold air that assures the proper "keeping" of everything—all heavy cast bronze hinges and trimmings. Only 11 in stock. A full line of other sized and priced refrigerators in stock.

NO SPECIAL INDORSEMENT

Meeting Puts All Improvements Provided for on Equal Footing.

President Forman of the City Council who has been selected as chairman of the citizens committee organized at the Merchants Exchange to conduct the campaign in behalf of the $11,200,000 bond issue, providing for a free municipal bridge and other improvements, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that an immediate effort will be madae to interest every political, religious, civic, commercial and social organization in St. Louis in the special bond issue election to be held June 12. Thirty days remaian for the campaign.

"I have not yet been officially notified of my election," said Mr. Forman, "but I can say now that I shall probably accept the responsibility imposed on me by the gentlemen who attended yesterday's meeting. I ought to have been there myself. The fact is that I was at the ball game.

"But from now on I shall attend no more amusements. If St. Louis is to carry this election every man must make himself a missionary in the cause.

"We need unity and harmony. There is no reason why we shouldn't have both.

"Victory in the bond issue election means much to St. Louis. Defeat will simply humiliate our civic pride. Just as soon as I can meet Mr. McPheeters who presided at yesterday's meeting I shall begin the selection of an executive committee of 15 to assist in the work."

No Special Endorsements.

There was some difference of opinion at Wednesday's meeting as to the advisability of emphasizing the importance of the free bridge project in the proposed bond issue. But even the free bridge advocates, with the exception of Sheridan Webster and one or two others, who came as individuals and not as representatives of organizations, declared against such action.

Considerable discussion was aroused by the introduction of a resolution by Sheridan Webster pledging support to the bond issue and concluding with a specific indorsement of the free bridge proposition.

Former Attorney-General Crow moved an amendment to this resolution by striking out the reference to the free bridge.

United Action Plan by Crow.

"I have been as anxious as anyone to secure a free bridge," said Mr. Crow. "But we are now face to face with a proposition, which includes other needed improvements as well.

"We want all the bond issue propositions to go through. We are not seeking an advantage in the coming election. If we are to win we must stand shoulder to shoulder and give one proposition as much support as the other."

Victor Sarber, representing the International Machinists Union, and F. H. Gerhart of the Joint Free Bridge Committee said they thought the committee should make a specific declaration on the free bridge question.

Attorney Crow's motion was then put and carried by a vote of 16 to 12. As thus amended the Sheridan resolution read as follows:

"Resolved, That this meeting, as constituted by the rollcall, declare its purpose to be to advocate effectively the adoption by the voters of each of the separate propositions submitted in the bond ordinance."

Friction also developed in the selection of permanent officers.

Richmond Declines Office.

Manufacturers' Association, and others, suggested Manley G. Richmond, president of the Merchants' Exchange, to manage the campaign of the Citizens' Committee. Mr. Richmond declined the honor, but his friends refused to listen.

Finally Mr. Crow, who is closely identified with the Joint Free Bridge Committee, suggested that since Mr. Richmond did not desire to accept, Mr. Forman, who had worked industriously in the Municipal Assembly for the bond ordinance and was familiar with every detail of the work, be chosen for the place.

The question then arose as to the right of the committee to select for office a person not a member of the organization. This difficulty was obviated by a resolution declaring any citizen eligible.

Arthur B. Barret of the Joint Free Bridge Committee was made secretary of the organization and John F. Nolde treasurer.

Committee of Fifteen.

Chairman Forman was instructed to appoint an Executive Committee of 15 whose duty it will be to direct the active campaign work.

The meeting was called at the instance of the Civic League and was presided over by Thomas S. McPheeters, chairman of that organization.

Before he took the chair Mr. McPheeters in conversation said that the position of the Civic League on the bond issue in its entirety had been misunderstood.

League Favors Whole Plan.

"The league is in favor of all the propositions involved in the bond ordinance," said Mr. McPheeters.

"The only reason the organization did not indorse the free bridge was that we thought this mater outside of the province of the league. Possibly we made a mistake. At any rate, we are going to fight for the bond issue. If we do not fight harmoniously for all the propositions, a free bridge as well as municipal improvements, we will simply be snowed under. We cannot afford to have factional differences."

After Mr. McPheeters had taken the chair he emphasized the necessity of harmony and was applauded when he declared that although slight differences might exist among those present, he knew that all were heartily in favor of the bond issue.

The various organizations represented at the meeting were as follows:

R. M. Baker, Building Trades Council; J. E. Smith, Business Men's League; E. J. McCullen, Central Trades and Labor Union; T. S. McPheeters, Mayo Fesler, Civic League; H. C. Whitney, Implement and Vehicle Board of Trade; F. Ernest Cramer, Latin-American Club; M. G. Richmond, Merchants' Exchange; Colin M. Selph, Million Population Club; J. F. O. Reller, North St. Louis Business Men's Association; Dr. H. W. Bartscher, North St. Louis Citizens' Association; Herman Mauch, Retail Jewelers' Association; Carles P. Senter, Cotton Exchange; L. D. Kingsland, Manufacturers' Association; F. H. Gerhart, Real Estate Exchange; H. G. Craft, Millers' Club; W. J. Hartig, Southwestern Mercantile Association; C. F. Ziebold, West End Business Men's Association; E. C. Crow, Twentieth Ward Improvement Association; W. H. Lighty, Carr Place Improvement Association; W. F. Eckleman, Eleventh Ward Improvement Association; John F. Nolde, Tenth Ward Improvement Association; J. J. O'Connor, Central Improvement Association; F. E. Schutze, Harney Heights Association; L. C. Irvine, Joint Committee on Free Bridge Bond Issue; R. H. Robinson, Electrical Contractors' Association; J. L. Mauran, Round Table Club; C. G. Knox, University Club; A. B. Barret, Citizens' Free Bridge and Improved Terminals Association; Eugene Sarber, International Association of Machinists, F. S. Kowalski, Workingmen's Folk Club; Dr. Siebert, Tower Grove Turnverein; Sheridan Webster, Public Sentiment Club.

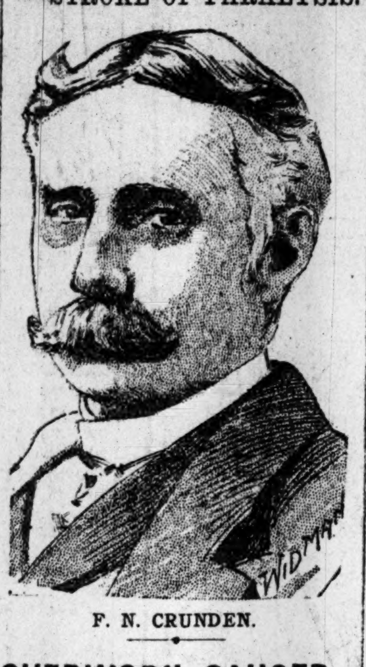
J. E. Smith, president of the Business Men's League, left before the meeting adjourned. It was remarked as he went out that Mr. Smith was bored by the talkativeness of some of the members. Mr. Senter then explained that Mr. Smith had an appointment that needed his attention; otherwise he would have remained until the close of the meeting.

"All of us didn't get what we want," said L. D. Kingsland after the meeting, "but a great many who attended today were strangers, and I think we did pretty well, all things considered.

"We have an organization. Now let us get down to work. The quibbling period has passed. What we require is work, effective campaign work. I am sure if we all pull together we will surely win."

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

LIBRARIAN ILL WITH STROKE OF PARALYSIS.



F. N. CRUNDEN.

OVERWORK CAUSED CRUNDEN'S STROKE

Public Librarian in New York Sanitarium Suffering From Paralysis.

The condition of Frederick M. Crunden, Public Librarian, stricken with paralysis in New York, is causing his friends and relatives in St. Louis alarm. His brother, F. P. Crunden, who was with him until April 28, is prepared to return East at a moment's notice. The proposed tour to Italy of Librarian Crunden and his wife has been entirely abandoned.

Mr. Crunden has been failing in health for more than a year. His intimates and relatives say that he has worked for about four years with little or no vacation, and that he is overworked. He left St. Louis with the intention of visiting Italy and recuperating there before a tour of Switzerland. He was to have sailed from New York April 20, but became ill before that time.

Last Thursday Mr. Crunden suffered the paralytic stroke. He was removed to a sanitarium at 26 West Sixty-first street, where he is being cared for by Dr. Albertus A. Moore and Dr. Patterson, the latter a specialist. The physicians say the patient has an equal chance for recovery.

Mr. Crunden is one of the best-known librarians in the United States. His connection with the St. Louis Public Library dates back 25 years, when it was known as the Public School Library. Under his management, the Public School Library ranked among the great public libraries of the country. It was through his tireless and persevering effort that the free public library was finally established in St. Louis.

Mr. Crunden for several years has been president of the American Library Association, and is widely known for his advanced ideas on economical, political and sociological subjects. Before his appointment as librarian he was a teacher in the High School. In his earlier years he was interested in amateur theatricals.

It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Crunden that the city obtained Andrew Carnegie's gift of $1,000,000 for a public library system. He planned the system and did much toward obtaining the site for the main library at Thirteenth and Olive streets.

ALLEGE SPIER ROBBED ROGERS OF LARGE SUM

Claim Oil Magnate's Agent, Mysteriously Shot, Died an Embezzler.

WIFE THE BENEFICIARY?

Hypothecated Securities Were Transferred to Her, It Is Charged.

SUICIDE THEORY STRONG

Fatal Bullet Fits Pistol He Carried—Was Heavily Insured.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Charles L. Spier, who was shot mysteriously in his home Monday morning, is alleged to have died an embezzler. H. H. Rogers is said to have been caught for an enormous sum through the fraudulent transactions of his personal friend and confidential agent.

Mr. Rogers was averse to discussing the matter when seen by a reporter.

"It is too early to talk of the condition in which Spier left his affairs," said he. "It is true expert accountants are going over his books and papers, and until they have completed their work it is impossible to exactly determine what results they will reach. They have thus far examined the stock books, and, while it is true suspicious conditions have been found, it will be necessary to go over the check and bank books and other papers before any authoritative statement can be made."

Mr. Rogers expressed deep sympathy with the widow and implied that there was little to be gained by publicity, even if great irregularities were found, which he seemed to believe unlikely.

Henry H. Rogers Jr. was equally averse to discussing for publication the dead man's affairs. His position, as a friend, he pointed out, was one of great delicacy, as he had acted as a pallbearer at the funeral yesterday. When told that it was public knowledge that the accounts were involved, he contented himself with the statement that the superficial examination made thus far seemed to show that such information was accurate.

Mr. Spier lived in a modest home on Staten Island with his wife, to whom he was devoted. Sunday night he awakened her, saying he thought burglars were in the house. Getting his pistol and dog, he started down the steps. One pistol shot rang out and Spier lay dead at the foot of the stairs.

No Trace of Burglar.

It was assumed that a burglar had shot him, but the police could get no trace of an intruder. All the windows were still locked when they reached the house and the doors, too, had to be unlocked to admit the neighbors who rushed to the residence. Recently life insurance policies for more than $100,000 had been taken out by the man or lapsed policies were renewed.

Still, the doctors said suicide was impossible, as no man could have shot himself as he was shot. With this mystery unraveled the widow insisted that an autopsy be not held. However, late yesterday afternoon, after the funeral services, the autopsy was held and a bullet was found that exactly fitted the one empty shell in the Spier pistol. Then the theory was evolved that Mr. Spier might have accidentally shot himself.

Spier enjoyed the full confidence of H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Co., and up to the moment of his death he was in a position to trade upon Mr. Rogers' name. Spier could have borrowed any reasonable sum from the wealthy man with whom he was in intimate contact. It would have been comparatively easy for him to obtain $100,000 in cash to meet any emergency.

He asked for no money and, so far as is known, he told nobody that he was involved in financial difficulties. On the other hand, he had never appeared more prosperous than recently. He discussed prospective investments and led many business acquaintances to suppose he was in comfortable circumstances. Those who had seen him within a week were the first to deny the possibility that he had killed himself and to insist that he must have been shot by a burglar.

Securities Hypothecated.

It is alleged by the Herald that securities belonging to Mr. Rogers were discovered to have been surreptitiously transferred to the name of Mrs. Spier. A tracer brought to light the fact that these securities, which were in the custody of Spier as a representative of Mr. Rogers, were first placed in the name of Mrs. Spier, and later hypothecated. Efforts are now being made to obtain these securities, and it is understood negotiations have already been opened by attorneys of Mr. Rogers to recover them.

There is nothing to show that Mrs. Spier had knowledge of the efforts her husband was making to keep his head above water. She probably did not know he had met enormous losses in his stock market speculation. It was a subject of comment that when securities belonging to Mr. Rogers were transferred to her name her suspicions were not aroused, particularly as an indorsement is required on hypothecating these securities.

It is not believed the indorsement was made knowingly. Assurances were given that the matter will simply rest where it now does. It is understood Mr. Rogers will assume the losses and that defalcations to the companies he controls will be made good by him.

CICERO WAS NEVER IN HUSSEY'S WARD

Heavy Statesman of Twenty-Second Says Oratory Has Him "Stopped."

WOULD EAT 'EM ALIVE

That Is His Feeling Toward Colleagues Who Offer "Sympathy."

What kind of man is Frank Hussey, member of the House of Delegates from the Twenty-second Ward? He is in the public eye just now, because he has declared oratory to be on the decline.

Is he the Demosthenes of his time? Is he the man whose flowery oratory, dramatic expression and fiery utterances might lead an enslaved people to freedom?

No, Frank Hussey, saloon keeper-statesman, will not free the people by his oratory. He will not spellbind his colleagues on the floor of the House. He admits that "that oratory business has got me stopped."

Hussey is a powerfully built fellow, the type of ward politician who might rule by inspiring fear when persuasive methods failed.

His dark eyes are kindly when in repose, but might readily signal the danger that is in the man when he is aroused. He is heavy jowled, and has every attribute of the iron-handed ward ruler. Such minor events as oratorical tourneys are taken lightly by him.

Hussey is tall without being too tall, and is built like Adonis—if the latter ancient gentleman had been fat. There is a rotundity about the waist line that changes the Adonis mould into one that Gambrinus would be proud of. He looks to be equally at home on either side of the bar.

"That oratory business has got me stopped," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at his saloon, 2318 Olive street. "If it was anything else, I'd be all right. I ain't a public speaker—wish I was.

Sympathy Begins at Home.

"Sympathy" quoth the big fellow as he read Delegate Coale's resolution providing for a holiday upon which Hussey could declaim freely from the House floor. "Sympathy, eh? Well, Coale had better keep his sympathy—he needs it for that delegation he lost in the Twenty-eighth Ward.

"Sympathy's like charity—it begins at home. He'd better keep what he's got—he needs it.

"Sympathy's cheap stuff anyway. You can't buy a round of drinks with it, can you George?" he said, turning to the barkeep.

"That reference to Demosthenes isn't worrying you, then?" he was asked.

"No, them big words never bothers me—I haven't looked that word up in the dictionary."

"You know what Plato said about public speaking?" he was asked.

"Plato," he repeated. "What ward is he fr—why, he ain't in the House of Delegates."

"He's dead now," interposed the bartender.

"They say they scared me away Tuesday night, do they? Well, they're crazy if they think that they can scare Frank Hussey away. I had something else on Tuesday night that kept me away. Them fellows never kept me away.

"I'll eat 'em alive on any voting proposition that comes up in the sessions, but I admit this public speakin' business has got me runnin' way outside the money!

Seen His Duty, Done It.

"I'm the kind of fellow that does his duty. Every time so far I seen my duty, why, I done it.

"This whole business dates back to when Jimmy Nash put Speaker O'Brien in nomination. He was sayin' what a good fellow O'Brien was and said he treated everybody alike and gave everybody a square deal.

"I up and says to Nash: 'Just speak for yourself; don't speak for all of us. O'Brien never treated me all right.'

"Somebody said maybe O'Brien was waiting for me to treat first. There was a lot of kidding about it, and it has been kept up ever since.

"I ain't a going to do any speechmakin' in the proper sense, but when I got anything to say, I'm goin' to say it. Any proposition that comes up and I see fit to talk on, I'm going to talk.

"Why, say, some of those delegates would make you sick, the way they follow the leader. They're a lot of cows, following the bell cow. Some day the bell cow will stumble over a cliff—the others will follow.

On Century Plant Committee.

"They just vote the way the leader votes. That ain't me. I have to see my duty first. All their oratory won't influence me, either.

"Not long ago they killed my resolution to regulate the speed of autos. It came up just after the Health Commissioner's auto killed the daughter of a photographer in my ward. They knew it was a good one, but they voted it down.

"They've only got me on one committee—education and labor. I call it the century plant committee. It meets once every hundred years. I don't expect to be alive the next time it blooms."

Hussey does not seem to care much whether he is a power in the House or not. He knows he is a power in the ward. He and his brother, who is Central Committeeman of the same ward, are appealed to many times during the winter months from the poorer precincts of the ward, and more than one person in need of coal or provisions has obtained them without the red tape of organizations.

UNDERGROUND PRISON WILL GO

BOARD ADOPTS PLANS

Central District Headquarters Will Have Much-Needed Elevator.

The abolition of the underground prison at the Four Courts, where all offenders are held pending the action of the authorities, was decided upon at a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners Wednesday afternoon with Building Commissioner Smith and Dr. William R. Faulkner, General Manager of Police Properties.

Plans were practically agreed upon for the new Central Police Station that will be built immediately on Twelfth street, near Clark avenue.

Probably the most important of the changes is the abandonment of the underground prison in the east end of the basement of the Four Courts building, which has been in use for almost half a century.

Another innovation will be the elevator that the builders have agreed to install. The building will contain three floors and a nine-foot basement.

The upper floor will have the office of the Chief of Police, the Inspector, the offices of the Board of Police Commissioners, the secretary, and all attaches of his office. There will be witness rooms, toilet rooms and waiting rooms.

Detective on Second Floor.

The second floor will contain the offices of the Chief of Detectives, the Assistant Chief of Police, the Inspector of the Bertillon System, and his entire department, the photograph gallery and temporary quarters for the Matron's department will be provided. There will be no separate rooms for the detectives. The main office of the Chief of Detectives and his assistant will be in one large room. The Chief and his assistant will each have small private offices.

The first floor will be devoted to the use of the Central Police District. There will be the office of the Captain and Lieutenant, and the main office of the station, presided over by three desk sergeants. Behind the office will be the calaboose, entrance to which will be through the alley on the south. The prison will be entirely above ground, with high ceilings and plenty of air. The patrol house will be in the rear.

The basement will, for the time being, provide an assembly room for the Central District. It will also contain the engine rooms and boilers.

The work of wrecking the buildings that now stand on the site of the new station house is proceeding rapidly and Dr. Faulkner thinks that work will begin on the new building by June 1. By the first of October the new building will be ready for occupancy.

Moving pictures representing the late eruption of Mount Vesuvius and the destruction of San Francisco will be the feature of an entertainment given under the auspices of the Young People's Bible Class at the First Christian Church, 3126 Locust street, Friday evening. There will also be a musical and literary program.

FIVE PATROLMEN FOR SERGEANTS

ALL WILL BE EXAMINED

Recommendations Made by Captains Will Show Their Knowledge of Men.

Lists containing the names of 150 patrolmen who, their captains say, would make first-class police sergeants if promoted, were placed in the hands of the Police Commissioners Thursday. These men will be called upon to stand examinations some time next week.

There are five vacancies to be filled in the rank of sergeant and the Board has determined to make a sort of a housecleaning in filling them. The examination is compulsory, and it will be far more rigid than was the examination Monday at the Four Courts, when 32 probationary patrolmen were promoted to the rank of patrolmen.

Thursday the examination of emergency specials at the Newstead Avenue Station to fill the vacancies caused in the ranks of the probationaries.

This examination of the patrolmen, who are declared by their captains to be eligible for the rank of sergeant, will be the first really severe test the individual members of the department have been put to since the housecleaning began.

The captains were notified last week of the vacancies in the rank of sergeant. They were told to regrade their patrolmen. They were instructed to make selections of such patrolmen who would make first-class sergeants, and to grade the other patrolmen accordingly.

The captains may not have known it, but their efficiency was in a measure being investigated when they were asked to make the recommendations. One of the things required of a captain is to recognize the qualifications of the men of his command. He is not supposed to have any favorites. If the captain has marked any patrolman for advancement who, on examination proves to be not up to the standard, the recommendation of an inferior officer will be credited against the captain making such recommendation.

The sergeants will be put through just as rigid an examination when the board is called upon to promote one of their number to the first vacancy in the rank of lieutenant, and in turn the lieutenants will be closely inspected when a vacancy occurs in the rank of captain.

OLD AND CRIPPLED ARE GIVEN WORK

CHICAGO, May 10.—The employment bureau for the aged and crippled opened yesterday and 100 gray-haired men and women, enfeebled by physical infirmities, made their way slowly to the office of the Bureau of Charities in the Unity building and gave their names to the bureau officials appointed to receive them.

Most of the applicants confessed that they were outcasts—that none would give them work—and that everywhere they had gone they had been told their days of usefulness and service were ended, that the working world held no place for them.

During the day employment at good wages was found for 20 of the lame and the aged. The others went away happy with the assurance that everything possible would be done to find work for them, and some said it was the first gleam of sunlight that had come into their lives since they crossed over from "manhood" into "old age." Men of 45 confessed that employers had told them that they were too old to be of service; the women applicants for work put the age limit at 55.

One man with heart failure was given employment as an attendant in a physician's office, and three one-legged men were given jobs as watchmen. A feeble-minded lad discovered that he could fold paper in a box factory and was employed at that occupation.

One of the men whose right leg was missing was employed at work in a factory in which the hands alone are used, and one of the men whose left leg was missing was intrusted with the work of operating a small machine which is run with one pedal.

Transfer Quarrel Cost $20.

John Donovan of 502 Kansas street was fined $20 in the City Hall Police Court Thursday morning for disturbing the peace of Fred Johnson, treasurer of Havlin's Theater. The trouble which resulted in the fining of Donovan occurred on a Cass avenue street car on May 2 and originated in a dispute over a transfer.

SALVATION ARMY'S WORK CENSURED

Speaker at Charities and Corrections Conference Declares It Poorly Organized.

MAN FROM MINNEAPOLIS

Pronounces Army's Statistics Untrustworthy and Its Accounts Poorly Kept.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—At the first business session of the Thirty-third national conference of charities and corrections today in Horticultural Hall a paper on "Relief Work of the Salvation Army" was read by Edwin D. Solenberger, general manager of the Associated Charities, Minneapolis.

He declared that the social relief work of the Salvation Army as carried on through its homes, lodging houses and other agencies was poorly organized and poorly administered. Continuing, the speaker said:

Declares Statistics Faulty.

"One of the chief difficulties in trying to arrive at definite conclusions concerning the army's work is the untrustworthiness of their statistics, probably due largely to lack of uniformity in recording and summarizing data.

about 44,508, while the [illegible] report says that outside employment was found for about 4,508, while the 1905 report says that 14,907 found outside employment and an undated leaflet says that 5000 found outside employment during the year.

"I find that somehow most people have gained the impression that the army has a large number of farm colonies, and that thousands of poor people from the slums have been transferred to them. There are at present but three colonies, one each in Ohio, Colorado and California, having a total of but 530 people. These colonists have become self-supporting, but it would be interesting to know what percentage of them, while living in the city, have ben recipients of either public or private relief, or even dwellers in what the Salvation Army calls the slums.

Censures the Lodgings.

"The Salvation Army maintains at present about seventy-four lodging houses in our various cities, furnishing beds at the rate of 10 and 15 cents a night. In its appeals for funds the army speaks of lodging thousands of homeless, and most people gain the impression that such lodgings are, in fact, at least, a charity, and that the accommodations furnished are much superior to those or the ordinary cheap lodging house, run for private profit.

"Reliable information from a large number of typical American cities indicates that the system of cheap lodging houses conducted by the Army have all the defects of the poorest of the privately owned lodging houses and few, if any, advantages over them. Recently, in an Eastern city, a Salvation Army lodging house was closed when the local Board of Health began to enforce the sanitary ordinances, while from widely separated cities come accounts of specific glaring evils.

Declares Accounts Bad.

"It is exceedingly difficult," said Solenberger, "to secure satisfactory information about the financial affairs of the Salvation Army.

"The balance sheet and statement of the accounts at national headquarters in New York City are gone over each year by a certified public accountant, but this only guarantees that the footings and the balances are correct.

"The business affairs of the Salvation Army are rapidly attaining large proportions, and those who give financial support to the organization certainly have a right to expect clear financial statements."

Former Policeman Fined.

Joseph Hosty was fined $50 and costs Thursday in East St. Louis on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Hosty was formerly on the East St. Louis police force, but was dismissed two months ago, having been accused of borrowing money from a married woman. Two weeks later he was arrested by Policeman Lehman for firing his revolver in the vicinity of this woman's house. His defense was that he was attacked by a highwayman and fired in the air to summon help.

PROBERS HEAR OF CRUELTY IN U. S. HOSPITAL

USE A NEW WATER CURE

NO MEDICAL ATTENTION

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Patients at the Government Hospital for the Insane are beaten, choked and kicked by attendants at the orders of those in charge, according to the testimony of Edgar Ball, who formerly worked there as an attendant.

The testimony before the Congressional Committee, making an investigation of conditions at the hospital, was most sensational. Ball testified that he had voluntarily resigned his place at the asylum. He said while he was employed there it was almost a daily occurrence in the ward in which he worked for some patient to be flogged with straps. He said that on one occasion Supervisor Burch had ordered him to flog a patient with a strap and that he carried out his orders.

Ball said that on days the board of visitors were to inspect the asylum he had instructions to take the inmates of the ward in which he was employed away from the hospital, over a hill, where they could not be seen by the board of visitors. In his 11 years' experience, he said, a board of visitors had never inspected his ward but once when the inmates were in the ward.

Ball said that while he was there a patient named Charles Anderson became ill.

"He was sick for five days, during which time he had absolutely no medical attendance," Ball said. "I reported the case every morning to Supervisor Burch, but nothing was done. Later the man developed typhoid fever.

"I have known as many as two weeks to go by without a doctor coming in my ward."

He said he had frequently choked patients, and that once he had choked a patient with a wet towel.

"This treatment was considered the usual thing at the hospital," he said.

Coroner Nevitt of the district said he had investigated a number of suicides at the hospital and had suggested that the number might be decreased by putting smaller gratings at the windows. This, he said, had been done.

S. Dawes Shuster, a former patient, said the food served was miserable, being of inferior quality and poorly cooked. The butter, he said, was like axle grease.

The committee will continue its investigation.

Grand Jury After Smoke.

The grand jury Thursday began the investigation of complaints that certain manufacturers in the West End are violating the anti-smoke law. Smoke Inspector Jones and several heads of large manufacturing concerns were witnesses. Residents along Manchester avenue, where there are many fire-brick, sewer pipe and steel factories, are the principal complainants.

MORE COPPER IN SENATE.

Senator Clark of Montana will not be a candidate for re-election to the Senate. It is asserted that Augustus Heinze will succeed him, a toga being part of the bargain by which peace was made among the copper kings of the State.

If such a bargain was really made it can probably be consummated. The millionaires of copper and Standard Oil have "run things" in the State for years and they haven't declined any in power or greed.

But what of the people of Montana? And the Legislature? As a money getter, Clark is a wonder. So is Heinze. As a Senator, Clark is worthless and Heinze has never exhibited any signs of talent for anything but money and fighting. Do the people of the State want to be represented by such men?

The Senate will have to receive Heinze if he makes the investment. But what will men like Bailey, Tillman, Cullom, Spooner, Lodge, Morgan, Bacon and Rayner do? They are men of honor, and it is conceivable that the appearance of another adventurer of the Clark species will considerably depress their spirits for a quarter of an hour.

Perhaps the great cost of building is keeping the city from being overbuilt. The law of compensation may work here as well as elsewhere.

WOMAN AND MANAGERS.

Miss Alice Nielsen, erstwhile comic opera prima donna and now aspiring to grand opera laurels, says, in discussing her recent troubles with managers: "You know as well as I do that managers are always glad to take advantage of a woman."

What a terrific, even though casual, indictment of the mighty magnates who cater to the tastes of the amusement-seeking public! And how almost incredible, remembering their resounding praises of the women whom they happen to be starring—"the peerless," "the unapproachable," "the unparalleled," "the greatest emotional"—and recalling the astounding sums which they are said so gladly to pay these twinkling female stars.!

Is it all a bluff? Is poor woman, boomed in public, bunkoed in private by her boomers? Is it but another phase of the war of sex against sex, with the gentler getting the worst of it, as usual? Miss Nielsen's arraignment seems to call for searching investigation. The chivalry of the most vital of arts is assailed in its very citadel.

WHO'S THE JUNIOR PARTNER

In approving the omission of the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony in the new Presbyterian "Book of Common Worship," Rev. Dr. William J. McKittrick tells readers of the Post-Dispatch that "there is no more reason why a woman should obey her husband than that her husband should obey her."

This removes fully 50 per cent of the curse of the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil as that inheritance is distributed to the daughters of Eve in the third chapter of Genesis.

Considered no longer as an educational institution, but merely as a civil contract, marriage becomes a legal partnership and the only question Rev. Dr. McKittrick leaves is of which partner is to take the responsibility that belongs to the "senior."

One or the other must or else the dissolution notice must follow in due course and proper legal form. Which shall it be?

MR. TAFT'S HOPES.

Political gossips are very much interested in the future of William H. Taft, who is a good man and weighs several hundred pounds.

The story that the President will offer a place on the Supreme bench to Mr. Taft is not improbable. He is a good, if not a great lawyer and will make fine Judge. But if he goes on the bench he must y ambition and settle down for life.

who was Chief Justice, never got rid of that by some lucky turn the presidency ome his way. David Davis actually resigned e Supreme bench and went into the Senate, g that he might attract the lightning better han in a sheltered spot like the Supreme Court room. But he, too, hoped in vain. As an aspirant he was not taken seriously.

If Mr. Taft becomes Associate Justice he will never again be a political force.

And why should be want to be? Is there any position of dignity and honor more desirable than the seat once occupied by Marshall, Story and Taney? Would a Judge gratify anything but vanity by going to the White House? Besides, a man of Mr. Taft's weight cannot endure the agitations of the political life. Physically, he is not fitted to run a race with a spry Democrat.

Mr. Taft will no doubt think twice before he declines judicial honors. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

ORGANIZE A BROAD CAMPAIGN.

Despite a few discordant notes from men who cannot resist the temptation to debate and who really agreed on the platform of supporting all the bond propositions, the meeting of representatives of civic and commercial organizations at the Merchants' Exchange yesterday accomplished the object for which it was called. There was practical agreement upon the substitute resolution of ex-Attorney-General Crow declaring the purpose of the meeting to be to effectively advocate the adoption by the voters of each of the separate propositions submitted in the bond ordinance. The only differences which disturbed the harmony of the meeting were between those who stand for the free bridge proposition, which perhaps needs harmonious advocacy less than any of the other propositions. And all of the free bridge advocates agreed to support all of the bond propositions—a point of great value in the campaign work to be done before the June election.

Having accomplished the preliminary step of agreeing upon the general officers of the Citizens' Committee, the next important step is the organization of a strong, influential, representative Executive Committee to conduct the campaign. This work is in the hands of the general chairman, Mr. H. A. Forman, and his action will in a large measure determine the success of the co-operative plan which the meeting inaugurated. If Mr. Forman will select his Executive Committee on broad lines, so that it will include the strongest available men representing all of the elements of citizenship, the campaign will be a success. The committee should be organized on a platform of the advocacy of and harmonious work for the bond issue, and not as a special organization designed to work for any one or two or three specific propositions.

We believe the citizens can be united upon this platform and for this purpose, and that effective work can be done to bring the voters to a clear understanding of the issue presented in the June election and the very great importance of a full vote and a favorable vote for progress.

THE OGLANDER CASE.

The case of Henry Oglander, whom the Governor has pardoned from the Missouri Penitentiary after he had served 13 months of a three-year sentence, had in it one of the worst injustices of the prison system as it exists in every State in the Union.

The evidence of guilt in the case does not appear conclusive, but it may be taken for granted that by receiving stolen goods or in some other way, the man had done the community injury to a money value of a hundred or a thousand times the value of a few dollars actually involved.

When he was shut up in prison, however, his wife and six children were thrown dependent on the community, while his earnings in prison, instead of being devoted to their support after the cost of his own had been paid, were confiscated by the State.

This punished the community and the convict's family much more than it did the convict. Under the contract system in the Missouri Penitentiary, no convict who becomes a good workman is severely punished unless he has a wife and children by the thought of whose sufferings he is tortured.

The system is criminal, if the word "criminal" means what necessarily forces increase of crime in the community. It is absurd as well as criminal.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

WHO IS THE TYRANT? SPEAK!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The tyrant who attempts to enforce oppressive, unjust, obsolete laws must be ignorant of history. He could never have learned about the Magna Charta, Boston Tea Party, Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States, causes of the revolution in France, 1790; United States civil rights bill or Masonic law. He probably has learned about forms and precedents and the sanctity of antiquity, that are dead. VOX POPULI, ETC.

WAR IN OREGON.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Very few people east of the Rockies seem to know that there is a revolution brewing in Oregon. A revolution without dynamite, bloodshed or fist fights. A revolution of men and women against men and women. Nevertheless, some black eyes are dealt out by the Oregon press to both sexes. The Lincoln County Leader says: "The corporal's guards of Portland women who do not want to vote, and who do not want other women to vote, are now offering a prize to the young, ignorant and inexperienced woman who will write the best essay against equal suffrage. This causes suspicion that none of the 'antis' are able to write an article which the people could comprehend or appreciate. Perhaps they wouldn't even know how to vote if given the privilege."

The Port Oxford Tribune says: "The women of Oregon are counting upon the votes of all fair, good, educated, long-headed, chivalrous, generous men. They are counting right. They are not counting prejudiced, ignorant, short-sighted, conceited, selfish men. And they are again right. For a man to assert that he is smarter, better or has more rights than a woman, requires an amount of cheek and conceit impossible to comprehend."

The revolution for justice is on, and almost the last sentence Susan B. Anthony said was: "Defeat is impossible." LOUISE L. WERTH.

ONE VIEW OF IT.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The plea of the German Alliance to have German taught in the public schools should be strongly resented by every taxpayer—American or foreign. Favoritism ought not to be shown to any nationality. If Germans adopt America as a home they should adapt themselves to the customs and learn to speak the language of the country and not be so clannish. Let parents who desire to have their children speak their mother tongue have them taught, if they can afford it, as an accomplishment. The public schools are intended merely to give a plain education, to enable future citizens to vote intelligently. For this German is no acquisition. Suppose the Italians, Irish, Swedes, etc., would all clamor to have their respective languages taught, we would have a Tower of Babel, with such a conglomeration as German and Gaelic, for instance. NOT YET.

It isn't summer—
No;
We've heard a hum or
So,
But after all the voice of spring
Is tardily awakening,

It isn't summer—
No;
We've seen a plum or
So,
But none of them were ripened here,
And we must wait a little, dear,

No;
We've seen a bum or
So,
But nothing like the great array
We shall see later on in May Drilling on the railway.

THE HYPNOTIC LAWYER.

When are we going to learn that hypnotism is the lawyer's good blade?

Yesterday a St. Louis lawyer looked a witness in the eye and asked:

"Isn't it a fact that I am the man who held you up, and that the defendant here is not the man at all?"

"Yes, you're the man that held me up," the witness admitted weakly.

Out in St. Louis County they are far ahead of us in the psychology of the bar. Just about a year ago a jury heard the evidence in a case, and when the lawyers squared off for their arguments the foreman arose and said:

"If it pleases the Court, the jury would like to dispense with the arguments by the attorneys. The facts in this case have all been set forth under oath. The jury understands them perfectly. If the Court will protect us from these Svengalis and deny them the privilege of scrambling the whole matter up into an ambiguous omelet, we shall be able to do justice."

The Court acquiesced, and the defendant was hanged.

STANDARD OIL NEWS.

(Exclusive Service From the Trust's New Press Agent.)

Mark Twain called at No. 26 Broadway yesterday to see if Hank Rogers had any new ones.

The approaching investigation of Standard Oil at Chicago is not worrying Mr. Rockefeller. It was at Chicago that they permitted Profit Dowie to return, and it was also at Chicago where they let the Beef Trust go scot free.

The report that Mr. John D. Rockefeller owns all the railroads in the Southwest is a joke. When Mr. Rockefeller heard of it he said:

"No, there is some little road down there we don't own, but I can't recall the name of it just now."

IN THE SPRING.

In the spring the bright begonia
Has a deeper hue by far,
And we're up against pneumonia

THERE's a current little pnrase,
That you're apt to hear these days—
Yes, indeed, you're apt to hear it, o'er and o'er—
There's the one: "Say, how's the wheat?"
And: "Why can't we have a seat?"
But above them echoes loudly:
"What's
the

II.

You will hear: "Bill, how's your health?"
And:. "How great is John D.'s wealth?"
"Is it hot enough?" will prosper as of yore;
How's the fishing?—this will come
From your son of Walton chum—
"What's

III.

And you're pretty sure to hear,
"Do you really love me, dear?"
Or: "Is that the tale you've told a hundred more?"
But thro' all the summer long,
You will hear, as one grand song,
This undying lay from Fanville:
"What's

AN OLD LADY ON MATRIMONY

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Nixola Greeley-Smith.

Dear Miss Greeley-Smith:

It makes me smile to see you side with the poor persecuted men. For my part, I feel a great deal Mrs. Nagg says is too true although it is written for a joke on women. Of course a great deal of it is overdrawn. I am an old woman, have been married 40 years, but have never found the men such angels. I think the best way to have that idea out of young women is to marry one of them. MRS. R. H. F.

NIXOLA GREELEY-SMITH.

MY dear lady, far be it from me to commend to any young woman the loss of her ideals at such a price. But why not let us gather our rosebuds of illusion while we may? The danger is always that losing our illusions about others we maintain them about ourselves; that having realized that men are not angels we still cherish the belief that women are.

Undoubtedly you know a great deal more about men than I do. Perhaps every married woman does. But it's only the person on the fence that can see both sides, you know.

Marriage, as I have viewed it from the coward's vantage ground of the fence, is a state of rows and raptures. If you care enough for the raptures to endure the rows you call yourself happy; if you don't, you believe you're miserable. Everything depends on the proportion in which the two R's are blended.

A great deal of what Mrs. Nagg says is too true. But what good does it do to say it? Men are as they have been and will be to the end of time. And we have to take them or leave them that way.

The trouble lies in the fact that we are not willing to do either.

Men are delightful companions, charming lovers. They are not, from our point of view, ideal husbands. But if we live unmarried to years of discretion we learn to take them for what they are without wailing over what they might be and never will be.

Any woman who, in the face of the present day facilities for rapid-transit matrimony, has remained married 40 years cannot have much in common with Mrs. Nagg. She must be amiable and long suffering, and I don't wonder she thinks men are not angels. But would they match the woman if they were?

Men and women look at life from entirely different eyes. The only thing that can reconcile their points of view is a permanent, deep love for each other.

The differences of husband and wife to the enlightened onlooker seldom present an unmixed issue of right or wrong. He doesn't see the husband's halo, but neither does the wife show any sign of sprouting wings. If he says so he catches it all around the domestic circle, both deeming themselves misjudged.

STORIES TOLD IN WASHINGTON

To a Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A statesman, well known but nameless so far as this story is concerned, went to Uncle Joe Cannon's party on Monday night. He found many thirsty friends there and he had somewhat of a parched feeling in his throat himself.

When he went home he was "soused," but he was very dignified. He had worn for the first time one of a new batch of shirts his wife had bought for him. It was a coatshirt, that opened all the way down the front.

He got into the house without too much noise and congratulated himself that Mrs. Statesman would know nothing about his condition. He found much difficulty in getting off his shirt. He tried many ways, but could make no headway. He struggled for half an hour and then called to his wife, who was sleeping in an adjoining room: "My dear, I am sorry to disturb you, but I wish you would come here and tell me how to get off this shirt."

Mrs. Statesman came in and looked him over. "What is the trouble?" she asked, suspiciously.

"I cannot get off this new fangled shirt you bought for me. I do not approve of it, anyhow. Now, I demand of you that you tell me how to get it off."

"I would suggest," replied Mrs. Statesman, coldly, "that a most essential preliminary to taking off your shirt is to first take off your coat and waistcoat."

"They told me up in Massachusetts, when they asked me to come to the Senate," he said, plaintively, "that it was a fine, easy job. They said I could get home a couple of days each week and would only be obliged to be here the first four days of the week."

"Haven't you found it so?" he was asked.

"Found it so!" said Senator Crane, "I should say I haven't. I have been able to get home only once in the last three months, and I have been working 18 hours every day of the week and sometimes 24."

A Gentleman, Anyway.

John Marshall day has brought out a flood of anecdotes about the great Chief Justice of the United States. World's Work relates that once, as the Judge was traveling toward Raleigh, N. C., in a stick gig, his horse went off the road and ran over a sapling, so tilting the vehicle that it could move neither to the right nor to the left.

As the Judge sat thinking up a way out of the dilemma, an old negro came along.

"Old marster," said he, "what for you don't back your horse?"

The jurist thanked him for the suggestion, backed his horse and promising to leave a dollar at the inn for the good advice, went on his way.

The negro called at the inn and found the dollar awaiting him. He took it, looked at it and said:

"He was a gem'man for sho, but"—tapping his forehead significantly—"he didn't have much in here."—Philadelphia Record

ON THE SUBURBAN TRAIN

Writen for the Post-Dispatch

By CLARK McADAMS.

"I SEE Mayor Wells has a 50-horsepower automobile, whatever that means," said the Insurance Man, looking up from his morning paper.

"That means it will make a horse run 50 miles," said the Boss Printer.

The Brakeman came in with the Burning Issues, and the train rattled out of the yards into the beryl fields. It passed an automobile burning upon the country road, with a wretched group of immigrants standing around grieving the loss of their all.

"I should think they would make those things fireproof," said the Steamboat Man.

"In France," said the Boss Printer, " they are taking the precaution now of attaching a water tank behind. A friend of mine who was over there last summer said he stopped on a hill on the Bordeaux road one day and counted 30 fires. They were just driven to attaching the water tank. It's an unsightly thing, but it solves the automobile problem."

The Brakeman came in and sat down upon the arm of a seat. "I have a brother who is a chauffeur,." he said. "He tells me that the owners of machines in St. Louis are almost in despair. They can't turn around without hitting someone, and if they go out toward the county the vigilantes can't wait for them to cross the line. My brother says he would rather ride in a carriage through Moscow than ride in an automobile through St. Louis County."

"It is a bad state of affairs," said the Boss Printer. "The people with machines want to go, and the people without machines would like to stay around here a while longer."

"I saw the other day where some lady on Locust street said she was afraid to sit out on the front stoop in the evening any more," said the Insurance Man.

"Yes, there is some awful steering out there," said the Brakeman. "My brother says that's where the amateurs practice."

"Speaking of automobiles." said the Boss Printer. "You've all heard of the fellow who called his machine the Scandal Monger because it was always running people down; but have you heard what David Belasco calls his new red devil?"

They hadn't heard.

"He calls it the Leslie Carter," said the B. P.

"St. Louis!" shouted the Brakeman.

ANSWERS to Post-Dispatch READERS

B. A.—May 15, 1884, Thursday.

READER.—House of Refuge, Osage and Virginia.

J. C. W.—You can destroy your silver money.

PUNETA.—Official photos, World's Fair Grounds.

BUILDING.—Call up Building Commissioner, City Hall.

JOHN.—Aquarium cement formula repeatedly given.

C. B.—Charless School not to be made colored High School.

H. S.—Illinois marriage license is good only in the county in which it is issued.

N. O.—The President has not dined with Booker Washington during his present term.

A.—Governors from Francis to Folk: Wm. J. Stone, Lon V. Stephens, Alexander M. Dockery.

E. N. R.—Wash red hands nightly in buttermilk. See that they are not caused by indigestion.

M. T.—The clubhouse at Leclaire is open for summer vacation to working girls at $4 a week.

J. J. C.—For warts, bathe them frequently with strong solution of washing soda. Let it dry on.

E. P.—It is proper to wear long gloves all the evening at a party, though you don't have to do it.

Z.—Freckles cannot be made to remain away if there is renewed exposure to the sun. Formulas have been published repeatedly.

X. Y. Z.—Postoffice stenographer passes civil service clerkship examination. Application blank at Old Postoffice, Third and Olive streets.

MRS. A. S.—Have a talk with Assistant Circuit Attorney Johnson about the husband who makes $3 a day and allows his wife and five children only 50 cents a week

DOTT.—To take the blue-black feather boning stain from your white waist, you might try dilute muriatic acid, taking care to rinse well. We do not promise you success, however.

H. H.—Though a woman finds that her husband at the time of her marriage was the husband of some other woman, it is best that she should obtain a divorce before marrying again.

WELLSTON.—At general elections in the county there are two Republican votes to one Democratic. Folk received 3420, Walbridge 6831. The Argus, published in Clayton, is Democratic.

H. P.—An immigrant is not required to have any definite sum. It has only to appear that he will not become a public charge. An undesirable immigrant, even if he has money, may be sent back.

V. R.—If Mr. Brown is agent for the Northwestern Express Co. alone, he should write himself "Agent Northwestern Express Co." If agent for various companies, he should write it "Brown, Agent."

DR. J. A. KRIEGER.—If you are right, Webster is wrong. He says Senatus Populusque Romanus should be translated "The Senate and people of Rome." He doesn't write the que "Quae" with a big Q.

X.—There is no set form for "good-morning" greeting at boarding-house table. The sitter and the person coming in should perhaps each be so sociable as to try to speak first and make the greeting simultaneous.

SCARFACE.—Scars are sometimes removed by massage and application of almond oil very slightly iodurretted. Gentle daily friction, preceded by warm ablutions with bland soap and water, remove scars not deep.

C. S. D.—For wrinkles, "water of youth," made by boiling 3 ounces pearl barley in pint water until the gluten is extracted, then strain and add 25 drops tincture benzoin. Rub well criss-cross of wrinkles after warm bath.

M. D. T.—When a young man and a young woman out walking together meet a lady acquaintance of the young woman, he raises his hat, whether he knows the person met or not. He does the same if the stranger to him is a man.

L. K.—Bicycles are not allowed on sidewalks in any well-policed district. Though owner of house has to pay for sidewalk, it belongs to the public. No sidewalk, however, was made for pleasure, and it is expected that the rights of pedestrians shall be respected.

M.—Insane Asylum visiting hours (sightseers), 9:30 to 11 a. m., 1:30 to 4 p. m., on Monday, Tuesday, Friday, Saturday. House of Refuge, 1 to 5 p. m., Thursday and Sunday. Poorhouse, 8:30 to 11 a. m., 1 to 4 p. m., every day, including Sunday. Crematory, any hour, any day.

FRED.—Poor circulation, digestive troubles, chronic intestinal derangements, nervous diseases and tight clothing make red noses. Massage vigorously along the leading nerve of the nose at each side. Use tips of fingers, start at bottom and rub up on either side, then under eyebrows.

MADGE.—When your best girl friend is receiving every one on the night of her wedding, you may kiss her, but you may hesitate about kissing him. See what the others do. Just wish her "every happiness," or follow the inspiration of the moment. The simpler the expression the better.

B. E. S.—If you copy from a St. Louis paper and send to a distant city the statement that a concern in that city is to absorb a St. Louis concern, and the statement is untrue and libelous, and you fail to declare your source of information, there would be a technical liability on your part.

GRACE.—You might try bleaching superfluous hair in peroxide of hydrogen, taking the pure peroxide on a bit of cotton and allowing it to remain on until it stings. Repeat this until you bleach the hairs. By applying a drop of ammonia after the peroxide you may eventually destroy the constitution of the hair.

T. I. C.—To keep your hair, have your head uncovered as much as possible; give it air and sunshine. Shampoo scalp with green soap and tepid water several times a week and apply a lotion consisting of one dram of tincture of cantharides, two drams of spirits of rosemary, one-half ounce of glycerine and four ounces of bay rum, once a day, and rub it thoroughly into the scalp.

FOR THE BOYS AND GIRLS

Legend of the Tame Goose.

There is an American legend which purports to tell why the tame goose cannot fly. Once upon a time two geese agreed to take a long journey together. On the eve of the departure one said to the other, "Mind you are ready, my friend, for inshallah (if God will) I shall set out at sunrise tomorrow."

"And so will I, inshallah or not," replied the other.

Next morning the pious goose rose lightly on the wing and flew to a distant land. The impious goose, however, found himself unable to spread his wings, and after many vain attempts to fly was caught and carried home by a fowler. And ever since that the tame goose has lost the use of his wings because he would not say "inshallah," while the pious goose still enjoys his original freedom.

Hidden Proverb.

(One word is hidden in each line.)

The cat was playing with a ball.
You may wind that wool for me.
He had a look through the door.
The dog flew at the bird and killed it.
She was reading a book aloud.
We saw the King in Forest Park.

Hide and Seek.

Hide and seek in the barnyard
Is the greatest game to play;
Hide and seek for children
At the close of a summer day.

Hide away in a corn crib,
Or behind a strawstack tall;
Or hide away inside the barn,
In old roan Nellie's stall.

Hide behind the woodshed,
Or in a clump of trees;
Hide down in the hen coop,
Or hide just where you please.

Then sit as quiet as little mice,
For fear that you'll be found;
For Tom and Bert and Mary
Are hunting all around.

And if they chance to spy you,
You join their band so gay,
And hunt the other children,
Who are still hid away.

And so the hours of evening
Between the day and night
Are given o'er to Hide and Seek,
The children's great delight.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

For the Housewife.

If alum is added to the paste used in covering boxes with paper or for scrapbooks moths or mice will not invade them.

Ink and fruit stains may be removed from white linens and cottons by soaking them for a few hours in kerosene, then washing in hot water.

If sherbet is used instead of baking powder when making madeira, seed or other plain cakes, they will be much better and of a delicious flavor.

Allow a shorter raising for bread to be cooked by steam, since the dough will rise during the cooking because of the lower temperature employed.

In shaking blankets care must always be taken to catch them about a foot from the selvedge, otherwise a risk is run of tearing them.

Skewer baked fish with thin slices of salt pork or bacon. Fresh fish will be improved in flavor if fried in fat used previously for the same purpose.

Coffee and tea stains, if rubbed with butter and afterward washed in hot soapsuds, will come out, leaving the table linen quite white and fresh.

To have one's kitchen free from smoke or odor when frying griddle cakes try adding one teaspoonful of melted lard to the batter and do not grease the griddle.

Clothes.

All shades of purple, gray and some shades of blue are becoming to elderly women.

One really ought to wear those fascinating new lace nightcaps for some more public occasions.

Most of the new veilings are showy in design, even when adhering strictly to all black or all white.

Those smart French plaid ribbons are liked by schoolgirls for hairbows. They ring a change on the flowery Dresdens.

What a Letter Will Do.

A proofreader, anent the importance of trifles, read from his notebook these absurd sentences, each made so by the omission of a single letter:

"The conflict was dreadful and the enemy was repulsed with great laughter.

"When the President's wife entered the humble sitting room of the mine she was politely offered a hair.

"An employer in the service of the Government was accused of having stolen a small ox from the mail. The stolen property was found in his vest pocket.

Invariably.

First Come, First Served

Fanciful Socialism

In his recent novel, "The Scarlet Empire," David M. Parry carries out to the very last term the leveling tendencies of Socialism. His characters live on the island of Atlantis under the sea, where a thoroughgoing social Democracy is in active operation. The State regulates everything—just how much it regulates will be indicated by the following summary of the laws:

A citizen shall be given a State number instead of a name.

He shall receive from the State kitchen three-quarters of a pound of food per day.

The speech of each citizen is limited to 1000 words per day.

All children of 7 years shall be placed in the disciplinary asylums and taught the State code of rules, until the age of 14.

All citizens over the age of 14 shall be placed in the State public dormitories and made to contribute their share of labor in State factories.

All citizens shall be officially notified by an inspector of marriage when the State has appointed either wife or husband.

At the end of three years the State will grant a divorce at the request of either one or both parties, and new persons shall be appointed in marriage to each one.

He Knew.

From Harper's Weekly.

The first witness called in a recent petty lawsuit in Cincinnati was an Irishman, of whose competence as a witness opposing counsel entertained a doubt. At their instance there was put to him, before being sworn, the usual interrogatory, "Do you know the nature of an oath?"

From Life.

"Tell me," requests the young person, entering the study of the gray-bearded philosopher, "what is the difference between friendship and love?"

The gray-bearded philosopher studies the table thoughtfully for a moment or two, then replies:

SOCIALISM IN AMERICA

Another Name for Discontent.

Socialism is merely another name for discontent. It is a vague theory of uncertain future idealistic conditions to be attained only by an enforced uniform state of mediocrity to which every pessimist gives a different meaning according to his civil and social condition and intellectual standards, and in which the selfishness of the most capable shall be gratified and all envy shall be appeased by a process of reducing the eagle to the plumage and habits of the kite.

It is a condition in which glory will be wholly extinguished and groveling will universally prevail, where the teacher of truth and the common thief shall be equally eminent, and no performer of heroic acts shall be a hero unless he shall first go home and sweep a street crossing to reduce him to the common level, lest he be more respected than his fellows. Under its beneficent operation men must live alike and do the same class of work, lest one have an easier task than another and rise higher in public esteem than his neighbor.

It is a condition in which the inscrutable forces of nature must be controlled and forced to form the features and intellects of men more alike in order that one may have no advantages over the other, and although this may not tend to vary the prospect according to the requirements of the present crude standards of beauty, it will effectually repress egotism by making "the best like the worst."

When Almighty God created invidious distinctions by making one man black and another white and some bright and others dull, he clearly did not understand his business. That leads to inequalities which Socialism is primarily designed to correct.

Socialism also has other objects less altruistic. ARTHUR NAVARRE.

"A Higher Social Organization."

In response to your inquiry let me say that the growing importance of Socialism in this country is shown by the following record of the socialist vote in presidential years since 1888:

In 1888	2,068
In 1892	21,175
In 1896	36,503
In 1900	127,533
In 1904	408,230

The Socialists vote in nearly all civilized countries shows a rapid increase in recent years, indicating that the question of a radical reorganization of sociey is forcing itself upon public attention. Within a week several intelligent and influential people have expressed to me the conviction that Socialism is inevitable and that it is the part of wisdom to seek to direct it rather than hopelessly to oppose it. That the existing social condition is one of unstable equilibrium is, I think, obvious. The changes which are to come will be in the direction of natural evolution. It is quite too late in the history of the world to expect society to adopt anybody's tailor-made system; whatever the social system of the future, it will be a growth because society is a living thing. The essential nature of that growth cannot be changed, but wisdom may give it direction and remove obstacles to a healthful development.

I am not at all sure that Socialism, as commonly defined, will obtain in this country, but I am sure that there is to be a much higher social organization than that which now exists.

by
Mrs. Humphry Ward

Fenwick's Career

MRS. HUMPHRY WARD stands with Thomas Hardy and George Meredith in the front rank of living writers of fiction. Her novels are not among the books to be put aside after reading—they are books which demand a permanent place in the library.

Mrs. Ward's new novel is a story of a man dominated by ambition—a story of two women of strikingly contrasting types. It is the record of a struggle both material and moral—and it is one of those rare stories whose ending is not only happy and right, but logical and true to life.

"PECKSNIFF" OF N. Y. LIFE RESIGNS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 10.—William B. Hornblower, the lawyer who was charactertized by "Judge" Andrew Hamilton in his sensational speech before the Legislature as "the Pecksniff" of one administration of the New York Life Insurance Co. and as "the Talleyrand" of another, has resigned from the Board of Trustees.

Since the Hamilton attack Mr. Hornblower's position in the company has not been comfortable. He was regarded by some as the enemy of the late John A. McCall and as responsible for the severe criticisms of his administration by the Fowler Investigating Committee just before Mr. McCall's death.

The Fowler Committee directed that suits for the recovery of hundreds of thousands of dollars be brought against Mr. McCall, and, on his death, against the McCall estate. Several of the trustees declared, however, that the suits should never be brought; that it would be hounding and persecuting the members of the dead man's family beyond the bounds of decency. The controversy in the company over the matter was very distasteful to Mr. Hornblower, and, it is said, was instrumental in leading him to resign as trustee.

ARMSTRONG INSURANCE PROBE COST $100,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 10.—The cost of the investigation made to the Armstrong Insurance Committee has been fixed at $100,000. The appropriation was put in the annual supply bill just printed. It is understood that Inquisitor Hughes' share of this sum is $15,000.

The bill states that the appropriation is made to cover counsel fees, witness fees, services of stenographers, clerks and other employes and for the printing of 17,059 copies of the report.

UNION WIPED OUT, STRIKE IS ENDED

CLEVELAND, O., May 10.—The strike of the longshoremen and their allied interests on the great lakes has come to an end. Work was resumed this morning on all docks and on the lakes. Twenty thousand men will be given employment.

This means the wiping out of the mates' union, which caused the struggle. The dock managers' refuseal to recognize the mates' organization led the longshoremen, with whom they had become affiliated, to strike in sympathy with them and call out all other interests.

The longshoremen had demanded a 10-hour day and also the recognition of the mates' union. The dock managers waived aside the question of hours and insisted on eliminating the recognition of the mates. The longshoremen insisted on the recognition of the mates and the conference ended. The strike did not come until the termination of the contract between the dock managers and the longshoremen on May 1.

The question of recognition of the mates was eliminated from the discussion at the outset in last night's conference and an agreement was easily reached. A few minor details are yet to be worked out between the longshoremen and the dock managers, between the firemen and oilers and the Lake Carriers' Association and between the tug firemen and the officers of the Great Lakes Towing Co. The dock managers will meet the longshoremen tomorrow afternoon. The Lake Carriers' Conference will be held Monday. No date has been set for the meeting between the tug firemen and the officers of the Great Lakes Towing Co.

AGED ONLY 95, HE CUTS NEW TEETH

Nature Brings Uncle William Sposede Unexpected Birthday Present.

WINDHAM CENTER, Me., May 10.—William Sposede, the oldest resident of Windham, observed his ninety-fifth birthday today and surprised his friends by announcing that he was cutting a new set of teeth.

Uncle William lost his grinders many years ago and since that time has been compelled to "gum" his food. A few weeks ago Uncle William says his gums began to feel sore, and from the white spots that appeared he is sure that he will soon have a new set of teeth. He has consulted a physician about the sprouting teeth and wants, if possible, to hurry their growth.

GIRLS WIN TWO FIRST HONORS OUT OF THREE.

MISS RACHEL IRENE BENSHOOF.

Prof. James E. Ament, president of the State Normal School at Warrensburg, believes that the State should control all medical schools, and that the term required for graduation in medicine should be not less than five years. He expressed this opinion in an address before a large audience at the commencement exercises of Barnes University at Central Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Wednesday night.

Prof. Ament was the principal speaker. The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. C. Woods and a short address by Judge John M. Wood, president of the Board of Trustees, who conferred the degrees and presented the diplomas. There were 96 graduates, 74 in the medical department, six in the dental department and 16 in the pharmacy department.

The winners of first honors were: Medical department—Miss Florence Louisa Evans, East St. Louis; dental department—James Conley Gault, Pond Creek, O. T.; pharmacy department—Miss Rachel Irene Benshoof, Blue Grass, Io.

DOWIE BALKS AT VOLIVA'S PLANS

Contention for Committee of Seven Managers Halts Peace Proceedings.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 10.—A hitch in the proposed compromise plan for managing Zion City's assets developed yesterday, when John Alexander Dowie refused the offer of peace from Wilbur Glenn Voliva.

The plan for three men to be named to manage affairs, pending the final court decree—one to be named by Dowie, one by Voliva and one by the court—was not viewed with enthusiasm by the "First Apostle." He thought it had a string tied to it, and promptly trampled the olive branch under his feet. Dowie's advisers wanted a committee of seven, which is resisted by the "rebels."

Attorney Emil C. Wetten held a long conference with the "First Apostle" in Zion City yesterday afternoon, but was unable, it is reported, to secure from Dr. Dowie his approval to the plan suggested in Belvidere.

When the case was called before Judges Donnelly and Wright of the Lake County Circuit Court in the Monadnock Building yesterday, Attorney Jacob Newman, representing Voliva, presented an ultimatum to the Dowie forces. It was in the nature of a threat to ask an increase in Dowie's bond from $20,000 to $200,000 unless he consented to the naming of the committee at once.

Attorney Newman scoffed at the proposal to appoint a committee of seven. "It is simply a scheme on the part of Dowie to get a job for several of his friends," said he. "The idea is ridiculous and will never meet with our approbation."

ROOT WON'T HEAR DISMISSED CONSUL

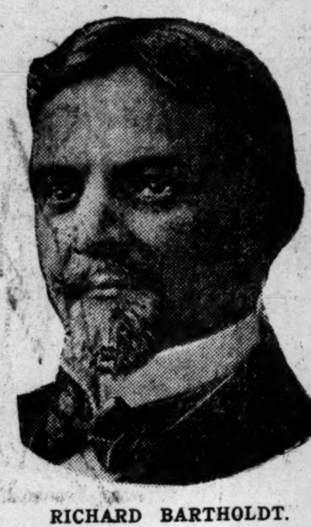
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Robert M. McWade, formerly United States Consul General at Canton, China, today demanded of Secretary Root that he be granted a hearing by the Secretary of State and given an opportunity to answer the charges made by Assistant Secretary Pierce that McWade was guilty of drunkenness, corruption and other misdemeanors while holding office in China. Secretary Root declined to grant McWade a hearing, but told him that if McWade desired to make a written statement he would give it consideration.

McWade was dismissed from the consular service because of the charges made against him by Pierce. McWade, in his testimony before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, charged that Peirce, who was sent to China by President Roosevelt, to make an investigation of the consular service, demanded that McWade give him a $500 tiger rug, and intimated that if the present were made that he (Pierce) would recommend that McWade be retained in the service.

Pierce has denied this charge. He requested that the House Committee on Foreign Affairs give him an opportunity to be heard, but now Pierce has withdrawn his request.

McWade, in his statement, will make an attack on Pierce and charge him with gross misconduct while in China. He will also make an answer to the charges Pierce made against him.

TENTH DISTRICT RENOMINATES HIM.



RICHARD BARTHOLDT.

BARTHOLDT WON IN 4TH WARD STYLE

Westhus Failed to Get a Vote in Two Contested Precincts.

So overwhelming was the victory of Congressman Richard Bartholdt over Ben Westhus in the direct primaries of the Tenth Congressional District that the returns resemble those of a Fourth Ward election. Bartholdt won renomination by a majority of 9637, more than the total vote of many districts.

In his own ward, the Eighth, Westhus got 57 votes, against 648. In two voting districts Westhus did not get a vote. These were the Second District of the Eleventh Ward, where Bartholdt got 174, and the Second District of the Nineteenth, where he got 521 votes. In the St. Louis County precincts Westhus got 107 out of 1652 votes cast.

After the first few wards were reported Wednesday night friends of Bartholdt wired to him at Washington that he was renominated. He was later notified by long-distance telephone of the magnitude of his victory and sent back messages of thanks.

The portion of the Twenty-seventh Ward which is in the Tenth District, cast 896 votes for Bartholdt and two for Westhus. The two districts in the First Ward gave three votes each to Westhus and 552 to Bartholdt. In the two districts of the Eleventh Ward Westhus got four votes, Bartholdt 572. Some comment was aroused over the results in the First District of the Tenth Ward, showing that 1078 votes had been cast, though only 1000 ballots had been sent out from the City Hall.

Congressman Barthold's victory is his eighth consecutive nomination for the office to which he has each time been elected. He was elected the first time in 1892, and, next to Congressman De Armond, is the oldest member in point of service from Missouri. Champ Clark was also elected to his first term in 1892, but he has missed one term.

CLAIMS HUSBAND'S FRIEND ROBBED HER

Rich Chicago Widow Has Trio Arrested on Swindling Charge.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Jackson M. Evans was arrested Wednesday as principal in the alleged swindle by which Mrs. Elise Moody says she was deprived of $13,000. Evans is a brother of Rufus A. Evans, who, with Victor Freeman, was arrested in New York just as he was about to be married Tuesday. Mrs. Moody, a handsome Southern widow, tells this story:

"About a year and a half ago, when my husband died, I was left considerable money in life insurance and real estate. I was in Chicago at the time, and Jack Evans, who was a friend of my husband, came to me and inquired in a friendly way about my plans for the future.

"I told him that I had considerable money, and then he mentioned an enterprise that he was promoting in Virginia timber lands. He said that the investment was good and reliable and that loads of money were in sight. Of course I believed him, as he had been such a good friend to my husband and me.

"I gave him my money, $13,000, merely as a trust, and heard from him at intervals, always with the same news—that the enterprise was doing well and that I would soon realize much on my investment. When I was in New York last summer to see him he told me that Victor Freeman had given up his brokerage business and had gone to Virginia, where he also had invested money.

"A few weeks ago a friend of mine casually asked me about my money affairs and I told him of my venture. Upon learning that I had no security for my funds, he advised me to see my lawyer, Mr. Jackson, about the matter.

"Jack Evans was in the city Monday and we arranged a meeting. He flatly refused to tell me where my money was or to account for it in any way. I swore out a warrant for his arrest, together with his brother Rufus and Freeman, who were in New York.

"I won't let up until this is settled and I intend to make it mighty hot for those men."

Evans obtained bond and made a statement that Mrs. Moody had been given notes for her money and that the first note was not due until September, when it would be paid. The security for the notes was timber lands. It is said here that the police have ordered the release of Evans and Freeman in New York.

A Woman's Reason

For painting is to make things look bright and clean. A man's is probably the fact that it is strictly a matter of economy. Both are equally good reasons, and a mistake is made if you theorize without executing your plans. From the one point of view there is perfect contentment ahead, and from the other money in your pocket. Let us tell you all about paint—right now is high time.

OVERCOATS AT CAPITOL.

Closing of Heat Plant Causes Demand for Stoves.

Business at the State Capitol at Jefferson City the past few days has been conducted under difficulties, and from behind tightly buttoned overcoats, or over an oil stove.

This is because Missouri is an economical State. May 1 the heating plant was closed down. The first cold morning this week the Capitol felt like a refrigerating plant, and it felt that way for two or three days.

A gas stove was captured by the Governor's office force, and clerks and stenographers were huddling over it in an effort to keep warm, when the Governor called for it from his private office. Before that, clad in an overcoat, he had been transacting business.

During the morning Jefferson City hardware stores were nearly depleted of their stock of oil stoves, and now each office in the Capitol is supplied.

PEUGNET CROSS-BILL.

Woman, Through Attorney, Denies Husband's Charges.

Mrs. Alexander Louisa Peugnet, charged with specific indiscretions in the amended divorce petition of Capt. Ernest Peugnet of 4245 Lindell boulevard, is going to file a cross-bill. Mrs. Peugnet is in Kansas City now.

Her attorney, L. C. Dyer, speaking for her, denies all the allegations in her husband's amended bill. A general denial to the original petition was filed before Capt. Peugnet filed his amended bill.

DASHES AGAINST CELL.

He is kept in a strait-jacket to keep him from harming himself more. His home is at 3227 North Broadway. He was brought in by Policeman Wood of the Fifth District. Goessling has religious mania and is 6 feet in height and weighs 180 pounds.

Before he injured himself against the bars of his cell, he made a dash into the corridor when an attendant opened the door, and it required the efforts of Attendants Dierrick, Stone and Edwards to get him back.

Escaping Prisoner Here.

Frank Baxter is in the City Jail for safe keeping until his trial at Benton, Mo., on a charge of robbing the Post-office and store at Blodgett, Mo. He was arrested and placed in jail at Benton soon after the robbery, but escaped a month ago when the jail was dynamited. He was arrested near Hillsboro and was brought to St. Louis by Sheriff Gober and Deputy Dobe.

GAS FOR HEATING WATER

A Year In and Year Out Method

You will use a gas water heater year in and year out.

It is simply a matter of using one but once, and you will know why.

In the Summer when the furnace and coal stoves serve you no longer—what will you do for hot water?

Install a gas water heater. It does not even heat a corner of a room. It supplies you with 25 gallons of hot water in about 25 minutes for about 2 cents—any time and from any water faucet in the house.

Word to us will bring full information. See sample water heater at your nearest dealer or in our salesroom.

M'GREW BIDS BRITONS TO GOLF TOURNEY

President G. S. McGrew of the Glen Echo Country Club, the organization that will hold the Western Amateur championship tourney and the great Olympic Cup team contest this fall, is making his second battle to give the Olympic Cup event a true international flavor.

It will be recalled that it was due to the General that Olympic Cup tourney was held at his links. Now that the Olympic team cup has been taken under the wing of the Western Golf Association, to be the annual curtain-raiser for the Western championship, General McGraw wishes to have both hemispheres represented in the competition for it at Glen Echo.

In correspondence with Secretary Albert R. Gates of the W. G. A., President McGrew calls attention to the fact that even if he does not get British golf associations to send teams Canada will be represented by a team headed by George S. Lyon, winner of the individual Olympic trophy at Glen Echo in 1904. The Canadian Golf Association has assured the W. G. A. that the putting off of the W. G. A. to September makes it certain that the Canadian team will be represented in the team event the day prior to the opening of the amateur championship.

Pennsylvanians Will Be Here.

While in Chicago recently D. P. Fredericks, a member of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association team that won the Olympic cup last year, assured Secretary Gates that the Keystone State would be represented, and would fight hard to retain the trophy. Although the makeup of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association team at this early date is problematical, there is every reason to believe that the organization will stick to its winners and again name E. M. Byers, G. A. Ormiston, D. P. Fredericks and possibly W. C. Fowne Jr. The latter is not playing golf on account of a recent bereavement, but may consent to play on the Olympic cup team.

Already the communications sent to the Western Golf Association indicate that the list of teams in the Olympic cup event will be representative. Colorado's association will be in, probably with "Forty-Hole" Walter Fairbanks, the Denver veteran, as head of the quartet. Iowa has a revival of golf this early that indicates it will send a team, and Warren Dickinson and "Bud" Guinand are long-distance factors looming up for selection for a team.

Cracks From Illinois.

If the Central Illinois Golf Association should come in with a team, the Mitchell boys, Young Cadwallader and his rival, A. Campbell Brown of Springfield, and John D. Cady, the Rock Island star, might be a formidable team. Wisconsin is sure to start a team and "Billy" Yule, playing as well as ever; "Chick" Allen, Fred Pettet, Hamilton Vose are other likely Badger State candidates.

Ohio always can rely upon Harold Weber of Toledo, while Cincinnati and Columbus have some coming stars to fill in a team. The Transmississippi Association and the Southern Golf Association are to be reckoned with this season.

"Perhaps if the Olympic team cup event were transferred to the jurisdiction of the United States Golf Association," said a Western Golf Association official today, "we might gain a little in class in the entrance list, although that is doubtful. But the present conditions suit. The Metropolitan and the Philadelphia associations might be the only other associations to come in.

"The battle for selection for the Western Golf Association team will be one of the features of our season's play.

"Already some stars are looming up, particularly Warren K. Wood, recent winner of the Pinehurst tourney and star medal scorer in the Homewood Country Club event last Saturday. Ned Sawyer, national runner-up last year, always is a possibility.

"Chandler Egan and Walter E. Egan are to be depended upon, if they make up their minds to play considerable golf this season. Kenneth Edwards, the bright young star of the Midlothian Country Club, playing a great game right now, also is of team caliber."

NEW YORK WILL HONOR SHERIDAN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Many honors are to be showered on Martin Sheridan, the world's champion, and his comrades of the Irish-American Athletic Club, when they arrive home in a few days after their splendid record in the Olympic games at Athens.

Steamers will greet them down the bay and banquets will be given, at which their achievements abroad will be blazoned in proper oratorical periods.

A committee of 50 members of the Irish-American Athletic Club has been appointed by President P. J. Conway to make the necessary arrangements. The committee include representatives of every athletic and Irish society in New York.

A banquet in honor of the athletes will be held in the Hotel Astor, and 500 guests will be seated. The date will be on or about May 25.

Sheridan's friends on the police force will give a dinner in his honor. Capt. Brennan of the Tremont Station, to which Sheridan is attached, is making all the necessary arrangements. This celebration will take place immediately after the police parade on June 2.

Nearly every boy and girl in St. Louis and suburbs has found the Post-Dispatch mysterious MAGIC AGE TELLER a source of endless amusement. The supply is almost exhausted. If you are not supplied send a 2-cent stamp to Want Ad Manager, Post-Dispatch, St. Louis, Mo.

Chance is a grand ballplayer, but green around first. He ran away from a grounder of Arndt's that was his, not Evers', and it went for a hit. Then he ran over into Evers' ground and muffed a high fly of Raub's, bluffed Moran out of a catch and was all mixed up on another pop when Evers cut in and took it. But how he can hit and how he can slide. He has the old Mike Kelly shift, body out to center field and just the edge of one spike for the baseman to touch. It is a treat to watch him run bases.

GANS MATCHED WITH W. LEWIS

White and Negro Welterweights Will Meet in Four-Round Contest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Joe Gans and Willie Lewis, a clever New York boxer, have been matched to box six rounds before the Twentieth Century A. C., in Madison Square Garden, on May 18.

Gans will leave Baltimore today, and on Saturday morning will put on the finishing touches for the contest in training quarters just outside the city. Young Corbett, who is trying to get back into shape, will work with Gans. Lewis is winding up his training at Johnson's roadhouse on Jerome avenue. Tim Hurst was selected as referee of the contest.

RIPPLES of the Ring

It developed Wednesday during an arraignment in the Coney Island court of Hugh and Terry McGovern on a charge of assault brought by the proprietor of a roller coaster, that Hughey McGovern had secretly married Miss Dolly Gray, a former artists' model, over a year ago and that Mrs. McGovern had attended several of Hughey's battles attired in male attire.

Abe Attell and Kid Hermann are to meet at Los Angeles Thursday night. Hermann will probably have about five pounds the best of the weight question, as the boys have agreed to combat at catch-weights.

Tommy Burns has started training for his bout with Bob Fitzsimmons, which is to take place before the Tuxedo Club of Essington, Pa., on May 30.

Pastimes vs. Trenton.

The Pastimes will journey to Trenton, Ill., Sunday, where they meet the crack team of that city. The Pastimes are composed of the following players: McMahon or Gaffney c, Geldbach ss, Heany 2b, Anderson rf, Patterson 3b, Dixon lf, Comer cf, J. Wait 1b, Scarry of Fitzgerald p. They would like to hear from all local or out-of-town teams. Address Pastime Baseball Club, 2828 Sheridan av.

EGAN OPPOSES BEEBE IN THE SECOND GAME

CUBS LEADING LEAGUE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEAGUE PARK, May 10.—The fame of yesterday's great game between the Cardinals and Chicago Cubs drew a large number of enthusiasts out to League Park today to see the second game of the series.

The Chicago team is now leading the National League race, having supplanted New York.

Manager Chance was particularly anxious to annex the two remaining games of the Cardinal series, as the Cubs begin a long series of games at home with Brooklyn May 12, while the Giants will be touring the West.

Meantime, Manager McCloskey is doing a little statistical work of his own. He estimates that the Cardinals should be higher up in the pennant race than sixth place and says he knows of no better way to improve the position of his charges than by annexing two games from Chicago.

The Cubs traveled out to the park today in regal style, the horses attached to their carriages being caparisoned in gaudy blankets emblazoned with the seal of the city of Chicago and the words, "Chicago Champions."

College Collations

The selection of Marc Catlin, the former University of Chicago football star to coach Iowa has placed matters on a sounder basis than they have been for years at the Iowa University. Catlin is to coach the track and football teams and to be general manager of athletics.

The Pennsylvania baseball team received a shaking up Wednesday, due to the headless playing of the team in the contest with Princeton last Saturday afternoon. Adams, the ambidextrous left fielder, was placed at first base, and Judd will be seen hereafter in left field, while Wilson will occupy center garden. The remainder of the team will remain the same, with the exception of catcher, which is now a toss-up between Brown and Graybill.

Smith will hold its annual field day at the Stadium Friday. The first event will be run off at 9 a. m. A silver cup is to be awarded to the individual scoring the most points.

Kenney, St. Louis U.'s great football player, who is considered in the first flight of Western halfbacks, has retired from the Blue and White lineup and will be succeeded by Nivert at short.

These college schedules are wondrous things to keep up with. They are always subject to change without notice.

Washington defeated the fast Smith team at Kulage Park Wednesday afternoon by the score of 9 to 6. Taylor and Rodenberg officiated for the Myrtle and Maroon and Conrad and Bowen were in the points for Smith.

Pennsylvania's faculty has refused to cancel the Harvard baseball game which is scheduled at Philadelphia for next Saturday, despite the clamor of the Penn student body. The Quakers are angry at the Crimson because she will not play football next fall.

St. Louis University and Smith Academy are to play at Kulage Park Thursday afternoon.

The annual dual meet of Washington and Missouri universities will be held at Columbia, Mo., May 18.

The Christian Brothers' College team will play the fast Country Club aggregation at the clubmen's grounds in St. Louis County Saturday afternoon.

BASEBALL BABBLE

The probable batteries for Thursday's game are Egan and Raub for the Cardinals and Beebe and Kling for Chicago. Manager Chance asked McCloskey to play a double-header Thursday, but the Cardinal chieftain refused. Chance's men are in grand condition at present, while the Cardinals' pitching staff is not in the best of shape, Taylor and Puttman complaining of sore arms.

The identity of the arbitrator who called the balls and strikes in Wednesday's game afforded quite a theme for discussion among the denizens of the stands. On the score board his name read Conroy. As a matter of fact it was Carpenter behind the bat and not Conroy.

Until McBride's wild toss to Beckley in the thirteenth inning of Wednesday's game, the Cardinals had not made an error for 46 innings of play. During that time the players had participated in three extra-inning contests.

In featuring the notable feats of the game, there were none that in point of brilliancy and achievement excelled that three-base crash of Jake Beckley's in the ninth. The drive would have gone for a circuit of the bases but for some fast work on the part of Slagle.

St. Louis has been unfortunate in losing all of its extra-inning games, and Wednesday saw the McCloskeyites lose their second 13-inning contest of the season, the first being the inaugural game, which they lost to the Pirates. Saturday the Cardinals dropped a 10-inning one to the Reds and Monday's game went into 15 innings with the locals unable to win out.

While Pitcher Egan was on the coaching lines the greater part of Tuesday's game, his bride of two days sat in the grand stand and watched the Cardinals perform. Manager McCloskey and the Cardinals presented the young couple with a huge bunch of American beauties.

Chance is a busy man when he goes to bat. He adjusts his cap carefully, hitches up his trousers, pulls his belt taut, rubs his hands in the dust and then grasps his bat. On every ball or strike the Chicago manager proceeds to go through the same pantomime again.

Chicagos were unable to hit the ball to the outfield until the fourth when Schulte raised to Smoot for an easy chance.

Moran got the first hit off Druhot in the fifth inning. The drive was a slow, lazy one that went over the second bag.

Fred Clarke has asked for waivers on Al Leifield, the St. Louis boy who has been twirling for the Pirates. In letting Leifield go, Clarke may be making another one of the faux pas* that are making him famous.

Ned Hanlon has purchased Jimmy Barrett, the center fielder of the Detroit club who injured his knee early last year in sliding to second. Barrett has been unable to get into the game since and reports have been that he would never don another uniform. He is reported as saying that his knee is in the best shape and does not bother him in the least.

President Dreyfuss of the Pirates is trying to sign Abbatticchio, the Boston shortstop. It is understood that Clarke wants Batty to play in the outfield.

Robert Spade, the Cardinal pitcher who was ordered back to the Macon (Ga.) club departed Wednesday night.

Shannon is playing entirely too deep a field. Moran hit a pop fly back of third base that a left fielder would have camped under. Shannon came in very fast, but he was so far out that Moran took two bases on it. Such a play as this is a joke. Shannon must have been reading "How to Play Left Field," by Al Selbach. The story reads thus: "Put your back against the fence and see that nothing goes over your head." Shannon is so far out in left field that he looks like a member of the Biddle Street Busters who play in the 14-year-old class.

You have got to give it to old Jake. He is a grand old boy at the bag and a fine hitter. May no St. Louis team ever have a worse first baseman. The old Dutchman is all right.

Raub hits with a short chug that is peculiar. He seems to hit a fast or slow ball equally well. He is in good form and uses his head. His switch from a slug to a bunt on a slow ball was a very pretty piece of skillful batting. His triple was fair a foot. Had McBride hit it the ball would have been a foot foul.

McBride is playing a good fielding game even if he did make the miss which threw the game away. He got a bad start this year and has had the worst kind of luck right along. But he sticks to it like a man. When you run across a streak of clean grit like that you must take off your hat to it. Let us stick to the slender shortstop. No man ever had worse luck or ever made a gamer fight against it. Stick, and stick, and stick some more, and everyone stick with him. It has just got to break. If McBride had some of the luck other men have he would be as good a man as Wallace.

JACOBSON PITCHES BRILLIANT BALL

CHICAGO, May 10.—Manager McAleer and his Ravens departed for Boston last night after winning yesterday's game from the White Sox by the score of 6 to 2. What made the victory particularly acceptable to the St. Louisans was that Nick Altrock was officiating in the box for Chicago. Altrock has always been a stumbling block to the Ravens and his appearance in the box has usually resulted in their laying down and allowing Nick to operate on them at his pleasure.

Yesterday he failed to bring along any anesthetic and when he began to tickle the Ravens they jumped on him with their bats and hammered him for nine hits, George Stone taking away four of them.

Jacobson, who officiated in the box for St. Louis, twirled a grand game. Four hits, two of them almost errors, were made off him. The four errors made by Chicago were costly and came just when they would do St. Louis the most good.

HARVARD WILL PERMIT FOOTBALL

By Vote of 15 to 9 Board of Overseers Rescind Action of Last Fall.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 10.—With President Eliot opposing to the last the Harvard overseers have voted conditionally to allow Harvard to play inter-collegiate football next fall. The conditions are it is played under rules that satisfy the committee on the regulation of sports and that no dates after Dec. 1, 1906, be sanctioned until the overseers have seen the game and are satisfied.

The vote of the overseers was 15 to 9 on the acceptance of the game on trial next fall. On the affirmative was Bishop Lawrence, Charles Francis Adams II, the treasurer of Harvard; J. J. Storrow, the great oarsman; and against it were President Eliot and others.

THE SPORTSMAN'S NICHE

BY J. B. SHERIDAN

Yesterday an eminent business man called at the office of the sporting editor and said:

"Sir, in this report of such an athletic meet, the performances of many young men are set forth and held up to admiration. Now two of my sons did, I believe, perform most meritoriously of all, yet their names are not mentioned at all. Now I am not seeking cheap fame for my boys, but when they really do accomplish something I would be pleased to see it recognized."

Their mother, sisters, friends acquaintances etc. read the college athletic column of the Post-Dispatch with intense interest. We are glad to see the performances of our friends and those we know set forth and commented upon. When we do creditable things our reward is that our friends shall learn of them and be made happy. So when my boys do creditable things I want them to be known.

"If I do good work for my firm I want it to know that it may reward me in proper form. So when a boy does good work for himself and his school, his reward lies in the gratification, appreciation and applause of his friends. His worthiness can come to their knowledge only through the medium of the press. I am not vain nor do I seek publicity, but I do wish the good work of my boys given the same publicity as is given to others' performances along the same line."

I wish that the father of every boy were like this gentleman. A modest, retiring man, he takes a pride and interest in the work of his boys that assures their welfare. His pride is not of the sort that is vain-glorious and overbearing; it is a pleasant, soft and private gratification that he is blest with handsome, obedient and athletic sons. He did not ask that their pictures be printed or that they be featured as stars; he merely requested that their performances be duly chronicled as a matter of news, chiefly for the benefit of their friends and acquaintances.

The Post-Dispatch has endeavored, as far as limited space and the difficulties of news collection will permit, to fully chronicle the news of the athletics in the colleges and schools of St. Louis. Owing to the decentralized character of the news sources the collection of college athletic and golf news is a matter of extreme difficulty. The news of the professional pastimes, baseball, boxing, horseracing, etc., is centralized and easy of collection. That is why, following the line of least resistance, sporting editors fill pages with records of professional performances and slight amateur affairs.

If all college and schoolboys had fathers like the gentleman herein mentioned the work of the collector of college news would be rendered very much less laborious, more pleasant and far more effective, and there would be more pleasure and honor in being a sporting editor.

Our old friend, Kid Pantz, the fighter, is on deck again hard pressed, a little frayed. The kid is, however, of wear and tear sort and is good for a few seasons to come.

Having a careful eye on the college athletic field it sometimes strikes us that what is known as a "high resolve to maintain athletic purity in college sports" is not infrequently another method of diagnosing a complaint known to the sporting fraternity, outside of college life, as "cold feet."

The argument put forth by many gentlemen who profess to hold that America did not beat the best British athletes at the recent Olympic games because England did not send a representative team there and that the Britons who did go went as individuals will not hold water. The Olympic games were open to the world. If Great Britain did not take advantage of this opportunity to exploit her athletic wares she is as culpable and neglectful of her duty to herself as if her runners could not run, her jumpers could not jump, and her swimmers could not swim.

There do be Irishmen who say that England did not dare send a national team because she knew she would be beaten, and that she not only dodged the issue by refusing to send a representative national team, but by proclaiming that what Englishmen did go must be regarded as individuals, not as representatives of the nation, she tipped her mitt as to her "cold feet."

Next year the Olympic games are to be held in London. Suppose the Amateur Athletic Union of America should refuse to send a team, should issue notice that such Americans as went must be regarded as individuals, not as representatives of a nation, would it not take a lot of prestige out of England's Olympic games?

I accord all honor to the individual Englishmen who tried and won and lost at Athens, but there is very little of credit or very little of honor coming to the English Athletic Association, which was not only too inert or too timid to organize a national team, but was too ungenerous to allow full credit of victory to accrue to a rival nation and endeavored to destroy that fair guerdon of victory by issuing its "individual, not national," proclamation.

This Athletic Association is the head and front of English athletics and properly representative of them. While we would hate to think that Englishmen are so ungenerous, so doggy and mangery as their governors, what can we think of any number of men governed by a body which issues such a narrow unsportsmanlike and ungenerous proclamation.

If the United States, the world's athletic champion, refuses to take part in the English Olympics—which, of course, it will not do—and issues a proclamation similar to that eventuated by the English Athletic Association we fancy we will hear of our lack of sportsmanship in every periodical from the Orkneys to Land's End.

Until Hugh McCarren Jr. furnished the Jockey Club undisputable evidence of the authenticity of the pedigree of Ethel Wheat he will not be permitted to register her foal of this year. He should not have a great deal of trouble in getting the evidence.

Druhot did not seem to have a thing for nine innings and you sat still expecting the Cubs to open up every half inning. But the little fellow gathered steam as he went and was making the mitt ring at the finish. He seems too slight to be dependable, but has a fine slow ball and a puzzling delivery.

MISS MARCELLA POWELL, WITH MANTELLI ENGLISH OPERA CO.

An interesting feature of the engagement of the Mantell English Opera Company at the Grand Opera House Wednesday afternoon of Miss Marcella Powell as Marguerite in the prison this week was the first appearance scene from "Faust." Miss Powell, who is a Denver woman, has studied abroad and was engaged for the present tour of the Mantelli company by Mr. F. De Angelis, personal representative of Mme. Mantelli, after a thorough trial of her voice convinced him that she was capably equipped for important operatic roles. She has many friends in St. Louis, who are entertaining her during the engagement, and they gave the singer a most friendly reception at the Wednesday matinee.

Miss Powell has a lyric soprano of much sweetness and purity and sang the score falling to Marguerite in the fifth act of "Faust" quite acceptably. She is tall and slender, with a good stage presence, and made an attractive picture as the typical heroine of Goethe's story set to music in Gounod's masterpiece, a golden-haired and appealing figure clad in white and maidenly of mien. She was assisted by Signor Sotorro as Faust and Signor Alberti as Mephistopheles and scored a pleasing success. The act from "Faust" was preceded by the first and fourth acts of "Il Trovatore," with Mme. Noldi as Leonora, Miss De Costa as Inez, Signor Sotorro as Manrico, Signor Alberti as the Count de Luna and Mr. Robert E. Cavendish as Ferrando. Mme. Noldi again distinguished herself by admirable work as the Verdi heroine. Miss Powell will again appear as Marguerite at Saturday's matinee.

Midweek Dramatic News.

Mr. Louis Mann and Miss Clara Lipman come to the Garrick next Sunday for a week's engagement in "Julie Bonbon," the four-act comedy with which they recently completed a run of 14 weeks at Field's Theater, New York City. The production will be the original one in its entirety. The same can be said of the cast, which numbers 35 people. After a week here they go to Chicago, where they are booked for a summer run at the Garrick Theater in that city. This is the closing attraction of the season at the Garrick. "Julie Bonbon" was written by Miss Lipman herself and affords splendid opportunities for Mr. Mann to display his unquestioned ability as one of the best character actors in a new and original role. Miss Lipman also has a good part. The play is filled with laughs and those who like their theatrical entertainment free of psychological problems should find much to delight them in "Julie Bonbon."

Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Zaza" is now at the Garrick.

Next week, the closing week of the season at the Olympic, will introduce to St. Louis theatergoers Nellie Stewart, the eminent Australian actress, who is making her first tour of America. Miss Stewart is styled Australia's representative actress and the press comments which have preceded her indicate that she had made a most excellent impression in the American cities which she has visited thus far. In San Francisco she was booked originally for four weeks at the Majestic Theater in "Sweet Nell of Old Drury." The play and the star proved so popular that the engagement was extended to six weeks in order to accommodate those who wished to see George Musgrove's production and players. "Sweet Nell of Old Drury" is to be the bill for the entire week at the Olympic, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Besides a star of unusual ability and a strong supporting cast, Mr. Musgrove, the manager, who has long been identified with theatrical interests in Australia, promises a production which outclasses the original seen in this country at Daly's Theater, New York.

Frank Lalor and Stella Mayhew in "Coming Thro' the Rye" are at the Century. This is the closing week of the Century's season.

Ernest Hogan will be seen at the Grand Opera House for one whole week, starting with next Sunday matinee, as "Rufus Rastus," at the head of a company of 60 people, all colored and all guaranteed fun makers. The company was framed up by the well-known New York managers, Hurtig & Seamon, and has been a successful enterprise from the very start of the season. The piece is said to consist of a wild jumble of nonsense that starts the people laughing and keeps them at it for two and a half hours of unadulterated fun. The regular matinees will prevail throughout the week.

A genuine "laugh show" comes Sunday, beginning with matinee, in Billy Kersand's famous minstrels. Fun abounds from the opening first part, which shows the inside of a large watermelon, through the olio to the laughing sketch, "Nancy's Elopement." The original only Billy Kersands and his large mouth were never seen to better advantage than this season. The olio is composed of many good vaudeville acts. The vocalists are true representatives of their race, noted for excellent voices, and the performance promised is one of genuine enjoyment.

"Scotty, King of the Desert Mine," will be the offering at Havlin's Theater next week, for the first time at popular prices. This play, in which the author has utilized a region, Southern California, hitherto neglected by the dramatist, is said to be a dramatic success. The original company and production will be seen here, including the big pack of Malamute dogs from Alaska, a remarkable, intelligent troupe of animals that play an important part in the telling of the play and that have aroused the greatest enthusiasm wherever the play has been seen. The piece has never before been presented in St. Louis. The play is in four acts and tells a thrilling story of the Great Southwest, wherein love and adventure are happily mingled.

Coming to the Columbia next week: The Piccolo Midgets, the Sherman and De Forest Company, Artie Hall, Fay and Lola Durbyelle, Burt and Bertha Grant, Nat Haines, Charles and Edna Harris, Mr. and Mrs. John Powers, Ethardo and Devere and Devere. Charles E. Evans, formerly of Evans and Hoey, is the topliner of this week's Columbia bill.

A funny musical comedy in two acts by Billy Allen, "The King of Kokomo," will be presented. A first-class olio of well-known vaudeville specialties will be given by the Boston City Quartet, the Wiora Trio, the Gagnouxs, Allen and Bright, Bandy and Wilson, Holman, Hayward and Hayward.

Frank Gotch, world's champion wrestler, will appear Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evening this week, Reilly and Woods' Big Show being the current attraction.

The Bon Tons come to the Gayety next week. The full strength of the company is used in a mirth-provoking comedy which depicts the laughable situations and humorous incidents that happen in a ladies' seminary. In this comedietta all of the comedians portray female roles.

With the point in view that the establishment of a fine orchestral organization is becoming more and more a part of the social and educational interests of a large city, the owners of the Tyrolean Alps, the summer home of good music, have decided to open that resort again, the first concert to take place there next Saturday night. The Alps' Orchestra is composed of 50 men, mostly from the Choral-Symphony Orchestra of this city, with Adolph Rosenbecker of Chicago as leader. Eight years with Theodore Thomas, an independent leader of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for more than a dozen years, give Rosenbecker more than the requisite qualifications to conduct the Alps' Orchestra. Grace Van Studdiford will be the soloist of the opening week and as her friends are legion that fact and the curiosity to see the new leader, promise a record-breaking audience.

Kryl's Band, with Mme. Romano as soprano soloist, is a potent attraction at Forest Park Highlands, and while the unfavorable weather conditions reflect upon the attendance, good crowds have been in attendance so far this week. There is an interesting vaudeville program in the theater, and the "hazardous loop" act of Lillian Chick is sensational enough to satisfy the most exacting seeker for thrills. Next week Sidney Deane and company will head the vaudeville program, and Col. Hopkins has secured the first motion pictures of the San Francisco disaster, which will be projected by the Kinodrome. Kryl's Band will be heard in new programs.

At the West End Heights everything is in readiness for the opening next Saturday. The opening bill is to be Ethel Fuller's last season's big success, "Sapho," to be followed by the military play, "The Girl I Left Behind Me." During the season Mr. David Belasco's "Zaza," now being played by Mrs. Leslie Carter at the Garrick Theater, will be played by Miss Fuller. Also Mrs. Patrick Campbell's [illegible] success, "The Sorceress," will be produced, and "Magda," "Yvette" and David Belasco's "May Blossom" and a host of other new York successes.

Another feature will be the clubhouse with its restaurant, private dining rooms, etc. The kitchen will be under the direction of a most competent chef.

The opening of the regular season at Mannion's Park, Sunday, May 20, will be marked by the appearance of the best vaudeville show that has ever been given at that garden. As the headliner on the opening bill the Mannion brothers have engaged Francesca Redding and company. Miss Redding is remembered favorably from her appearance on the vaudeville and legitimate stage here. She appears this time in a sketch called "My Friend from Texas," which is said to be exceptionally clever.

The Glennon Dramatic Club, named in honor of Archbishop Glennon, has arranged to give a benefit performance for the churches of San Francisco at Mannion's Park Friday night, May 18. The club is made up of members of St. Columbkill's Parish, in Carondelet and several capable amateur players are said to be members of the club. The working staff have donated their services for the occasion and the Mannion brothers have given the use of the park free.

With its buildings newly painted and renovated and with its lawns and flower beds in spick and span condition, Delmar Garden will throw its gates open to the public next Saturday. There will be no charge made for admission to the garden or to the concerts to be given Saturday and every other evning during the summer by D. D. Bafunno's Military Band. All of the 25 concessions at the place will be in operation, including several new features, among them a skating rink. The restaurant, bar and refreshment stands will also be open.

"The Isle of Champagne" will be the first bill at the theater, which opens Sunday, May 27. The management has employed the highest-salaried company which has ever played in St. Louis during a summer and comic operas and musical comedies will be given.

At Eclipse Garden the current bill for the week is last season's great success, "Dangers of New York." The management announces for next week, commencing Monday night, the great Western play, "A Gambler's Romance."

TWO TELEGRAPH COMPANIES PROBED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Charges that the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies accepted thousands of telegrams which were then transmitted through the mails are being investigated by the grand jury.

A big loss suffered by the Southern Pacific has just come to light in the restruction of the vaults in the railroad office in the Merchants' Exchange Building. Documents which have been accumulating since the first transcontinental train entered San Francisco were stored there. The vaults proved to be all of the "dummy" kind—rooms of brick and plaster disguised with steel doors. All of the official surveys of the Southern Pacific were destroyed.

The Pacific Bank on Market street also is in difficulties. Its books and papers were destroyed by the wrecking of a vault by a dynimate corps. The bank announces that it will be enabled to pay 50 cents on the dollar soon, and eventually dollar for dollar.

The wedding of Miss Emma B. Kaufman, daughter of Mrs. Rosalee Kaufman, and Arnold W. Brunner of New York was celebrated yesterday in Oakland. The reception, for which half the invitations had already gone to the East and to Europe, was abandoned on account of the earthquake. The fire, which destroyed Mrs. Kaufman's residence, burned many valuable wedding presents.

BANNERS WOULD TELL THEIR AGES

Graduates of Alton High School Object to Too Much Publicity.

Alton girls will refuse to have their ages revealed on the computing scale order if they can prevent it and the chronological arrangement of former classes at the banquet of the Alton High School Alumni Association on the evening of Commencement Day, June 8, has caused a whirlwind of protest and almost a factional division in Alton's aristocracy.

It is planned to hold a reunion of the graduates and at the banquet table it is arranged to group them in classes, each group having a banner upon which will be inscribed the motto of the class and the year in which they graduated. The inscription of the motto upon the banner has met the approval of everyone, but to have the year that they graduated waving above their group in big, gaudy figures allowing everyone to calculate their ages, with 18 as a basis, is being opposed vigorously by several graduates.

Many of the society matrons are in favor of the class arrangement, but if it is observed there is likely to be many unpleasant and startling discoveries made in the ages of many of Alton's society belles.

Mrs. H. M. Schweppe, historian of the society, has obtained all of the names of the graduates from the time the records begin, and all will be published in "The Tattler," which will be issued next week. The class arrangement will not be observed in this publication, the names appearing without giving the year in which they graduated.

It was the intention to organize the alumni purely for social purposes, but many are of the belief that it was formed for the purpose of computing the ages of some of the graduates.

E. St. Louis News

Mrs. Julia DeForrest filed suit in the City Court yesterday for a divorce from Edward DeForrest, alleging cruelty and asking custody of their daughter Irene. They were married March 17, 1894, in St. Louis, and lived together until March 8, 1906. Mrs. DeForrest alleges in her petition that her husband attepmted to shoot her on two occasions.

J. L. King and Miss Nettie Henderson of Greenville were married Tuesday night by Justice Driscoll.

Phillip J. Healy, foreman of the box factory at Armour's packing plant, had the thumb and two fingers of his right hand cut off by a saw while at work Wednesday. He was taken to his home at Seventeenth street and Cleveland avenue.

T. P. Coleman of Anna, Ill., and Miss Anna Tindall of 1522 Gaty avenue obtained a marriage license Wednesday afternoon.

City Attorney M. V. Joyce was elected a delegate to the national convention of the Knights of Columbus at the State convention held in Chicago Tuesday. The national convention will be held in June at New Haven, Conn.

Thomas J. McCormack filed suit in the City Court yesterday against the National Stockyards for $3000 damages, alleging personal injuries.

The executive committee of the Royal Hotel Co. has elected A. M. Meints temporary manager of the Royal Hotel to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles O. Clark.

The incorporation papers of the Taylor-Clark-Overbeck Stove Co. has been filed in Belleville, showing a capital stock of $30,000. The following are the incorporators: Carl T. company will erect a plant in East St. Louis. Taylor, G. L. Clark and Fred Overbeck. The Upper Alton Officials Plan for a Struggle.

ADVISED TO FIGHT.

Attorney-General Stead of Illinois has refused to assist the City Clerk and three Aldermen of Upper Alton who have not been allowed to assume the duties of the offices to which they were elected because they failed to qualify within the time limit required by the law. He told them to procure attorneys and proceed according to law. A stormy session is anticipated as a result Saturday night, when a special meeting of the Village Board, called by Mayor Campbell, will be held to install the newly elected officials.

Councilmen-Elect Tomlinson, Coulter and Ahe and City Clerk Greding took the oath of office Wednesday before a Justice of the Peace. The new officials, maintaining that City Clerk Powell failed to notify them to qualify contend they are entitled to their seats. The old members say they are acting on the advice of their attorneys and will not relinquish their seats until their successors are again elected at a special election and, if elected the second time, properly qualify.

CAPTOR A CAPTIVE.

Saloon Keeper Who Arrested Man Is Himself a Prisoner.

The capture of Ted Terrell in the saloon of C. A. Wildi, two miles east of Upper Alton, by the bartender, who marched him two miles at a pistol's point to the house of the village jailer Friday night, has resulted in the arrest of Wildi on charges of maintaining a dramshop without a county license and selling liquors to minors.

The warrant was sworn out by Rev. C. C. Hall of the First Methodist Church of Upper Alton. Wildi was arrested Wednesday by Constable Bailey. He appeared before Justice Elder and gave bond. In prosecuting the case Rev. Hall will act for the W. C. T. U., the members of which have been collecting evidence against the saloon keeper since the capture of Terrell. Members of the W. C. T. U. say that Wildi sold liquor to students from nearby colleges.

DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS

LOCAL SECURITIES ON THE UPTURN

Railways Common Is Active at a Very Sharp Advance.

COMMERCE IS WANTED

The Stock Gains Full Two Points on Sales at $327.

A strong demand prevailed for local securities on the Stock Exchange today and the trend of prices was upward from the start of the trading. United Railways common was in particularly good request and gained over a point on sales at $57.25 and $57.75. The preferred issue was steady at $83.87½ and $84, with an odd lot going at $84.25. The bonds were in improved demand and higher at sales at $87.62½.

National Bank of Commerce was a strong feature in the bank and trust list, rising $2 per share to $327 and closing the trading around the high figure. Missouri-Lincoln Trust was also ½ point higher at $133 to $133.50. Other issues quoted in this class were on the upturn.

The miscellaneous and bond lists were quiet, but the range of prices established was firm throughout.

Three Hurt at Edwardsville.

Miss Aimie Jeffress, a well-known society girl of Edwardsville, was thrown from her horse while riding near town and suffered severe injuries. Her right arm was badly wrenched. Mrs. George Anderson and daughter, Laura, of Marine were thrown from their carriage when their horse became frightened at a Vandalia street car as they were entering Edwardsville. The buggy was overturned. Mrs. Anderson's face was lacerated, and her daughter's back was injured.

TENDENCY OF MARKET IS SLOWLY UPWARD

NEW YORK, May 10.—The price range on securities was irregular at the opening of the Exchange today, small changes being shown on both the advancing and declining side. The specialty list reflected good buying and the copper stocks were firm.

There has been little if any change in the market's position over night and general conditions remain favorable. Money market conditions both locally and abroad show no adverse feature, and the Bank of England's rate of discount is unchanged at 4 per cent.

The Early Market.

The labor situation has ceased to be a market factor, as the lake strike is settled and men return to work today. The anthracite miners also return to work. The banks thus far this week have gained about $1,500,000 from the Subtreasury and the expectations are that we shall have a good bank statement. There was a further advance in demand sterling yesterday, but the gold import movement has not been terminated. Call money continues easy and all the indications point to continued ease in the monetary situation. The betterment in bonds is not pronounced yet, but there is some hope that a good investment demand will develop. The market has been very strong for several days and the natural result is that there is an expectation of a reaction. Such expectations are not always realized, however, and the general public does not understand that all the bad features in the situation were being absolutely adjusted when the recent decline was at its height and things looked the blackest. Commission houses are still fighting shy of the market and advising conservatism, but the traders and big interests have been constantly accumulating stocks. Prices turned upward again in the second hour when good buying appeared in Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and other favorites. A bullish interview by E. H. Harriman on the market and financial situation on his return from San Francisco, being a stimulating influence. The Government crop report on winter wheat showing a condition on May 1 of 91.9, against 89.1 on April 1, was also a bullish influence and caused some buying for both accounts in the granger shares. The metal stocks received some attention and good reports from the steel and iron industry are coming to hand. Arbitrage houses were acting on both sides of the market, but were buyers on the balance. Some selling from these sources was reflected in the United States Steel issues. Money loaned in the early market at 3¾ per cent.

The Closing.

There was little change in the character of the speculation in the closing hour. Trading lagged at times, but it was noticeable what small amounts of long stock were encountered on the high points and traders refused to abandon the bull side on this account. The buying in Great Northern and Northern Pacific continued and the former made an advance of nearly 10 points. The latter also made a conspicuous gain. Nearing the closing the entire list turned upward again under the advance in Copper. Some realizing was encountered, but the stock offering was well absorbed and the closing was irregular but at a higher level.

BARBERS RAISE PRICES.

Alton Men Must Pay 50 Cents for Razor Sharpening.

Men in Alton who shave themselves must pay 50 cents now to have their razors sharpened. The barbers have raised the tariff on razor sharpening, in addition to increasing the price of a shave to 15 cents. The barbers say that so many bad razors were brought to them that they could not maintain the old price of 25 cents.

TENDENCY OF WHEAT UPWARD

OTHER GRAINS FIRM

Buying in Wheat Makes Corn Bear Cautious—Oats Very Quiet.

Wheat showed an upward tendency today and market sentiment among the professionals is leaning towards the bull side.

The Government report, showing a condition of winter wheat on May 1 of 91, against 89.1 on April 1, which compares with 92.5 in May, 1905, 76.5 in May, 1904, and a 10-year average of 85, was considered bearish, but was ignored by the trade. The acreage at present shows a decrease and this partially offset the higher percentage.

The area of winter wheat under cultivation on March 1 was 29,623,000 acres. This is 6 per cent, or about 1,718,000 acres less than the area sown last fall, and 1 per cent, or about 241,000 acres less than the area harvested last year.

The condition in Missouri on May 1 was 89, against 83 in April, 93 in May, 1905; 84 in 1904 and a 10-year average of 83.

Other factors in the situation were construed as bullish. The cash markets were stronger and millers reported a good demand for good milling wheat. Additional crop damage reports are coming to hand and Michigan advices stated that the crop would probably fall a half below last year's.

Local receipts continue liberal and the shipments moderate. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 105 cars, against 205 last week, 116 last year and 56 two years ago. Winnipeg reported 123 cars, against 127 last year, and Minneapolis stocks decreased 700,000 bu for five days.

Foreign markets were a steadying influence and Liverpool closed ¼d up on wheat and unchanged on corn. Other foreign centers showed an irregular range.

The Price Current says: "The prevailing low temperatures unfavorable for corn crop, but if not prolonged will likely not seriously disturb the position. Winter wheat is maintaining excellent promise. Spring wheat indicates favorable start and enlarged area. Oats mostly doing well."

The Northwestern Miller says: "The Minneapolis flour output last week increased 74,000 barrels and exceeded that of other years by a liberal margin. The quantity turned out week of April 18 was 266,795 barrels, against 169,410 barrels in 1905, and 103,530 in 1904. This week still larger capacity is in motion and the present outlook is for an output of 300,000 barrels. For the corresponding week in 1905 it was 161,840 barrels."

The corn market was steady in sympathy with the upward trend in wheat. Weather reports are not favorable on the grain, but a quick return to warm temperatures will remove this factor. Domestic and export demands continue liberal. Oats were steady in sympathy.

RUNNING SORES COVERED LIMBS

Little Girl's Obstinate Case of Eczema — Instantaneous Relief By Cuticura—Little Boy's Hands and Arms Also Were a Mass of Torturing Sores — Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES A HOUSEHOLD STANDBY"

"In reply to your letter I write you my experience, and you are privileged to use it as you see fit. Last year, after having my little girl treated by a very prominent physician for an obstinate case of eczema, I resorted to the Cuticura Remedies, and was so well pleased with the almost instantaneous relief afforded that we discarded the physician's prescription and relied entirely on the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. When we commenced with the Cuticura Remedies her feet and limbs were covered with running sores. In about six weeks we had her completely well, and there has been no recurrence of the trouble.

"In July of this year a little boy in our family poisoned his hands and arms with poison oak, and in twenty-four hours his hands and arms were a mass of torturing sores. We used only the Cuticura Remedies, washing his hands and arms with the Cuticura Soap, and anointed them with the Cuticura Ointment, and then gave him the Cuticura Resolvent. In about three weeks his hands and arms healed up; so we have lots of cause for feeling grateful for the Cuticura Remedies. We find that the Cuticura Remedies are a valuable household standby, living as we do twelve miles from a doctor, and where it costs from twenty to twenty-five dollars to come up on the mountain. Respectfully, Mrs. Lizzie Vincent Thomas, Fairmount, Walden's Ridge, Tenn., Oct. 13, 1905."

DENY THERE IS A DRUG TRUST

President Declares Proprietary Association "Had a Good Laugh" Over Suit.

OUTLINES THE DEFENSE

Asserts Individual Manufacturers Exercise Judgment in Choosing Patrons.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Proprietary Association of America, one of the defendants in the petition filed by Attorney-General Moody for an injunction to restrain certain associations, corporations and individuals from controlling prices in the drug trade, is holding its annual meeting in this city.

During yesterday's session the announcement from Washington of the Attorney-General's action was read to the members. Everybody in the association said President Cheney afterwards took the petition as a joke.

"How can they enjoin us from doing what we are not doing?" he asked.

"The whole thing is absurd. There is no such thing as a drug trust. The phrase is a misnomer—coined from ignorance of the real functions of the Proprietary Association. We had nearly adjourned this afternoon when somebody came into the room and showed me this article about this petition for an injunction. I had it read aloud to the meeting and we all had a good laugh over it.

On Fixing Prices.

"There never has been any sort of conspiracy to keep prices either up or down. I give you my word that never, even in our most secret meetings, has there ever been any proposal to enter into any such combination. It would be impossible, anyway. There is no uniformity of products in the first place and those who sell many varieties of articles could not establish uniform prices.

"The allegation that no retail druggist can obtain goods from a wholesale druggist or from manufacturer of proprietary medicines unless he joins the National Association of Retail Druggists is simply untrue. Every single manufacturer exercises his own judgment in the retail druggists he deals with."

The Proprietary Association of America has an active membership of 237. The attendance at the present convention is unusually large, the principal interests represented being the Wholesale National Druggists Association, the Retail Druggists' Association, and the Proprietary Association of Canada.

Pension for Invention.

Jacquard, the inventor of the famous loom, might have become a billionaire. This unselfish Frenchman, though, gave his invention to the Government and all he got in return—all he asked in return—was a pension of $1000 a year.

DAVID NICHOLSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

MISSOURI OFFICER FOR THE ST. LOUIS

SPEED TRIAL SATURDAY

Has Surpassed Requirements and May Prove Navy's Fastest Vessel.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Commander Nathaniel R. Usher, U. S. N., a former Missourian, will command the new armored cruiser St. Louis, which will make her official trial trip next Saturday. Commander Usher has been ordered to go to Boston to board the cruiser before the test is made, and when she is placed in commission he will take formal command.

It is not known just when the St. Louis will be turned over to the Government by the builders, the Neafie & Levy Co. of Philadelphia, but it is believed she will be ready for final service within two months. On her trial trip Saturday, in order to meet Uncle Sam's requirements, she must maintain a speed of 22 knots an hour for four consecutive hours. The ship has exceeded this record on her builders' trials, and navy officials would not be surprised should she prove to be the fastest vessel in the navy.

Commander's Career.

Commander Usher, who was appointed to the Naval Academy from Missouri, has seen 14 years and 9 months of shore duty and four years' sea duty. He was on the historical expedition of the Bear to find Greely in the Far North, serving then with Admiral Schley, Capt. Lenler and other famous naval officers.

He was born in Indiana and entered the Naval Academy Sept. 21, 1871. BOWMAN DENIES HE IS FUGITIVE

American Reserve Bond President Seeks to Know if He Is Indicted.

A. Smith Bowman, president of the American Reserve Bond Co., which is in the hands of various receivers appointed by Federal courts, has returned to Chicago after staying a day in St. Louis in an effort to learn the truth of a rumor that warrants had been issued against him and eight of his associates.

Mr. Bowman said that he would make another effort in Chicago to see if he had been indicted and would submit to service if he had been.

United States District Attorney Dyer admitted that he knew Bowman had been in the city, but refused to say whether there had been an indictment against him.

Postoffice Inspectors Sullivan and Stice of St. Louis are said to be in Chicago with nine indictments against officers of the company, but names have not been made public because of the failure of the officers to find the members of the concern.

Mr. Bowman Wednesday denied that any of the officers had fled to Canada. "As soon as I had been apprised of a rumor," he said, "I telegraphed Col. Dyer that I would come to St. Louis from the home office of the company in Lexington without process, if wanted. I then went to Chicago to the office of the receiver there, but he was not in. I was called back to Lexington on litigation of the company in the courts there before I had a chance to call on him again.

"The rumor I heard was that I had been indicted by the Federal grand juries in St. Louis and Chicago, and that I was a fugitive from justice. I have been in the jurisdiction of both courts. Their officers knew of my presence, but I have been unable to learn of such indictment. I will immediately call upon the receiver on my arrival in Chicago."

JOHNSON WINS HIS CASE.

A verdict in favor of Capt. James Johnson of the Fourth Police District was returned late Wednesday afternoon in Judge Ryan's court in the case in which Giovanni Cottone sued for $10,000 for alleged false arrest. Cottone was an officer of the banking agency conducted by Luigi Matsa at 908 North Seventh street.

When there was trouble at the agency in September and excited depositors surrounded it, demanding the money they had intrusted to the agency to be sent to Italy, Cottone was arrested and was held 30 hours. He was discharged in the Court of Criminal Correction. Capt. Johnson's defense was that Cottone was arrested in the first place for his own protection and that he was held afterward because his answers to questions at the station were inconsistent and aroused suspicion.

Player Prefers Golf.

An amateur golfer, who rather fancied himself as an authority on the game, wrote a book about it and sent a copy to a well-known player. The latter replied: "Dear sir, I have read your book with much interest. The game you describe seems to be a good one, but on the whole I prefer golf."
